Education Week To Be Observed In All Schools Here

ELECTION OUTCOME HAS POLS IN QUANDARY

Programs Ready For All Schools -- Public Invited

Education week, which will start Sunday throughout the country, will be observed in the public schools here with programs scheduled for all schools in the city. The schools will present programs designed to interest parents and the general citizenry.

Name Breed To High Post By Baptists

William M. Breed, 29 Glenwood avenue, Newton Centre, was elected president of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention, October 25, at the 147th annual conference of the group.

Mr. Breed, an investment broker, thus becomes lay head of some 330 churches in the Bay State. Mrs. Ralph F. Palmer of Mansfield and Mrs. Walter A. Aschenbach of Springfield are vice-presidents.

The Rev. Dr. Reuben E. Nelson of New York, general secretary of the American Baptist Convention declared, to more than 500 delegates, that men can be "born again," that this rebirth is "a matter of free choice not involving surrender to a man-devised ideology. It is a personal surrender to a living and growing relationship with Christ."

Hold Annual Meeting

Stewart G. Orr Elected President of Newton Taxpayers' Association

Stewart G. Orr of 25 Rowe street, Auburndale, was elected president of the Newton Taxpayers' Association Monday night at the Association's annual meeting in the Newton Y.M.C.A. He is a trust officer of the State Street Company in Boston. Mr. Orr has been active in Newton Red Feather campaigns, the Boy Scouts, and is a member of the Executive Board of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Newtonville.

Four new directors were elected and retiring president John L. Grandin, Jr. assumed a post as vice-president. Joseph Mason Williams of Newton Centre was elected Treasurer and Felix W. Knauth of Chestnut Hill was named clerk. The four new directors are G. Kendrick Brinkhurst and Walter F. Kelly of Waban, and Loren F. Muther, Jr. and Dr. Charles A. Thompson, Jr. of Newton Highlands. The annual meeting voted in Harold B. Gores, superintendent of schools, in commending on Education Week stated:

"The minds and hearts of all Americans meet on at least one common ground—concern for the welfare of children. This is as it should be, for the children are the seed. Whatever may be national destiny, it will come to pass only as our hopes and aspirations are some day fulfilled through the children."

"Not the least among the forces that mold the future is

No Definite Clues Of Bank Bandits

Up to late Wednesday night no tangible clues had been obtained which would lead to the apprehension of the gang which Monday morning robbed the Newtonville branch of the Newton National Bank, escaping with $56,600 in a cleverly planned holdup.

Wearing masks similar to those worn by the band which robbed Brink's Express Company of $1,200,000 recently, the thieves entered the branch bank in Newton ville shortly after it opened Monday morning at eight o'clock and armed with a machine gun, took the entire night deposit receipts which officials had just taken from the night depository. In less than three minutes the bandits were gone and escaped with the loot.

Chief of Police Purcell Wednesday, enlisted the aid of nearly a score of High School students who were in the vicinity of the holdup Monday morning. The students were asked to make written reports of what they saw when they passed the scene on their way to school. These reports are to be studied by investigators, including FBI agents and State Police detectives, in addition to Newton Police inspectors.

Apparently the bandits were familiar with the daily operations of the bank and officials feel certain that the bank had been carefully "surveyed" for many days before the actual robbery occurred in order to have every detail of their planned robbery work out to perfection. A minute check is being made of all who made daily visits in the opening hours of the bank as well as some patrons in the hope that some light may be shed on the identity of the bandits.

Local and State police are confident that eventually the bandits who committed this armed robbery, will be apprehended.

Issues on Ballot, Rather Than Candidates, May Bring Out A Large Vote

The present apathy which appears to exist among voters may spring to life in the remaining days of the political campaign and a large vote turn out next Tuesday at the election but as of the moment, it has the politicians in a quandary wondering what it is all about.

This same apathy which exists is not apathy at all but a silent determination on the part of the electorate to go to the polls in large numbers and register with a vengeance their indifference to an election of such importance.

Yet it is possible that the apathy which may appear to

Early Brick Oven Uncovered

A fine example of an old domed brick oven dating back to the early part of the last century has recently been uncovered at the Jackson Homestead, 527 Washington street, Newton, according to an announcement from Mr. Fred C. Alexander, Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Presented to the City by Mrs. Harry S. Middendorf, this historic old house of the Federal period is gradually being restored to the beauties of its former days. Partitions have been removed revealing the large well-proportioned rooms which were the scene of much gay and gracious living back in the early eighteen-hundreds, and in which lived men and women whose courage and vision had great influence upon the economic, social, and educational movement of the times.

As the plaster and the added brickwork underneath it were removed from the large "jog" in the kitchen, there were revealed two brick backings for old-time stoves, one behind the other. After these were taken out the old fireplace was opened up, complete except for the crane. On one side is the large brick bake oven, with its iron door intact, and all in as good condition as when it was walled up ninety years ago.

A similar fireplace has been uncovered in the corresponding back room on the west side of the house. Altogether the Homestead has eight fireplaces.

The old well is still to be seen under the cellar floor, in which tradition says, escaped slaves were hidden; for the Jackson Homestead was one of the "stations" of the "underground railway" to Canada in ante-bellum days.

The first step in the restoration has been to put the house in sound basic condition, so that it will be tight and durable. Gradually the rooms will begin to live again as they receive furnishings appropriate to the period of the house.

It is hoped by the Board of Trustees that the Jackson Homestead will become a historical

First Report Shows $174,480 Raised in Newton in Red Feather Campaign

At the first Report Luncheon of the Red Feather Campaign for Metropolitan Boston, held at the Mason Memorial Building Monday, Newton reported $174,480, or 56.3% of its goal. This is nearly $20,000 more than was reported at the same luncheon a year ago.

The largest single sum reported was $71,868 by the Advance Gifts Division. The Manufacturing Division reported $11,821, and the Mercantile and Municipal Divisions reported a total of $22,468.

Municipal Schools, Wesley S. Merritt, Chairman, and Municipal General, C. Evan Johnson, Chairman, each have reached 85% of their respective goals; Mercantile Women's—Mrs. John M. Powell, Chairman—has raised 78%; Mercantile Men's—Dwight Colburn, Chairman—67%; Advance Gifts—Wilbur W. Bullen, Chairman—

52%; and Manufacturing—John

Will Your Life Insurance be TAXED?

Life insurance paid to your wife under so-called "optional modes" of settlement may be taxed at your death, or it may be tax free, depending on the terms of your policies.

Review your policies with your lawyer and insurance underwriter. You may be able to save thousands of dollars in taxes for your family.

At the same time, review the plans you have made for the distribution of all your other property. Your life insurance is merely one part of an overall estate plan.

If we can be of assistance to you, your life underwriter, and your attorney in the practical and financial aspects of such a review, call on us.

Students Observe Fifth Birthday Of United Nations

Pupils at Newton High School observed the fifth birthday of the United Nations by listening to the United Nations and Freedom Bell broadcast during their home room period Tuesday. Each home room teacher read a brief explanation of the significance of the day before the beginning of the broadcast.

A new United Nations flag, made by three Betsy Rosses of the Twentieth Century, Catherine Proia, Janet Sorenson, and Alice Wildman of the Advanced Clothing class, is displayed in the high school lobby. This flag was presented to Mr. Raymond A. Green, principal, for the high school. Miss Helen Turner is the girls' teacher and adviser in making the flag.

Claflin Students Visit Museum

Making the trip were: Clifford Geyer, Susan Sewall, Betty Briggs, Richard Katz, David Wilbert, Robert Hill, Richard Reynolds, Barry Bograd, David

Sen. Saltonstall Addresses Junior College Students

Inaugurating the second annual series of Newton Junior College convocations, Senator Leverett Saltonstall addressed the student body on "The Washington Scene" Thursday, October 26.

Senator Saltonstall was introduced by Raymond A. Green, principal of Newton Junior College. After the address, Senator Saltonstall discussed questions raised by students in the junior college.

The general convocations, first scheduled as an integral part of the annual junior college program last year, were introduced originally in response to student requests for discussion and information about contemporary issues. General convocations on social, personal, economic, and political problems are being scheduled to follow Senator Saltonstall's discussion.

To Show High School Activities

Demonstrations of Newton High School activities will be given behind a show window in Newtonville Square as part of the High School's observation of National Education Week, November 6-10.

The program of demonstrations includes Block Printing on Monday, Ceramics on Tuesday, Science on Wednesday, Sewing on Thursday, and color slides of High School dramatic productions on Friday. All the demonstrations excepting the Friday demonstration will be from three to four o'clock. The Friday demonstration will be from four to five.

Participating pupils include Judy Porter, Alan Esty, Sally Haven, Ann Barber, Joan Tocci, and Jay Smith.

Friday from seven to nine thirty in the evening the High School will hold Open House for parents.

Elizabeth Ann Hingston Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Hingston of 73 Robinhood street, Auburndale, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Anne, to Edward G. Shanahan, Jr., of 17 Ingalls street, Lynn.

Miss Hingston is employed by Deerfoot Farms in Newton Upper Falls. Mr. Shanahan is attending Northeastern University School of Engineering. A February wedding is planned.

Taegu High School Principal Tells About Korea

Mr. Taisak Sin, Principal of Keisung High School, Taegu, Korea, visited Newton High School last Friday. Mr. Sin is traveling in the United States under the United States Cultural Exchange Program. He expects to be in this country about seven months visiting schools and colleges.

Newton High School is one of the few public high schools on the list given Mr. Sin by the United States Office of Education. Mr. Sin's High School, comprising about 1200 boys in the seventh through the twelfth grades, was founded to educate ministers' children. Since it is a private school, he is interested in visiting mostly private schools in this country.

Mr. Sin, in comparing his school with Newton High School, pointed out that his school plant was one-fifth the size of Newton High, for one-half the number of pupils. He said that many of their classes contained seventy pupils.

He expressed his personal belief that the majority of the Chinese people were actually in different to Communism. He pointed out that to a Korean there is no South or North Korea, and that the 38th parallel had been an entirely arbitrary division.

The John Ward School P.T.A.

The first open meeting of the John Ward School P.T.A. will be held Monday. The program for this meeting has been arranged by the Program Chairman, Mrs. Mark Karofsky and Mrs. Leo Caroline, Chairman of Workshop. The film "A Preface to a Life" will be presented with Dr. Samuel H. Epstein, noted psychiatrist, as moderator. This film deals with the day to day activities and problems of every child.

In celebration of Education Week, Miss Mildred March, Principal has arranged for the 6th grade pupils to present original playlets. Miss Wilson's pupils will present "I Am An American" and Mrs. Davis' class will present "The Apple In Story and Song."

Mrs. Samuel H. Epstein, President of the P.T.A. will preside. The other officers are Mrs. Meyer Armet and Dr. Maurice C. Evans, Vice Presidents; Dr. Sidney Gelis, Treasurer; Mrs. Edward Masters, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Alfred Jaffee, Corresponding Secretary.

A coffee hour will follow, in charge of Mrs. Morris Snyder and Mrs. Isidor Slotnik.

Peirce School, P.T.A.

The first meeting of the Peirce School Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the school auditorium next Wednesday. There will be Open House from 7:45 to 8:15, a business meeting from 8:15 to 8:45, a speaker, Miss Virginia Drew will begin her talk at 8:45, followed by a social hour in the library. The kindergarten and sixth grade mothers will act as hostesses under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ernest Seyfarth and Mrs. Donald Bowen. The Peirce School Trade Shop will be open for business from 7:45 to 8:15.

Preceding the meeting, Mrs. James MacLachlan will open her home for a buffet supper for all the teachers, officers of the P. T. A., and members of the Board. Husbands and wives of the various officers are invited as are Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Harold B. Gores.

Home Room mothers have been given a series of teas for the teachers. Mrs. Lewis Huxthal, assisted by Mrs. Herbert Smith, entertained the 2nd Grade mothers in honor of Mrs. Antoinette Work. Pours were Mrs. Donald Bowen and Mrs. Arthur T. McManmon.

Mrs. Hamilton Gifford and Mrs. Donald Bowen welcomed the kindergarten mothers in the school library when they honored Miss Marjorie Berry at a tea. Mrs. Frank Maher gave a tea at her home for Mrs. Elizabeth Johnrow, the first grade teacher. Mrs. Henry Wolk was the assistant hostess.

Mrs. Frank Allan, assisted by Mrs. Gertrude B. Hume, entertained the 5th Grade mothers with Miss Elizabeth Roper and Mr. Millard Harmon as the honor guests.

This Monday Mrs. Francis McDonough will have a tea for the 3rd Grade mothers, in honor of Miss Florence Quinn.

Miss Diane Carper of 20 Gammons road, Waban, who was graduated from Newton High School and Bradford Junior College and attended Northwestern University and completed her work at the Katharine Gibbs School in Boston, has secured a position through the placement department of the school with Simmons College.

School Department Financing Stearns Training Class

The Training Class at the Stearns School, Newton, which was started in February, 1949, by the State Department of Mental Health, is now being financed entirely by the Newton School Department.

The class gives special training to children who ordinarily would be denied public school admittance because of their low mental age. There are 13 children in the class, ranging from 6 to 14 years. The younger mental group meets daily from 9 to 11 a. m., and the more advanced group from 1 to 3 p. m.

Mrs. Marjorie E. Jones, instructor, teaches the children how to work and play with others. Some of the pupils can master a few skills, such as handling of school equipment, coloring and cutting, and about one-half are able to do handiwork, such as simple weaving.

Mrs. Jones, who received her B.S. degree in Education at Boston University, said that progress, although slow, is evident.

Three Newton Girls Elected

Three Newton girls were recently elected officers of business girls' clubs at the Boston Y.W.C.A.

Miss Agnes Fitzgerald, 101 Highland avenue, Newtonville, was chosen as Recording Secretary of the Live Y'er Club; Miss Dorothy Bishop, 105 Country Club, Newton Centre, is the new Treasurer of the Live Y'ers; and Miss Phyllis Tempesta, 61 Green street, Newton, was elected Hospitality Chairman of the Vagabond Club.

Play Host to Middleboro Students

Newton High School played host to fifty ninth-grade pupils from Middleboro, Massachusetts, Tuesday, October 31.

The pupils made their visit in connection with Middleboro's plans to vote on a new high school building in the next few weeks. The pupils are visiting several good high schools so that they can tell their parents the features they would like to see in their new high school, if it is voted.

They paid particular attention to the gymnasium, the auditorium, the lunchroom, the shops, and the different types of classrooms. They were given opportunity to visit these rooms when they were vacant and when they were being used, and concluded their visit with luncheon in the cafeteria.

Parker School, Parent-Teachers

The Parker School P.T.A. will hold its first regular meeting of the year Monday, Nov. 6, at 8:00 p.m. at the Parker School.

Before the meeting there will be a room visit to inspect the pupils' work and their progress up to date. Mr. James Macdaid will conclude the meeting with an instructive demonstration of crepe paper work. Following the demonstration, refreshments will be served.

The officers for the coming year are: president, Mr. Henry Barrows; vice-president, Mr. David Stadel; treasurer, Mr. George Gould; correlating secretary, Mrs. Helen Flint; and recording secretary, Mrs. Mary Skolnick. The Executive Board includes Mary McCormack and George Munhall, program committee; Mr. Thomas Blake, membership committee, and Mrs. Ruth Pass, publicity chairlady.

Norma Farber Is Guest Soloist at H.S. Music Club

Norma Farber, distinguished American soprano, was guest soloist at the first meeting of the Newton High School Music Club last Thursday. She was accompanied by Robert Ewing at the piano.

Mrs. Farber's program was entitled "Goethe, Composer's Poet" and in it, she traced musical setting for the poet's works from his day to the present. In her commentary she included brief translations of the texts.

Her songs included music by Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, H. Werner, and two contemporary American composers, Theodore Chandler and Lukas Foss.

Prior to the recital the club elected officers for the current year. Those elected were: Samuel Turner, president; David Starkweather, vice-president; Bruce MacDonald, secretary; and Nancy Hood, treasurer.

The club is the largest in Newton High School with a membership of over four hundred students.

Mr. Henry Lasker, the club's adviser, announced that the next meeting on November 30, would be a student concert featuring the Newton High School Symphony Orchestra.

Student Tickets Available for Lecture Nov. 16

Students' tickets will be available at half-price to any high school or college students in Newton or any of the surrounding communities, including Cambridge, who wish to attend the lecture by Ruth Bryan Rohde sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Newton at Weeks Junior High School Thursday, November 16 at 8:15 p.m., Mrs. John Carver Beale, lecture chairman, announced this week.

"Behind The Scenes in the United Nations" will be Mrs. Rohde's lecture topic. Former Minister to Denmark, and at present, Alternate Representative of the United States to the General Assembly of the United Nations, Mrs. Rohde is expected to discuss how our foreign policy is formulated and expressed through the work of the United Nations.

Mr. James H. Powers, Foreign Editor of the Boston Globe, will serve as moderator for the question period. Widely known throughout New England as a foreign affairs analyst, Mr. Powers has frequently covered the United Nations meetings at Lake Success. He was recently made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor by the French Government for his editorial work in behalf of the De Gaulist government during World War II.

Hospital Director Outlines Defense Plans to Board

At a meeting of the Trustees of Newton-Wellesley Hospital, held at the hospital on Tuesday, October 31, Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, Director of the hospital, briefly outlined the hospital's preliminary thinking as regards civil defense.

Stating that World War II thinking was no longer adequate when we might be faced with the one bomb, one city, one minute sort of attack, Dr. Hamilton emphasized the need for preparedness on an entirely new scale.

"We all hope that plans for defense will never be needed," Dr. Hamilton said. "But if they are needed, the degree of our preparedness may be measured in hundreds and thousands of lives saved or lost."

Although we in Newton and Wellesley do not run the danger of being in a prime target area we still have the extremely grave responsibility of becoming our brother's keeper. Should Boston be bombed, your Newton-Wellesley Hospital would probably be the first suburban hospital of any size left to care for casualties. What we are prepared to do will be of inestimable importance.

"Think of what 28 victims of a disaster did to the routine of our hospital operations in March of 1948. Imagine twenty-eight hundred or twenty-eight thousand casualties. Consider that our doctors who were in town at the time of the bombing would be out of the picture. Are we prepared? Of course not, but we are beginning."

"We have a radio sending and receiving set, owned and operated by a group of volunteers under Mr. Alan Burke, Chief of Communications for Newton Civil Defense. We have auxiliary electric power available, but no auxiliary water or gas. We have a disaster plan on paper, which has recently been revised. We have begun to organize our professional staff and have given some thought to expansion into nearby buildings."

"As our plans develop we may call upon each of you to help in some way. Not only nurses aides and the like are needed but laboratory workers, trained in certain procedures, personnel to help bring in blankets, food and supplies, and to perform a host of

Mayor Urges 'No' Vote on Question 5

The citizens of Newton stand to lose a very substantial sum of money every year unless they go to the polls next Tuesday and vote No on Question No. 5—the flat rate scheme—Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood warned in a statement issued here today.

"There have been reports that some people here in Newton do not recognize the importance to them and to the community of defeating Question No. 5. This question, unless defeated, means that every car owner in Newton will pay around $5.00 a year more just for compulsory $5,000/$10,000 bodily injury liability insurance," he said. "And remember, the flat rate does not cover an additional protection, such as excess limits, property damage, and so on."

"Based on estimated private passenger car registration in Newton of practically 20,000, that means an annual drain on this city of about $100,000—or $1,000,000 in the next ten years, because if this flat rate does go through, it will be permanent," the Mayor declared. "Furthermore, that's a minimum in my opinion. The chances are that the flat rate will increase from year to year and that the loss to Newton citizens will be just that much greater over a period of time."

"A point that should be emphasized is that this amount of money will be drained out of the city—money that would otherwise largely be spent here in Newton—just to help pay the cost of accidents caused by the drivers of cities like Boston, Chelsea and Revere."

"For that reason, I strongly urge that all voters of Newton go to the polls next Tuesday, and vote NO on Question No. 5. Defeat of the flat rate is in the best interest of all the citizens of Newton."

Chrysanthemums From Korea to Be Displayed at Show

Korean chrysanthemums, hardy but beautiful flowers, will be one of the features at the 121st annual Autumn Flower Show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society at Horticultural Hall this week, November 2 through 5. The show hours are as follows: Thursday, 2 to 10; Friday, 10 to 10; Saturday, 10 to 10 and Sunday, 1 to 10.

The climate in the Korean mountains is so severe that the chrysanthemum species which originated there are very tough and sturdy. Brought to America, our plant breeders have mingled it with our less hardy varieties with the result that a whole new group of garden mums has been created. Plants of the original Korean species will be displayed at the show side by side with the garden varieties developed from it.

Ayer Hits State Lottery; Asks Where Opponent Stands

Atty. Frederick Ayer, Jr., Republican candidate for Attorney General, warned that Referendum 4, State Lottery, would turn Massachusetts into "a cesspool of gambling operated by corrupt politicians and racketeers."

Ayer, former chief of FBI units with the U. S. Army in Europe during World War II, said that the decent citizens of Massachusetts are outraged over the prospect of peddling lottery tickets on the street. He pointed out that under Federal laws lottery tickets could not be sent through the mails.

"This would make a bookie out of every citizen engaged in the sale of State Lottery Tickets," Ayer said.

In a recent speech Ayer said that the Most Rev. Bishop John J. Wright; the State Federation of Labor; A. F. L.; The Massachusetts Taxpayers Association; The Mass. Civic League; The League of Women Voters in Mass.; The Grange; The Mass. Council of Churches; and hundreds of other organizations are protesting the State Lottery proposal sponsored by the present Attorney General Francis E. Kelly.

"The present State Lottery proposal as set forth in Referendum 4 would create a political racket which no administration, whatever its integrity or political party, could control without great difficulty. I urge every citizen to vote against State Lottery on November 7," Ayer asserted.

Ayer pointed out that his opponent Mr. Kelly has maintained an indifferent and silent attitude concerning his position on the question of where he stands on a State Lottery.

"Kelly," Ayer said, "has been the sponsor of lottery legislation for more than 10 years. He has been using it as an instrument to win the sympathy of the aged, the blind and other defenseless persons whom we are supposed to protect and defend."

Massachusetts may become like Mexico where ragged little children are driven onto the streets to peddle lottery tickets. They will have to be peddled by hand because they cannot be sent through the mails, Ayer pointed out.

Meanwhile, corrupt politicians and racketeers are trying to turn Massachusetts into a Monte Carlo by promoting a State Lottery presumably designed to aid the poor and the aged. Kelly has not replied to Ayer's question. Mr. Kelly has avoided a reply because, according to legislative records, he is the sponsor of the present Referendum 4.

Be An American

If you're an American, then be an American. Go to the polls Tuesday and exercise your privileged voting franchise.

Needless to say, our expensive and sprawling state, national and county governments desperately need all the able and conscientious men and women we can elect. It desperately needs, now more than ever, careful analysis of the ability and qualifications of candidates.

These officials make our laws. We as individual voters, make the officials. If inferior men are elected to public office, inferior laws will be enacted.

This State, this Nation needs men of vision, of integrity and of unselfishness to be officials. Unfortunately not all officials are of the calibre we ourselves would hire or select to work for us in a private business. Yet because they are elected they have certain authority.

It is imperative therefore, that every voter analyze the candidates and what they stand for in order to secure the best qualified men to serve.

Newton voters should not stay at home Tuesday. They should go to the polls and cast their ballots. It is not only their duty, it is their privilege. Failure to vote Tuesday can mean but one thing—you're more interested in America, you're more interested in yourself.

If you're an American, then be an American, and vote Tuesday.

The Issue in Question No. 5

The proposal for a state-wide flat rate for compulsory automobile insurance that will be Question No. 5 on the ballot Tuesday is relatively simple and easily understood when the facts are available. Newton, as a result, should register a solid "No" vote on this question.

The facts are:

The present Community Merit Rating Plan we have is the same as that used in every state, except that here, if effects every car owner on the highways because he is required by law to carry this insurance.

Compulsory insurance is only the $5,000/$10,000 bodily injury insurance that, in Massachusetts, every car owner is required to have before he can register his car.

The rates for this insurance are set by the State Insurance Commissioner, not the insurance companies, and the present Community Merit Rating Plan was originally adopted by the State Insurance Department, not the companies.

Under the present law, the State Insurance Commissioner could establish a flat rate if he believed it to be "adequate, reasonable, fair and non-discriminatory." That is the only limitation the present law places on his powers to set rates for compulsory insurance.

However, the Community Merit Rating Plan which the Commissioner had adopted is based solely on who causes accidents, not on where they happen. Revere drivers, for instance, pay high rates only because they cause more accidents, not only in Revere but outside Revere as well. No out-of-town driver who causes an accident in Revere can affect the Revere rate in the slightest degree. Pittsfield drivers pay low rates only because they cause fewer accidents, in Pittsfield or outside Pittsfield.

The present rates do not reflect traffic congestion. Three of the five larger cities in Massachusetts pay low rates. Three out of four of all 39 cities in Massachusetts pay low rates.

Qualified insurance experts estimate that if the flat rate were passed, the Commissioner would have to set the rate in 1951 at about $32.00, and probably more.

These facts would seem to make clear one thing, at least—that from the standpoint of their pocketbooks, the voters of 330 communities in the Commonwealth who now have rates below $32.00 should vote no on Question No. 5.

Newton car owners, should this flat rate proposal be passed, would be obliged to pay a higher rate for their insurance than they now do.

Newton voters in marking their ballots Tuesday should vote "No" on Question No. 5.

Close Race for Governor Predicted . . .

Curtis, Asset to Ticket; Should Win . . .

Governor Dever appears to hold an advantage over former Lieutenant Governor Coolidge as the two sweep into the stretch of their race for the right to serve as the next Governor of Massachusetts.

Their contest, however, shapes up as a close, tight fight, and Republican politicians are still hoping for a shift in public sentiment in the closing stages of the campaign that will bring an election-day upset of the forecasts and predictions by the experts.

No Bay State gubernatorial campaign in years has produced as bitter a crossfire of charges between the rival candidates for the Governorship as has been exchanged by Messrs. Dever and Coolidge in their battle for public favor at the polls next Tuesday.

The two men took off the gloves early, cast aside any pretense for the other's feelings and fired smoking salvos that range with such terms as "hidebound reactionary," "faker," "gang" and "steal."

The usually mild mannered Mr. Coolidge has raked the Governor with a series of heated blasts, and Mr. Dever, one of the best orators in the Commonwealth, has pitched his campaign to meet the challenge.

A major part of their fight has been centered around the uncolorful but much discussed MTA. Coolidge has assailed Dever for his failure to prevent a fare increase on the road, and Dever, in turn, has caustically criticized the Republican nominee for fathering the law which had the people buy the old Boston Elevated and set up the MTA in the first place.

Next Tuesday the voters across the State will give their answer to the arguments, the appeals, the oratory, the interchange of charges, and on the basis of all the signs as to how the political trade winds are blowing Mr. Dever is favored to win another term.

There is no prospect, however, of a Democratic sweep of the proportions that occurred two years ago, and the indications are that the Republicans will regain control of the Legislature, on which they have centered about as much attention as on the Governorship.

The turnout of voters will not be nearly as great as in 1948, and the Democratic trend will not be as strong, making it possible for the G.O.P. to recapture some of the legislative posts it lost two autumns ago.

Republican Ticket Not Strong

Mr. Coolidge goes into the election with several handicaps. The ticket he heads is an unusually weak one. At least one of its members, former State Treasurer Fred C. Burrell is facing almost certain defeat, and Republican leaders view former State Auditor Russell A. Wood as no great asset to their slate.

The G.O.P. leaders made an all-out effort in the primary to keep Burrell off their ticket, but the candidate against him was unknown outside his home town of Watertown, and about the only result of the fight against Burrell was virtually to insure the reelection of State Treasurer John E. Hurley.

Former State Treasurer Laurence Curtis, the G.O.P. nominee for Lieutenant Governor and one of the most popular men in the Republican party, has perhaps the best chance of winning of any member of the G.O.P. slate.

Curtis is well respected and a man of real ability. He has been an asset to the ticket and he has stumped around the State with former Lieutenant Governor Coolidge, and he offers one of the bright spots in the Republican picture.

In 1944, when Maurice J. Tobin was elected Governor, thousands of voters crossed party lines to choose Robert F. Bradford as their Lieutenant Governor, and something like that could happen next Tuesday.

Political observers generally consider that Governor Dever will have to win by more than 50,000 votes to carry Lieutenant Governor Charles F. Jeff Sullivan in with him and that if his plurality is under 50,000 Curtis may be elected as the second in command at the State House.

There is usually a fall-off between the Democratic vote for Governor and Lieutenant Governor. In addition, Sullivan has done little to distinguish himself as Governor Dever's under-study. He is not as popular as he was in the vicinity of his home city of Worcester, and he incurred the hostility of many of the Democratic members of the Legislature by defending Plan E at a time when they were striving to put through a bill to repeal it.

Curtis has a vast number of friends throughout the State. He has an excellent background. He has acquitted himself in every public post he has ever held, and he is expected to prove a potent candidate on Tuesday.

Herter's Outstanding Record Hard to Beat

Congressman Christian A. Herter is expected to win reelection to another term over former State Treasurer Francis X. Hurley. Herter's work in Washington and his service to the people of his district have gained the admiration and respect of Democrats and Independents as well as Republicans, and many of them will stand by him when the political chips are down five days from now.

Herter's understanding of international problems has brought him recognition as one of the foremost Congressional authorities in that field. Two years ago he was selected by Colliers magazine as the Congressman who had rendered the greatest service to his country.

He has maintained an office in Boston as well as Washington to serve the people of his district, and he periodically has held what he termed "clinics" where the people he represented could sit down with him personally and discuss any problems of a federal nature.

An impressive number of business and civic leaders, reflecting all shades of political thoughts, as well as spokesmen for veterans, have endorsed Herter's candidacy, declaring that he has been a good Congressman and should be reelected.

Former Treasurer Hurley has waged an aggressive campaign and has directed a barrage of militant attacks at Congressman Herter. But Mr. Hurley is no idol with a large number of Democrats. He was one of the Liberty Leaguers who walked out of the Democratic party back in the days when Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal was at its height, and he was one of the Democrats who lined up against Mr. Roosevelt. A number of Maurice J. Tobin's friends and supporters also never have forgotten or forgiven the tactics he employed in the 1944 Democratic primary when he battled so bitterly against Tobin for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

The Herter-Hurley fight is an unusual one. Herter is one of the most liberal and progressive of the Republican Congressmen. Hurley, who is now so loud in his espousal of Democratic principles, left the party reservation in protest against them not so many years ago.

Union Church of Waban to Hold Country Fair Nov. 10, 11

The Union Church of Waban is having a Country Fair Friday and Saturday, November 10 and 11 from 10:30 a. m. to 9 o'clock at night.

Mrs. James S. Barrie, the General Chairman, has on her Central Committee: the Reverend Joseph C. MacDonald and Mrs. MacDonald, the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Jehle, Mrs. Frederick C. Fisher, Mrs. Edward B. Farmer, Mr. Franklin D. Jerome, Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Tarbell, Miss Martha Norcross, Mr. and Mrs. Ted H. Oakey, Mrs. Chester L. Hackman, Mrs. Thomas B. Shireley, Mrs. Paul E. Crocker, Mrs. Fred T. Hackley, Mrs. Lorimer T. Reed, Mrs. Henry A. Loudon, Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Musgrave, Mrs. Carl F. Danner, Mrs. Lyman P. Cutterson, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Wile, Mrs. A. Brooks Parker, Mrs. John T. Croghan, Mrs. J. Earl Parker, Mrs. John M. Powell, Mrs. Jerome J. Shuman, Mrs. James T. Trefrey, Mrs. Robert J. M. Pyfe, Mrs. Rawson Cowan and Mrs. Horace W. Shepard.

An attractive display of plants, flowers, sprays of bitter-sweet and greens will be for sale at the Garden Shop. Smocks, aprons, linens, tea tiles with pictures of the Union Church, books, old and new, record albums, Christmas cards and wrappings, handmade candles, for all occasions, handpainted trays and wool embroidered knitting bags, ideas for Christmas gifts, Casse-rolle dishes and meat loaf, to take home, may be purchased at the food shops, along with cakes, cookies, rolls, pastries and preserves. A tempting array of sweets will be at the candy table.

The baby and children's shop will offer toys, and wearing apparel from infants age to twelve years old. Grabs will be a special feature with many baseballs, autographed by every member of the Red Sox team.

The white elephant table will have an unusual collection of Bric-a-brac, china and old glass.

Food will be served continuously each day with morning coffee, a sandwich bar, luncheon and on Friday night a "chicken in the ruff" dinner planned by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Stedfast with Mr. Stedfast as "the chef." For this, reservations must be made by November 7th, with Mr. and Mrs. Wendell P. Hiltabrand, DEatur 2-1259. On Saturday night a baked bean supper will be served by the Couples club.

The Men's Club of the church are conducting a typical country store where many articles will be for sale, including crackers and cheese, bird houses, snow plows, and other items too numerous to mention.

The property at 2072 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls, adjoining the Newton Hospital, has been sold by Alvord Bros. This early nineteenth century house has been a Newton landmark and for a great many years has been owned by the Leland family. Mr. Waldo G. Leland conveyed to Norman E. and France Duchring who plan to restore the homestead.

Cites Doelcam Co. For Cooperation

As an example of employee cooperation in the 1951 Red Feather Campaign, Winslow H. Adams, Newton chairman, cites the case of the Doelcam Corporation. This company has 235 employees and adopted the Payroll Deduction Plan for giving. 96% of these employees have subscribed a total of $1,196. This is an average subscription of $5.31, and is more than five times the amount subscribed by the same group last year.

"A study of the Chest records shows no industrial concern of more than 100 employees at any time in the past having ever contributed an average of $5.00 or more per employee on the payroll," states Mr. Adams, "and I am very proud of the achievement of the Doelcam employees and extend my sincere congratulations to John J. Wilson, President of this concern, and Chairman of our Manufacturing Division."

The Newton Rotary Club

Benjamin F. Louis, treasurer of the Newton Savings Bank gave a talk "Savings Banks" to members of the Newton Rotary Club Monday.

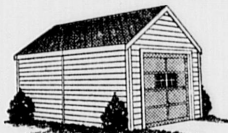

He said, in part, that in Mutual Savings Banks all deposits are on demand; they have no stockholders and all profits are distributed to depositors. The first institution for savings in Newton was organized in 1829 and incorporated in 1839 and re-named the Newton Savings Bank in 1890. Of the three Savings Banks in Newton, the second was the West Newton Savings Bank, incorporated in 1889, and the third, the Newton Centre Savings Bank, incorporated in 1890.

At present the three have about fifty thousand depositors with $50,000,000 deposits. Referring to the Newton Savings Bank, he said they had about $16,000,000 invested in 2300 mortgages, $18,000,000 of life insurance, written since 1938, and referring to G. I. loans, he said that one half of these loans in Massachusetts are held by Mutual Savings Banks.

Mr. Lewis entered the employ of the Newton Savings Bank in 1926 when they had seven employees. They now have 51. They then had $11,000,000 in deposits and now have $33,000,000 in deposits.

Newton Explorer Scouts Guests Of U. S. Air Force at Bedford Airport

The Newton and Wellesley Explorer Scouts were guests of the U. S. Air Force at the Bedford Airport, Oct. 21, when four squadrons, comprising 125 boys and 16 leaders, staged a model contest, watched the pilots and mechanics at work, and were taken for a ride in a C-46 transport.

The program was designed to enable the Scouts to obtain material for their Aviation Ratings. They observed a mechanics school, saw a crash demonstration, and were instructed in the use of parachutes. Winner of the Model Contest was Richard Elmer of Wellesley Post 81, and Stanley Chenoweth of the Waban squadron was the Senior Scout Pilot. The adult committee consisted of the four squadron leaders, Col. M. Styles and Page Sanderson of Wellesley, and George Mitchell and Clifford French of Newton.

The Planning Committee consisted of Lt. D. M. Rockwell, Explorer Project Officer; R. M. Ross, manager of the State Airport Management Board; E. E. Ross; Ralph Darien; and George Shannon, chairman of the Explorer Committee. Lt. Frank Dehan, Staff Explorer Officer of Regions 1 and 2, B.S.A., came from Mitchell Field to observe the program.

Transportation to the airport was provided by parents. Plans are under way to make the airport visit an annual event for the Explorer Scouts.

Mrs. John F. Brown Re-elected Pres. of Tribute Foundation

The annual meeting of the Newton Tribute Foundation, Inc. was held at Plummer Memorial-Auburndale Branch Library last Thursday evening. Mrs. John F. Brown presided and the following officers and directors were present: Mrs. Douglas B. Francis, Richard W. Winslow, Harold A. Wooster, Mrs. George W. Armstrong, Mrs. Allan C. Bralley, Orville Clapper, Donald B. Conant, Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, Mrs. Henry S. C. Cummings, Mrs. John C. Jones, Mrs. Ralph Keyes, Dr. William J. MacDonald, Mrs. Elizabeth Newton, Bradford Williams, and Mrs. Sidney Williamson.

The report of the treasurer, Richard A. Winslow, was read. Bradford Williams reported on the condition of the plantings and on plans for their future care and improvement. During the year the City of Newton placed granite curbing about these plantings, making a fine improvement.

The officers and directors of the organization were re-elected as follows: Mrs. John F. Brown, president; Mrs. Douglas B. Francis, vice president; Richard A. Winslow, treasurer; and Harold A. Wooster, secretary.

Directors: Mrs. George W. Armstrong, Mrs. Allen G. Bralley, Donald B. Conant, Mrs. Henry S. C. Cummings, Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity, Mrs. John C. Jones, Mrs. Neil Leonard, Dr. William J. MacDonald, Richard Moerschner, Warren W. Oliver, Ernest P. Railsback, Mrs. D. Allen Smith, Miss Beatrice Tower, Mrs. Frank A. Wightman, Mrs. Sidney Williamson, Louis F. Bachrach, Orville Clapper, Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, Mrs. N. Fletcher Eades, Joseph B. Jamieson, Mrs. Ralph Keyes, Dr. Franklin P. Lowry, C. Russell Mason, Mrs. Elizabeth Newton, Mrs. Clifford

P. Parcher, George B. Rogers, Mrs. Howard C. Thomas, Clifford H. Walker, and Bradford Williams.

Following the meeting Orville Clapper showed a number of pictures in color of the plantings on Commonwealth avenue, showing these at different seasons, also before and after the curbing was installed.

Oak Hill Park Woman's Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Oak Hill Park Woman's Club will be held November 8 at the Memorial School, promptly at 8:00 p.m. The business meeting will consist of a discussion of a revision of the by-laws.

The guest speaker will be Miss Marie Lefebvre attractive representative of the Celanese Corporation. In her present post as Assistant to the Director of Consumer Relations of Celanese Corporation of America, Miss Lefebvre has spoken to numerous groups of Women's Clubs throughout the principal cities in the East and Middle West. Her lectures present a graphic picture of the romantic development of modern scientific fabrics; they also emphasize their important use in Fashions and Home Decorations. Miss Lefebvre explains how these new fabrics are made, and one of the fascinating parts of her lecture is the description of how printed fabrics are created. Answers to questions from her audience stimulate lively discussion.

The Consumer Relations Program, as presented by Miss Lefebvre is enhanced by a colorful display of modern fabrics many of which are now being used by prominent American designers.

The Newton Community Club

Thursday, November 9 at 2:00 p.m. the Newton Community Club will hold its annual Guest Day meeting at the Underwood School. This is an open meeting and members are invited to bring one or more guests.

Consuelo Azuola, the wife of the late Dr. Eduardo Azuola, former Consul General of Costa Rica, will entertain us with a most interesting lecture on old and modern Spain. A graduate of the University of Madrid, she talks particularly of the women of Spain.

Tea and a social hour will follow the meeting.

Urges "No" Vote On Question 5

Editor, Newton Graphic:
Every Newton voter should vote "No" on Referendum question No. 5 on the Nov. 7 election ballot.

Under the present law, the Commissioner of Insurance fixes the rates for the compulsory ($500 to $1,000) motor vehicle insurance on the basis of claims paid for accidents caused by cars owned in the various communities of the state. That is, if a car owned in Newton causes an accident in Revere, the accident loss is charged to Newton, not to Revere. If a car owned in Williams-town causes an accident on Route 9 in Newton, it is charged to Williams-town and not to Newton. This community system of rating is therefore just and fair because the rates are based on driver responsibility.

Newton enjoys a most favorable rate, $27.10, because Newton car owners have excellent safe driving records. This is due to many factors, — the type of citizens we have, — safety education in our schools, — the good work of our exceptionally fine police force, whose traffic division is among the best in the state. The cities and towns where the high rates apply do not have all these factors in their favor.

For years the higher rated areas, — Boston, Chelsea, Revere and others, have filed legislation for a flat rate uniform throughout the state, but the General Court has always rejected it. I have each year led the fight against it in the House. This year, though defeated in both branches, Rep. Harold Canavan, a Revere Democrat, secured enough signatures to place the question on the ballot.

This referendum is a sordid conspiracy on the part of those communities whose car owners are such poor drivers that they have a bad accident record to make the car owners of 330 other communities share the cost of their careless driving.

If the referendum passes, we in Newton shall pay much more for our insurance. The proponents of the plan say the rate will be about $30, but insurance authorities say $32 to $33. My guess is it may be nearer $35 for a private passenger car. Truck owners will also pay much more than now. A taxi owner in Newton now pays $120 per car, and his rate will be about $300 per car. This will result in higher charges for taxi service, and it may even drive some of our good local taxi men out of business.

It is to be hoped that all our Newton people will consider the justice of their own cause and vote "No" on Referendum question No. 5 on Nov. 7.

REP. GEORGE E. RAWSON.

New Telephone Directory to Be Issued Nov. 7

Delivery of the 1950 Boston and Vicinity Telephone Directory begins Tuesday, November 7, with completion of the job planned for Saturday, November 18.

In that period 400 deliverymen supported by a fleet of trucks will sweep over the Metropolitan Boston telephone area of 45 exchanges to leave some 685,000 new books and pick up the dog-eared old ones. Retrieving the old is very important, as it removes a source of wrong numbers.

According to the Telephone Company, the new directory is a bit fatter, a mite heavier and a lot more useful and valuable, all because it has some 14,500 more listings than the old one, or a total of 538,000. Pages are therefore more numerous, the total of 1152 setting a new record.

Have you tucked anything of value into your old directory? Better look before you part with it.

Mothers' Club of Pomroy House

The West Newton Community Centre was the guest Monday of the Mothers' Club of the Rebecca Pomroy House for a Halloween Party. The evening proved very refreshing for the women of these two Red Feather Agencies due to many laughter provoking activities.

There were a number of very excellent costumes worn by the group with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Walter Carley, Mrs. Carolyn Duval and Mrs. Frank Barry. The fifty-four women present participated in a number of games and square dancing. A popularity contest was held with Mrs. Emil Erard being voted the best looking; Miss Helen J. Sandstrom the most popular and Mrs. Emma Larabee the girl with the most "pomp."

Mrs. Larabee, president of the Pomroy House Club welcomed the president of the West Newton Community Centre group, Mrs. Ruby Perkins, and her members. Refreshments prepared were served by the members of the following committee, Mrs. Bella Norton, chairman, Mrs. Frank Moran, Mrs. Louise Delgizzi and Mrs. Marie Gilbert.

Calvin Turley

Appointed Pastor of the Church of the Open Word

Mr. Calvin Turley, formerly of Chicago, has been appointed pastor of the Church of the Open Word of Newtonville. Mr. Turley is at present a student of the New Church Theological School in Cambridge and of the school of Theology at Boston University. He has had two years of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago.

Although still a student, Mr. Turley is not inexperienced in pastoral work. His brother, Owen Turley, is a New Church minister in Berkeley, California, and Calvin Turley has worked with him. For two years, from 1947 to 1949, he was the right hand man of his brother-in-law, Rollo Billings, New Church minister in Chicago. He was active there in organizing the church as a community center, directing recreational activities for the young people, and helping to run a nursery school.

Calvin Turley was born in South Bend, Indiana in 1924. He graduated from the LaPorte, Indiana, high school and went to Indiana University, where he enlisted in the Naval Reserve. He was sent to the midshipman school at Columbia University, and was commissioned an ensign in 1944. During the war, he served on an attack landing transport, shuttling back and forth over the Pacific, and landing at Japan after peace was declared.

When he was released from the Navy, he went to Oregon where his father owns a lily ranch, and finished his pre-medical course. By then he had determined to make the ministry his life work, and entered the Divinity School of the University of Chicago by examination.

On Easter Sunday, 1948, Mr. Turley married Marilyn Anderson of Chicago. They have one son, Kenneth.

Church Women to Meet Nov. 6

The Newton Council of Church Women is holding its World Community Day at the Union church in Waban Monday afternoon, Nov. 6, at 2 o'clock.

The theme for the meeting is Brotherhood—Love Thy Neighbor. Believing that peace is responsibility and that peace is possible, how do Christians accomplish peace?

The meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Anthony Jauregui, president of the Newton Council of Church Women. Norman C. Jimerson will tell briefly of his work as chaplain for the Newton Council of Churches.

The speaker for the afternoon is the Rev. Russell H. Bishop. His topic is "Love Thy Neighbor."

Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

Guild of St. Francis

November 8 is the date on which members and friends of the Guild of St. Francis of Newton Centre will gather at simultaneous house parties to share in interesting prizes for bridge, contract and canasta as well as for the holder of the lucky door ticket. Mrs. Joseph Mason Williams is chairman of the event, and Mrs. William Magee is accepting reservations at Bigelow 4-4443.

Among the hostesses opening their homes will be Mesdames Anthony Ascolese, John Blakeney, James Boggs, William Bradford, Mary Bullock, Justin Connor, Jr., Edwin B. Crowley, Thomas Duffy, Frank Heanue, James Horgan, E. Lake Jones, James Kerrigan, Charles Kinchla, M. J. Lacy, Augustus Leahy, Arthur Lecroix, Mary McKinnon, Rene Marcou, Lillian McCann, William D. Moran, John Phalon, Walter Piott, Frederick Putnam, Oliver Sullivan, James Walton and Robert Wilhelm.

Edwin C. Harkins, day and drama chairman of the Auburndale Woman's Club, Mrs. Harkins introduced and thanked the judges and clubs.

Mrs. Walter B. Morehouse, tea hostess had Mrs. Waldo Hutchinson and Mrs. Louis A. Woodland serve as pourers. The tea table was beautifully decorated in the Halloween tradition. Lighted pumpkin and tall orange candles. Mrs. Franklin Bartlett, chairman of the Veteran's Service took charge of the food sale. Successful sale and wonderful committee.

Hurley Flays Herter for Hiding Voting Record in Congress

Francis X. Hurley, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 10th district last night accused his Republican opponent, Christian Herter, of a "deliberate plot to hide his infamous voting record."

"My opponent," Hurley, a former State Auditor and State Treasurer, declared, "has one of the most reactionary voting records in Congress. Behind a polished front he has been able to keep the public from knowing that he voted against rent control, against social security, against displaced persons, against civil rights, and against a bill that would have checked inflationary food speculation."

"Herter has posed as a 'knight on a white charger,' but the Congressional Record will show that he has consistently voted against the lines laid out by the Republican die-hards and has cast his lot for measures that served vested interests, but not his district."

Hurley, a prominent attorney and Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Harvard, stressed Herter's vote against rent control. "Although my opponent represents the most heavily concentrated apartment-house district in Massachusetts, he has constantly sabotaged all measures for rent control."

Speaking before a large gathering of his campaign workers, Hurley warned that "the public must not be fooled by the false front that Herter has maintained for many years."

"If the people of the 10th district will judge their Congressman by the way he votes, then Herter will be defeated. He has kow-towed to the Dixiecrats in opposing all progressive legislation, even when proposed by the more enlightened members of the Republican party."

Hon. Jackson J. Holtz, former assistant U. S. Attorney and former state representative, presided at the meeting. Other members of the Francis X. Hurley for Congress Committee, which has been engaged in a wide canvass of voters to bare Herter's record to the public, are: James L. Valley, West Roxbury, former assistant corporation counsel; Edward O'Hearn Mullenney, former state senator from Brookline; Mrs. Joseph F. O'Connell, Jr., of Newton, widow of the late Congressman; Charles Nelson Bell, prominent Boston

Newton Group to Sponsor Push Button Exhibit to Teachers

"Test Yourself—What Do You Know About Tuberculosis?" is the title of a push-button exhibit which will be displayed tomorrow morning (Friday) for the first time at the Middlesex County teachers' convention which will be held at the Boston Arena.

Miss Alice G. Gallagher, executive secretary of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, said that her association is sponsoring the exhibit in cooperation with the Middlesex Health Association. She said that at the display Newton teachers will be given the opportunity to see and order a wide variety of free books, pamphlets, posters, exhibits, and motion picture films suitable for teaching health subjects in the classroom. These will be supplied through Christmas seal funds.

The "test yourself" exhibit, which may be borrowed by schools, includes a list of questions about tuberculosis, each question having a "yes" and a "no" button after it. Miss Gallagher said that a light flashes when the correct answer button is pushed. Typical questions are: Q. "Is a person sixty years old, or older, safe from TB?" A. "No." Q. "Is a chest X-ray the best single way to find early TB?" A. "Yes."

Milton Woman's Club Wins 1st Prize at Auburndale Festival

The competitive Drama Festival sponsored by the Auburndale Woman's Club, last week was received with delighted enthusiasm. The $25 prize went to Milton Woman's Club for their superbly acted play "White Iris." Gowns for this play were loaned by the Milton Historical Society. The characters portrayed were done with keen insight and understanding.

The clubs and plays taking part in the competition were the Milton Woman's Club presenting "The White Iris," a gripping tragic story of two sisters. Very dramatic. New Century Club of Needham "Heard In Camera," is a law term referring to a case heard in the judge's chamber or in private. A play in the melodramatic tradition. Newton Community Club, "Enjoying Poor Health," a comedy about an operation enjoyed in the retelling; and the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, "A Hint of Lilacs," a social drama that combines both comedy and tragedy, filled with interesting characterizations.

Serving as judges were Eldon Winkler of the Wellesley College Summer Theatre School, Milton Page of Baker's Plays; Mrs. William R. Cook, State President of the National League, American Pen Woman; Mrs. Gilbert W. Rich, Massachusetts State Federation Chairman of Drama and Literature; Mrs. Walcott E. Sibley, 12th District chairman of Drama and Literature; Mrs. Dargagh L. Higgins, Newton Federation chairman of drama and literature, and Miss Edith May of Brookline Amateurs Inc.

Driver Education Course In High School Helpful

Entering the scholarly domain of Newton High School, Building I, I was suitably awed by the classical paintings which greeted me at the entrance and by the hush of silent halls. There was a touch of nostalgia as I proceeded with the idea of looking for an elevator, forgetting that students walk up.

Meditating on the scarcity of students I encountered on the first flight on my way to the fourth floor, I suddenly heard a bell, and was immediately deluged by students flocking down from the upper regions. Of course! It was two-thirty and school was not over when I first entered the hall of learning. Upward I groped my way through ever increasing hordes of students, until I finally reached the rarified level of the fourth floor, where Mr. Edwin H. Wies, instructor in the auto driving course, had just finished lecturing to six sections of driver education classes. Although pretty much talked out he obligingly agreed to tell me something about the course offered qualified Newton High School students to prepare them for safe driving on the roads.

"My interpretation of safety," says Mr. Wies, "is what actually is put over to the students—the development of proper attitudes, knowledge and skills. If I can develop these I feel I have accomplished a lot. This work is preparing people for life. The students are all going to drive later on and if they can learn to drive properly while in school, they are way ahead in the game."

The aims of the course, as outlined for the students, are to develop skillful and safe drivers, to stimulate constructive attitudes and habits on the road, to educate drivers in observance of motor vehicle and traffic laws, to curb certain irresponsible tendencies among drivers.

Driver education in secondary schools is something new. It is a pioneer field in Massachusetts, and Newton is one of the few schools to include the course in its curriculum. It was instigated because it was felt that if correct principles of driving were instilled in high school students, driving accidents could be reduced, most driving accidents occurring in the 16-25 age group. Driver education must be put into the secondary schools if the need for good adult drivers is to be met.

The course at Newton High School which Mr. Wies has set up carries one point credit and meets for 18 weeks. Five weeks at the beginning of the school year are spent in the classrooms, a regular class meeting twenty periods. At the end of the five week period, the classes break up into groups of four—five different groups for 26 or 27 hours of road work. In the classroom there are lectures, demonstrations, and discussions. "Man and the Motor Car" is the textbook and "Question and Answers Relating to Motor Vehicle Laws" of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is also used. When a knowledge of the car and its mechanical safety features, the rules of the road, and safe driving practices have been mastered, there is actual road work in a dual control car. Any possible accidents are covered by insurance.

Seniors, juniors, and some sophomores may take the course without expense providing they are 16 years of age and have one full block of study periods per week. It gives them about twelve minutes per hour behind the wheel—six hours per student over a six or seven week period. At the completion of the road training, the Registry of Motor Vehicles is contacted so that Registry personnel may come to the school and inspect the students' driving skill. If they cannot come, the students go on their own to apply for the Mass. driver's test. They are trained to such an extent that the school feels that no matter where they go they will be competent drivers.

The subject of safety is also introduced as a unit in the Study of Nations curriculum, called "Safety Driving." This takes three or four weeks at the latter part of the course and is primarily for sophomores or the 15-year-old age group. It gives preparation for the later more extensive study.

The Newton School Department has initiated a very practical means of insuring better and safer drivers now and in the future. It deserves commendation for taking this step in educating the youth of our city.

Newell Club

Mrs. Donald L. Gibbs of Newton is General Chairman for the bridge party sponsored by Newell Club for the benefit of the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children. The party will be at Mt. Ida Junior College in Newton Centre on November 17.

Newton and Wellesley women are assisting Mrs. Gibbs. On her committee are Mrs. George W. Wyman, Mrs. George L. Linn, Mrs. John A. Fulham, Mr. Elmer C. Bartels, Mrs. J. Richard Campbell, Mrs. John M. Taylor, Mrs. Harry L. Walden, Mrs. Nelson R. Scott, Mrs. Edwin P. Leonard, Jr., Mrs. Durham F. Jones, and Mrs. Edward A. Green.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Philip Cummings will speak on "World Affairs from the American Viewpoint" at the monthly meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club at 3 p.m. November 10. Having served as U. S. Consultant in the Southwest Pacific during the World War and as Economic Observer at the League of Nations, Mr. Cummings speaks from personal observation and experience. He was educated at Rollins and Middlebury Colleges and also studied at the University of Dijon and the University of Madrid.

Officers and woman's advisory committee of the Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Company will be guests at this meeting. Paintings from Margaret Brown Gallery of 280 Dartmouth street will be exhibited in the Art Gallery from November 10th-24th.

The following are new members at the Newton Centre Woman's Club: Mrs. Henry Adams, Mrs. J. Mervin Allen, Mrs. Elmer C. Bartels, Mrs. Russell H. Bishop, Mrs. Charlotte Carter, Mrs. Stella C. Hesselein, Mrs. J. Henry Hickman, Mrs. Curtis Hookway, Mrs. Clarence J. Hutchings, Mrs. Arthur W. Johnson, Mrs. John Kelso, Mrs. Herbert L. Lombard, Mrs. W. A. Meissner, Mrs. Frank Ring, Mrs. Charles S. Stone, Mrs. Paul P. Sutton, Mrs. F. L. Timson and Mrs. Karol R. Zenker.

To Be Guests at Dance Saturday

The Newton Girls' Service Organization, which recently entertained 100 Fort Devens men at a Halloween dance, will be guests of Fort Devens at another Halloween dance Saturday, at the Sports Arena, where music will be furnished by the 18th Army band.

A second Halloween dance sponsored by the Newton G.S.O. will also be held that same night at the Armed Services Y.M.C.A. in Ayer.

Many of the men at the last dance given by the Newton G.S.O. in the Newton Y.M.C.A., were recent inductees. Special guests were Richard Bond of Pepperell, director of the Ayer Armed Services Y.M.C.A., Mrs. Bond, and Sgt. W. Clark, assistant in special services at Fort Devens.

Men's Club of West Newton

Rudolph Elie, columnist and music critic of the Boston Herald, was the guest speaker at the first meeting of the season at the Men's Club of West Newton. In a witty and interesting talk entitled "The Roving Eye in Europe", Mr. Elie told of some of the experiences encountered by him and cartoonist Dahl on their recent trip. His description of a bull fight in Lisbon and transfer from one ship to another by breeches buoy made interesting listening. In a more serious vein, Elie expressed the opinion that Europeans know less of us than we do of them and that we should do all we can to correct this situation in the interest of better international understanding.

President Loomis Patrick announced the appointment of several committees and introduced Thomas H. Carens, Jr., who spoke for the Community Fund and George Koller who requested the cooperation of members in the Red Cross drive for Blood Donors. Kenneth E. Prior was elected Vice-President of the Club to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Herman Carr.

The Newton Art Association

The Newton Art Association members attended a tea given in their behalf by the Newton Centre Woman's Club in conjunction with the showing of their paintings by the Club Saturday afternoon, October 20. Mrs. Howard Kling, Chairman of the Art Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Mrs. Ralph Hudson, and Mrs. W. Cornell Appleton were pourers.

The collection, arranged by Mrs. Hudson, showed a wide range of versatility and consisted of studies in watercolor, pencil technique, oils and pastels.

Women's Society, Christian Service

Mrs. John W. Kingston and Mrs. Alfred Stierli were co-chairmen of the committee of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Centenary Methodist church in Auburndale who arranged the wedding reception of the former Miss Mona M. Johnson and Mr. William R. Valentine, Jr., which was held in the Parish Hall of Centenary church last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence B. Smith were in charge of the hall decorations and lighting, and Mrs. Thomas J. Urell took care of the table decorations and table settings. Mrs. Lawrence Reichle and Mrs. Frank P. Davis served the wedding cakes.

Others who assisted in serving were Mrs. Carmen Santucci, Mrs. Arthur Small, Mrs. Maurice C. Hutchins, Mrs. Hells J. Wyman, and Mrs. Jennie G. Mellish. Many a man begrudges giving his wife an allowance, because she spends most of it before he can borrow it back.

A Simple Explanation, Pro and Con Of the Question on the Ballot

Below will be found the pros and cons on the several questions which voters will be called on to mark their ballot next Tuesday. This information has been prepared by the Newton League of Women Voters and The Graphic is pleased to present them for the guidance of the voters. The Graphic is printing herewith only the pros and cons of the several questions as prepared by the League of Women Voters. Written in simple, understandable language, the following gives a clear picture of the general questions. We have deliberately eliminated printing the questions in the language in which they will appear on the ballot, other than to give the name of the proposals, as we believe the ballot language is confusing. The League of Women Voters, non-partisan in purpose, has prepared both arguments for and against the various proposals and leaves to the individual the right to determine which way to vote.

QUESTION 1—Succession of Office.

ARGUMENTS . . . For the Proposal

- (1) This amendment more clearly defines the terms of office of the governor, Lt. governor, and councillors.
- (2) It provides for contingencies that might arise from the death of the governor and Lt. governor prior to qualification and applies the same order of succession as would apply if they should die after they are in office.

Against the Proposal

- (1) The intent of the electorate would be frustrated if the governor and Lt. governor should die and an officer elected by popular vote on the basis of his qualifications for a particular office should succeed to the governorship.

QUESTION 2—Change in Number of Required Signatures on Petitions.

ARGUMENTS . . . For the Proposal

- (1) It would be a more flexible means of deciding the number of signatures required.
- (2) The set number does not reflect increase or decrease in the population or in the electorate.
- (3) The numbers now used represented about 3% of the qualified voters in 1918 when this section of the Constitution was adopted. This is not true today, when one considers the total number of votes cast for governor in 1948 was approximately 2,100,000. Three per cent of this is 63,000, as compared to 20,000 signatures now needed on an Initiative Petition for a Proposed Law.
- (4) Proposals are now presented to the electorate signed by such a relatively small number of qualified voters that it would be easy for "crackpots" to misuse the rights of petition.

Against the Proposal

- (1) To increase the number of signatures—as this amendment will do—would defeat the purpose of Petitions, which makes it possible for citizens to petition their government regarding legislation, either proposed or enacted.
- (2) To obtain the increased number of signatures would require a large and costly organization.
- (3) It would work a real hardship on the petitioners.
- (4) There would be a great disparity in the number of total votes cast for governor in Presidential years and off-year elections, so this percentage system would not be an equitable formula.

QUESTION 3—Old Age Assistance

ARGUMENTS . . . For the Proposal

- (1) There must be security for the aged regardless of cost.
- (2) Employment opportunities for persons 63 to 65 are very limited. It should be at the age when persons are classed as unemployable that society must assume the burden of their support.
- (3) The present minimum individual monthly payment in Massachusetts is $40.00, which is much too low considering today's cost of living.
- (4) Many other states (approximately 27) include aliens in their old age assistance program. (Federal funds are not limited to citizens).

Against the Proposal

- (1) Only two other States (California and Colorado) pay more to their aged and to their needy blind than Massachusetts. Although the minimum individual monthly payment is $40.00, the monthly average individual payment in Massachusetts is about $65 (65.50-$65.76). The national monthly average is $43.67.
- (2) The average age of application in Massachusetts (total persons assisted—100,000) is between the ages of 69 and 71. It does not appear as if there was a need for changing the minimum age to 63.
- (3) No other State with the exception of Colorado grants assistance to those under 65. Colorado grants to those 60 and over upon proof of continuous residence since 1906.
- (4) The age of eligibility recognized by the Federal Government is 65. Therefore, Massachusetts would have to bear the ENTIRE COST for those between 63 and 65.
- (5) The maximum payment in which the Federal government will share is $50; therefore, the entire cost of the increased payments will have to be met by State revenues.
- (6) The present old age assistance program costs around 80 million, financed by: Federal—$34,400,000; State—$33,400,000; Local—$12,200,000. The proposal would transfer the share (Local) now paid by the cities and towns to the State.
- (7) The cost of expanding the old age assistance program must be around 50 million per year. Almost all of this would have to be financed by State revenue.
- (8) The basis on which the need of the individual is decided would be weakened. Many who cannot now show the need for assistance would be paid money should this proposal pass.
- (9) A tremendous new financial burden would be placed on Massachusetts citizens. Those in need might actually be hurt by diverting funds needed for general relief, aid to dependent children, etc.

QUESTION 4—A State Lottery.

ARGUMENTS . . . Against the Proposal

- (1) A lottery is a form of gambling. It is an event in which participants pay money or other consideration for the privilege of competing for prizes which are awarded on the basis of luck, not skill. The State should not encourage or exploit a human weakness.
- (2) A lottery is an unsound method of financing public obligations. Most of the money would come from those least able to afford it.
- (3) Costs of running a lottery are very high (for example: Irish Sweepstakes show that 60% of all money received goes for operating expenses; 20% for prizes; 20% to the hospitals). Even if every man, woman, and child in the State buys as much as $60 worth of chances a year, there wouldn't be much money left for the aged, the needy blind and dependent children after these enormous costs and the prizes are paid.

- (4) History shows that a State Lottery leads to political corruption. Right now the Federal Government is making every effort to check, not encourage gambling.
- (5) A State Lottery would make it even more difficult to enforce laws against gambling.
- (6) Federal laws prohibit the use of the U. S. Mails and Post Offices for sending lottery materials; tickets, ads, etc.—and also sending them across state boundaries.
- (7) In 1833, lotteries were prohibited in Massachusetts as "crimes against public policy."
- (8) No other State runs a lottery.

QUESTION 5—Uniform Rates for Compulsory Auto Insurance

ARGUMENTS . . . For the Proposal

- (1) The present system is inequitable. The rates vary greatly: Chelsea $53.70; Revere $56.30; Pittsfield $18.20.
- (2) Every motorist has an equal opportunity to use any street or highway throughout the Commonwealth. It would be more equitable to distribute the losses throughout the Commonwealth.
- (3) Communities are penalized because of accidents caused by automobiles from other communities.
- (4) No person should be penalized because he happens to live in a certain community. A person in Boston pays $50.10 while a person in Milton—across the street—pays $24.20.
- (5) A uniform rate for compulsory auto insurance, based upon 1947 figures, would probably be around $30.00. The rate would be fixed annually in direct proportion to the amount of losses due to accidents in the previous year. This would be an incentive to all the motorists in Massachusetts to drive more carefully.

Against the Proposal

- (1) In Massachusetts, the present system of establishing rates is based on sound insurance practice developed through years of study and experience data since 1927, when automobile bodily injury insurance was made compulsory. The Commissioner of Insurance represents the public and by statute he, not the insurance companies, established the rates which must be "adequate, just, reasonable and non-discriminatory." Although no other state has compulsory liability insurance, this system of establishing rates is in effect in every State in the Country.
- (2) A uniform rate would make it impossible for individual communities to earn lower rates by community accident-prevention programs and would destroy the money incentive for safe driving. Experience has shown that accident prevention programs are most effective at the community level.
- (3) A uniform rate is unfair as the majority of careful drivers will be forced to pay for the accidents of the minority of careless drivers.
- (4) The Supreme Judicial Court has held that the present system of fixing compulsory rates is reasonable and legal.
- (5) A uniform rate would mean higher payments for a big majority of car owners. About 69% of car owners would have to pay as much as 50% to 82% more than their present rate on compulsory insurance.

QUESTION 6—Pari-Mutual Betting on Licensed Racing

ARGUMENTS . . . For the Proposal

- (1) The pari-mutual system of betting is confined to those actually at the tracks and eliminates "bookies" and illegal betting off-the-track.
- (2) The pari-mutual system of betting on licensed horse (or dog) races is not gambling in the same sense as buying a lottery ticket would be. The element of skill of the individual to pick the winner and the ability of the rider and the animal are the determining factors of the contest. The contest is not based on chance as is true of a lottery.
- (3) The Massachusetts pari-mutual system of betting with the totalizer eliminates the danger of human error and dishonesty.

Against the Proposal

- (1) The pari-mutual system of betting does not stop off-the-track betting; bookmaking, which is illegal, increases.
- (2) The small amount of revenue received by the State does not warrant the risks involved. (In 1949, $8,200,000 in revenues from racing went to the Old Age Assistance program in Massachusetts).
- (3) The problem of enforcement of gambling laws in general is increased through the legal sanction of race track wagering.

QUESTION 7—Licensing of Alcoholic Beverages

Under the terms of the present laws governing licensing of alcoholic beverages, these questions must appear on the ballot every two years.

- A. Shall licenses be granted in this city (or town) for the sale therein of all alcoholic beverages (whiskey, rum, gin, malt beverages, wines and all other alcoholic beverages)?
- B. Shall licenses be granted in this city (or town) for the sale therein of wines and malt beverages (wines and beer, ale and other malt beverages)?
- C. Shall licenses be granted in this city (or town) for the sale therein of all alcoholic beverages in packages, so-called, not to be drunk on the premises?

A Yes vote on all three of these means that you favor the sale of all alcoholic beverages to be drunk on and off the premises.

A No vote on questions A and C, and a Yes vote on question B means that you favor the sales of wines and malt beverages to be drunk on and off the premises.

A No vote on questions A and B, and a Yes vote on question C means that you favor the sale of all alcoholic beverages, but only in packages.

A No vote on Question A and a Yes vote on questions B and C means that you favor the sale of wines and malt beverages to be drunk on and off the premises, and the sale of other alcoholic beverages in packages only.

A No vote on all three questions means that you do not favor the sale of any alcoholic beverages in your community.

QUESTION 8—Extension of Federal Rent Control

ARGUMENTS . . . For the Proposal

- (1) With inflation and present high cost of living, it is as important as it ever was that rent control be continued.
- (2) There is still a shortage of rental housing for those of low and middle income. To remove rent control would work a further hardship on these groups.
- (3) The present threat of war-time controls on construction materials warrants continuation of rent control, at least, through next year.

Against the Proposal

- (1) Continuation of rent-control discourages construction of rental housing.
- (2) Income derived from rented properties has been severely curtailed by continuation of rent control during the period after World War II, although war-time restrictions were removed from other income-yielding properties.
- (3) There is no longer sufficient need to warrant such controls. The whole theory of rent control violates the principle of free enterprise.

The Shop Scout

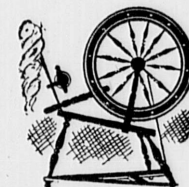

ELAINE REED

Homemakers in the days of our pilgrim forebears really had to go to extremes for the necessities and comforts that we can buy right in our own neighborhoods. If a pilgrim housewife wanted a new dress, she had to either raise the sheep for wool, weave the material, dye it, and make her dress, or wait weeks or months for cloth to arrive by boat before she could make her dress.

Today, most housewives can buy anything for their homes or themselves from convenient local stores. The choice of styles and colors is much larger, and every season there is more of a variety. How many of us fully appreciate the convenience and variety that is offered so close to home?

American women's dress and hair styles in colonial times were guided by necessity. Nowadays, hair styles, as well as dress styles, reflect the season, the fashion, and the wearer's personality. Even though hair styles do change often and perhaps you rarely have your hair set the same way twice—you naturally like to wear your hair in a way that is becoming and suitable to you. WILLA MAE, Hair-Stylist, whose new beauty salon is at 847-A Beacon Street in Newton Center, knows that most women prefer to have their hair done by someone who is not only expert, but who is used to them and knows what hair styles are suitable to them. WILLA MAE would like to have these women know that Miss Betty Harney, formerly at the same address, is staying on with the WILLA MAE salon to continue her personalized treatments and stylings for old friends and new.

Betty specializes in permanent waving and scientific scalp treatments. She is a postgraduate of the famous Harper Method, and has earned many certificates of merit in her work. You can make an appointment with Betty at the

Flat Rate Will Increase Cost Of Insurance Here

The increase in Newton's compulsory automobile insurance rate under the flat rate scheme would boost individual payments from $27.10 to about $32.00 and probably more.

Multiplying by the number of cars registered here, that means a yearly drain of $107,000 out of the channels of business and trade in this community, solely for the benefit of cities like Boston, Chelsea and Revere.

INSIDE MISTER HERTER!!

 Representative Christian A. Herter of Boston's Back Bay is the most obstructionist of the Republican Dark Age Brigade House Rules Committee.
 Herter might, because of his background, be expected to be a source of enlightened leadership. He was born in Paris, educated at Harvard, married into the Standard Oil Pratt family, and, personally, is a cultivated and charming man. In Rules Committee hearings, Herter always makes a great show of being "fair." But when the votes are cast, he is always on the side of black and adorous reaction.
 When GOP Hatchet men Leo Allen and Clarence Brown look his way, Herter, the well bred Boston Brahmin with the gentle manner and the aristocratic voice always snaps into line and they represent.
 Although Herter is from one of the most concentrated apartment house districts in the country, he has consistently sabotaged rent control and voted against middle income cooperative housing. He regularly votes with the Gene Cox-Howard-Smith-Bill Colmer cabal against civil rights. In 1950, he supported this clique's attempt to destroy the modest rules reform adopted the year before. He even had the effrontery to defend his shabby stand on the ground that the parliamentary device of "calendar Wednesday" was an effective alternative. Even the page boys know that, as a vehicle to speed legislation to the floor, Calendar Wednesday is about as speedy as a one-legged goat.
 On one subject, however, Herter had to make a hurried about-face when Theodore Roosevelt III founded "HELP" (Hollywood Emergency Liaison Program), a pro-Arab organization. Herter became a director. Whether he was inspired by his wife's Standard Oil connections or by his friendship for Roosevelt is unknown. He quickly resigned when word of his wife's leaked to Boston.
 For Beantown has its Jews and its Irish, but there are no Arabs in Mr. Herter's district.

Waban Rites Held for Sidney C. Vaughan, Railway Official

Funeral services for Sidney C. Vaughan, 61, of 12 Ridgeway terrace, Newton Highlands, general passenger agent at Boston for the Canadian National Railway, were held with a solemn High Mass of Requiem at St. Philip Neri Church, Waban, Tuesday at 9 a. m.

Mr. Vaughan, who also was general passenger agent of the Central Vermont Railway, died at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital last Friday.

He began his career in railroad traffic with the old Intercolonial Railway, at Halifax, N. S., in 1912, and came to Boston in 1920. He was a member of the Traffic Club of New England, the Boston Passenger Club, the Railway and Steamboat Agents Association, the Boston City Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Canadian Club of Boston, and the American Association of Passenger Traffic Officers.

He leaves his wife; a son, Sidney, of Newton Highlands; and two daughters, Mrs. Charles L. Young of Wellesley and Mrs. Joseph A. Elliott, Jr., of Charlotte, N. C.

BURT—Orasmus C. Burt, 51, of 25 Church street, Newton, collapsed and died at the wheel of his car near the Newton Free Library on Centre street, Newton Corner, last Thursday.

He left home at 1:30 p. m., to attend an auction at the Eliot Church. When his son, Ashley D. Burt, with whom he made his home, returned home in the evening, he set out to find his father. The younger Mr. Burt saw his father's car parked near the library and at first thought that there was no one in the auto. On closer examination, however, he found his father on the front seat. The ignition of the car had been turned off and the emergency brake was set, indicating that the victim was stricken after he parked the car. Dr. T. Morton Gallagher, medical examiner, said that death was due to a heart attack suffered moments after Mr. Burt had started his car.

Mr. Burt was born in Plainfield, September 6, 1899, the son of Charles R. and Mary A. Burt and was a farmer until eight years ago when he came to Newton. He was a former employee of the maintenance department of Fessenden School and had worked there up to three weeks before his death.

Besides his son Ashley, he leaves two other sons, Leon S., of Plainfield, and Harold C. Burt of Colfax, Cal., and two daughters, Mrs. Hazel E. Smith and Mrs. Mabel A. Montgomery, both of Cummington, Mass. He has grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held in Plainfield at 2 p. m., Sunday. Burial was in Plainfield.

WORDEN—Robert B. Worden, 63, died last Thursday at his home, 51 Tangleton road, Newton Centre.

Mr. Worden had been in the automobile business for 24 years and at the time of his death was general sales manager of the Talbot Pontiac Co., of Building. At one time he was associate editor of the Used Car Digest, a co-operative trade publication which he also served as New England representative.

He was a Mason, and had been president of the Commonwealth Country Club. He leaves his wife, Helen A. Worden; a daughter, Mrs. Martha W. Cibel; a brother, Harry O. Worden, and four grandchildren.

DANA—Funeral services were held in Trinity Church, Newton Centre, last Saturday for Mrs. Edith Kildner Dana, 65, of 1011 Centre street, Newton Centre.

Mrs. Dana died last Thursday at the Phillips House of the Massachusetts General Hospital. She was a member of the Brae Burn Country Club, the Algonquin Club, and the Eastward Ho Club in Chatham, where she also lived.

She leaves her son, Lawrence Dana of Hingham and a daughter, Mrs. Henry L. Johnson Jr., of Newton, as well as her brother and sister, Edwin H. Kildner of Chatham, and Mrs. Morton C. Tuttle of Newton Centre. She also leaves five grandchildren. She was the widow of Ripley L. Dana.

Interment was in Newton Cemetery.

Issues—

didates may lack in issues, the referendums which must be voted on Tuesday, make up for them. Many important, vital and far-reaching issues must be decided by the ballot Tuesday and it is quite possible that these issues will bring out an exceedingly large vote.

One issue which is sure to draw out a large vote is that of the so-called "flat rate" automobile insurance plan. Should this proposal receive a majority vote throughout the State it is going to cost car owners in Newton alone over one hundred thousand dollars additional for their compulsory automobile insurance. While on the surface the "flat rate" scheme appears to be doomed, as certainly car owners in the low rate district will undoubtedly vote "No" on the proposal, the vote of the non-car owner has the opponents of the "flat rate" scheme uncertain of the outcome and every effort is being made to have car owners in the low rate districts get out and vote.

Another issue which has aroused considerable controversy is the so-called lottery proposal. Although proponents of the measure contend it will bring much additional revenue to the State treasury, opponents of the proposal just as quickly contend that it will do no such thing and will be just another means to set up another and very expensive government agency to take care of the details.

Other issues which will be voted on Tuesday also have evoked considerable controversy and all of these, more so than the contests of candidates, may do much to bring out a large vote.

It is practically a foregone conclusion that Republican candidates seeking office in Newton will have little difficulty in receiving a majority vote Tuesday and should easily win.

Polls throughout the city will be open Tuesday from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. For the purpose of familiarizing voters of the meaning of the various questions to be voted on, an explanation written in simple language and prepared by the Newton League of Women Voters, will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Elected—

favor of referendum number 2, and to oppose question 3, 4 and 5, and will request association members to follow those recommendations when they go to vote on November 7.

Benjamin M. Ellison, field director of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers' Association addressed the meeting and announced that the Federation contemplates an Omnibus Home Rule Bill for Massachusetts cities and towns in the coming session of the legislature.

Mr. Ellison said that the long sessions of the legislature were in part due to the fact that more than half the dockets are concerned with municipal problems or private bills which ought to be handled in other ways. He gave the following reasons why a "home rule" measure was necessary: first, because a legislature which sits for so much of its time as a glorified city council cannot devote its much needed efforts to Commonwealth business; second, because it is not qualified to govern 351 cities and towns with their diverse needs; and third, because the way to improve municipal government and develop a stronger sense of local responsibility is by increasing, not restricting, the self-governing powers of cities and towns.

To reverse the 300-year trend toward greater state control of our cities and towns will not be easy, Ellison continued. The legislature will not be eager to relinquish its pleasant role of Great White Father. Nor will the cities and towns find it easy to break their habit of running to the legislature for the smallest favor or for fiscal relief.

The premise of our municipal law today is: "You can't do it unless the legislature says you can," Ellison concluded. The premise should be: "You can do it unless the legislature says you can't."

Schools—

the school. As life increases in complexity, as the world shrinks out from under us, as nations once regarded as foreigners become neighbors in fact, the need for good education becomes increasingly critical.

"The nation sets aside a week each year for the special observance of the part that schools play in our way of life. All during the year but especially during Education Week schools open their doors to welcome parents and the general citizenry. This year Education Week begins Sunday, November 5, and its theme is Government of the People. By the People, and for the People. The various Newton schools will hold special events to mark the occasion and to which you are cordially invited. The Newton Teachers Federation, a professional association of Newton educators, has contributed both time and money to make Education Week in Newton an important local event.

In the last analysis, schools are what the people are. Good schools cannot be achieved in a vacuum. If they are to bring the most to the lives of young America, they must have your interest and participation."

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a complete schedule of events and the schools in which they will be held.

Library—

Monday, the library will be open for the circulation of books.

At the Open House on Friday night there will be a special exhibit of fine illustrated books, of pictures, etc. The hostesses for the evening will be the following advisory committee from Oak Hill Park: Mrs. Clark Fisher, chairman, Mrs. William J. Mannix, and Mrs. Jerome M. Powell.

The first staff of the new branch will be: Mrs. Lorraine Kovar, branch librarian; Miss Ann Elizabeth White, children's librarian; and Mrs. Louise E. Carlisle, evening assistant.

Group—

Next Monday evening the first year group, under the leadership of Mr. Harold A. Wooster and Mr. Albert Gayzagian, will meet. There is still the opportunity for about six more persons to join this first year group which meets next Monday evening. The reading for this group is Plato's Crito, concerning the trial of Socrates.

Family—

technical sessions on family problems and the services provided families to help meet them by family service agencies in their communities.

Appraising present pressures on family living at the opening meeting will be Ewan Clague, Commissioner of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor, Dr. Weston LaBarre, anthropologist at Duke University, Durham, N. C. and Dr. Jules V. Coleman, psychiatrist at the Yale University School of Medicine.

Another meeting will consider "How Can We Reinforce Family Security in a Period of Strain" with experts from the fields of sociology, economics, social work and psychiatry as speakers.

The dinner meeting November 17, will hear an address by Mrs. Alva Myrdal, principal director of the Department of Social Affairs, of the United Nations, on "The Dilemma of the Mid-Century Parent."

Technical meetings will cover such subjects as: "Plus and Minus in Public Welfare Today," "The Family Agency's Contribution to Mental Health," and "Psychosocial Problems of the Adolescent."

Open Annual Junior Red Cross Enrollment In Schools Here

Wednesday marked the opening of the annual fall enrollment of the American Junior Red Cross in Newton schools. Efforts will be made to give every elementary and secondary school here an opportunity to enroll for the calendar year of 1950.

Because of increased world tension, the Chapter feels it is increasingly important that schools be ready to assist in the traditional services of the Red Cross to men in the service and to the community. Last year the national membership reached a total of 19,283,438 boys and girls from 95,338 private, public and parochial elementary and secondary schools. Of this number, over 11,000 were from Newton.

Junior Red Cross programs and services vary in different communities. Local program plans include such community services as provision of holiday favors for Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital and Peabody Home for Crippled Children, 50 lap boards for Peabody Home, service on various Chapter program committees.

In addition, the local chapter's Junior Red Cross members plan to fill gift boxes for distribution to school children overseas and valued at $1,054,000 were purchased throughout the nation last year. Children in Newton filled and shipped over 500 of these.

Newton schools intend to participate in international school art and school correspondence programs. More than 6,000 pieces of art and 2,000 albums of correspondence were exchanged with some 40 foreign countries last year.

Since the end of World War II, junior members of the American National Red Cross have sent over $8,000,000 worth of basic health and educational supplies to children in war-devastated countries. These shipments were made possible by the National Children's Fund of the American Junior Red Cross.

"Army" Drive

Nonantum, Upper Falls Finish Canvass; Over Quota

According to Kenneth E. Prior, General Chairman for Newton of the Salvation Army's appeal for funds, both Nonantum and Upper Falls workers have completed canvassing every home in their districts.

Twenty-one volunteers, headed by George H. Ferraie, turned in their final report which indicates that contributions in Upper Falls have been excellent. In Nonantum, workers led by Mrs. Edward Norton and Mrs. Lillian Moran, co-chairmen, not only called on every family in their district, but reported donations totalling substantially more than in the 1949 drive.

"I'm taking the results in those two villages," said Mr. Prior, "as a good omen. Other villages are fast getting towards completion of their canvasses; and I firmly believe when their reports are in we'll be at least up to our quota of twenty-three thousand dollars, and possibly over it. Newton has never yet let the Salvation Army down; and although the drive as a whole has been slow, I'm convinced we'll come through. Every one of our hard-working volunteers is anxious to make this drive a success. With a good strong final push, there's no reason why we can't reach our goal."

Total figures covering the entire city are not yet available. But Mr. Prior stated that preliminary reports from team captains are encouraging and that he hoped to be able to announce, in another week, that Newton has once more proved its staunch and warmhearted friendliness for the "Army."

To Speak on Hoover Report

An authoritative presentation of the Hoover Commission report will be given by Col. Edward A. Sherman at the 211th session of the South Middlesex Conference of Unitarian churches Sunday afternoon and evening at the First Parish in Concord, Lexington road.

Colonel Sherman is executive director of the Massachusetts Committee for the Hoover report and will give an interpretation of the significance of the now famous report.

The conference will open at 4:30 with a devotional service led by Rev. Hugh W. Weston of Natick. Julian W. Ballou will give the welcome to Concord and Rev. John W. Booth of Belmont, Conference president, will reply. There will be a short business meeting followed by a panel discussion at 5 p.m. on "Our Churches and Their Improvement."

Panel topics and their respective leaders include "Our Churches and Religious Education," Rene Avigdor, Lexington; "Our Churches and Their Organization," Wendell Maher, Waltham; "Our Churches As the Record Sees Them," Grant Butler, acting director of the American Unitarian Association Church Extension Department. Mr. Booth will preside.

A buffet supper will be served at 6:45, followed by a devotional service at 7:45, led by Rev. John O. Fisher of the West Newton Church.

Colonel Sherman's talk on the Hoover Report will be at 7:55 o'clock.

Residents Protest Petition

Residents of the Nottingham and Irving streets area, at a meeting of the Planning Board and the Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee last week protested the petition of Samuel Averbuck, Jr., for changing the zoning of Commonwealth avenue near Irving street to permit the building of a meat market.

The land in question lies on the northerly side of Commonwealth avenue, east of Irving street, Ward 6, being Lot 18 of Section 61, Block 46. The petitioner asserted it was bought three years for a meat market and pointed out that there are stores on both sides of the vacant lot. His opponents, led by Stanley Gilman, 14 Nottingham street, and Carl M. Stiles, 73 Irving street, argued that the district is in a residential zone, and that traffic and health hazards would be increased.

Position of Supervisor To Be Filled

The position of supervisor of attendance in the Newton public schools will be filled through a Civil Service examination to be held Dec. 9, according to the State Civil Service Department.

Acting supervisor of attendance at present is Gerry Angino, formerly boys' counselor at the Day Junior High School, who assumed his position last January. The duties of the supervisor are to enforce the school attendance of Newton public school children, and aid in correcting the causes of irregular school attendance.

Installs Modern Instruments

Dr. Morton V. Ross, optometrist, who recently announced the opening of his office at 795 Washington street, Newtonville, has installed the most modern instruments available. The instruments facilitate an accurate and thorough eye examination with complete comfort to the patient.

Dr. Ross attended Pennsylvania State College of Optometry and was associated with their clinic in Philadelphia, before coming to Newtonville.

While serving in the Army, Dr. Ross obtained further experience in optometry at the Wakeman General Hospital Eye Clinic in Indiana.

550 Veterans File for Exemption

Five hundred and fifty Newton veterans have filed requests for the $200 exemption allowed them under law on their 1950 real estate taxes. John D. Wright, chairman of the Board of Assessors, announced. Last year there were approximately only 300 veterans' requests.

The number of applications for abatements from other residents filed this year was 125, compared with 200 last year. The deadline for filing applications for abatements was Oct. 1.

Most of the applications received from veterans, and several requests for abatements have been acted on, Mr. Wright said. The appeals of 20 Newton residents for abatements of their 1949 real estate taxes will be heard by the State Appellate Tax Board from Nov. 27 to Dec. 12 at 20 Somerset street, Boston. They include requests for abatements of real estate, business property, and personal property taxes.

Warn About Bogus Check Passer

Two bogus checks, from a book of 500 blank checks stolen in a break at the Sprague Welding Co., 19 New England avenue, Dorchester, were passed recently in Newton.

The first of the checks, for $48, was cashed in West Newton, and the other, for $42, was cashed by a Newton Corner store. Both checks were made payable to Raymond Roche and signed by "Dalton Sprague" or "Alexander Sprague." Capt. Daniel E. Crowley, head of the Police Inspectors Division, has warned Newton merchants to be on the lookout for a young man, whom police believe will attempt to pass other checks in the city. He is described as having brown hair and a light complexion; wearing a gray hat and dungarees; being 26 years old; 5 feet 9 inches tall; and weighing 140 pounds.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. William E. Bailey of 37 Hancock street, Auburndale, were guests at New Hampton School, New Hampton, N. H., where their son, Walter, helped them celebrate Parents' Week-end. Walter is a member of the senior class at New Hampton.

Miss Marilyn Sayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey B. Sayer, 20 Leslie road, Auburndale, has begun her first semester at the Northfield School for Girls, East Northfield, Mass. The school has an enrollment of over 500 and began its 72nd academic year this September.

Shannon, Higgins Stars In Newton 19-7 Victory

With the Medford Mustangs down on the Newton nine-yard line and threatening to overcome a 13-7 deficit, Newton's fleet halfback Bob Shannon threw a wrench into the works by snatching a Don Geary pass behind the Orange goal line and raced all the way for the local's third T.D. and a 19-7 victory over Medford last Saturday afternoon at Dickinson Stadium. It was Newton's third win of the season, after losing the last three encounters.

Shannon also scored the first Orange touchdown early in the initial period when he plucked a pass from quarterback John Higgins, and Higgins followed this feat up by rifling an aerial to Don Thompson in the second period which went for a tally. In all Higgins had a perfect day with four-for-four, two of them going for paydirt.

The Newton High eleven showed considerable poise and experience in the first half by grounding out yardage by land and air, resulting in two touchdowns. The first came with the Orange down on the Medford 44, and with one play to make good, Higgins flipped to Shannon on the 15-yard line and the fleet track star covered the remaining distance without opposition for an early 7-0 edge. Fred Dauten converted.

The Mustangs set up their second T.D. in the second quarter when Higgins ran a punt back to the Newton 42, then moved to the 47 on a five-yard penalty lodged against Medford for delaying the game. Principal ground gainers in this Newton march were Shannon, Dan Coffey, and Thompson who all contributed towards two first downs and moving the ball to the Medford 25.

After some preliminary ground tactics, which netted the locals five yards, Higgins pulled back and connected to Thompson in the end zone, giving Newton a healthy 13-0 margin.

Late in the second quarter the Mustangs made a bid toward retaliation, and tallied a six-point which climaxed a 75-yard march.

Rifeman Geary proved to be the key to Medford's attack, competing three out of six tosses in this drive. On the Newton 25, Geary pitched to Don Parks on the six-yard stripe, and after a line plunge by Parks, Hal Mabardy crashed over for the tally. Mabardy, a 210-pound fullback also booted the point.

On the Newton 42, after taking a punt in its own territory, Medford geared up to a forceful drive in the last period. Two successful passes by Geary netted 16 yards and moved the oval deep into the Newton defense positions on the 25. From there Mabardy reeled off 11 yards on a bruising run to the 14. Here the Mustangs were stalled until Geary elected to pass on the nine, and the tables were turned when Shannon reached up and hauled it down.

Our Lady's Romps, 47-6 For Its Sixth Straight

Coach Jim Sullivan's eleven of Our Lady's made it an easy sixth win of the season and their third in Catholic League Division 2 competition last Sunday afternoon by romping over a weak St. Columbkille's of Brighton, 47-6 at Allison Park. Big Don Murphy, the 180-pound fullback with the strength of ten while totting the leather, accounted for three touchdowns in a game which saw Our Lady's tally four times in the first 10 minutes.

Sullivan gave his second stringers a crack at the opposition after his varsity's showing and kept the scoring within reasonable bounds during the first half. Quarterback Bill Cronin was next in line for scoring honors with two touchdowns, one a pass interception, going 35 yards to paydirt.

On the initial tally, Our Lady's took just five plays to score. Instrumental in this drive was a pass from George Pettie to Cronin for a 25-yard gain, and a 19-yard sprint by the latter speedster. Then Pettie swept right end on a six-yard run and the first O.L. tally.

A recovery of a Columbkille fumble by the Sullivanmen set up the next T.D. Starting from the Saint's 21, Cronin went for 12 and Murphy covered the rest of the distance for the six-pointer. Then completely at the mercy of the Purple and Gold, the Saints got jittery again, and fumbled on their own 34. O.L. recovering, Roy MacLean pulled down a Pettie flip on the one-yard stripe, from where Mac bucked over.

Murphy tallied the fourth touchdown after taking a punt on his own 40 and raced down the left sideline to give Sullivan and Co. a 26-0 margin.

The visitors scored their lone touchdown late in the last period on a pass play of 17 yards with only two minutes remaining, to give them at least the satisfaction of scoring against the strong Sullivan machine.

Newton to Face Haverhill Sat.

Carrying an even record of three defeats and as many wins, the Newton High Tigers will embark for Haverhill this Saturday looking for their fourth victory. Victors last year over the Hillies, the Orange should have no trouble if they conduct themselves as they did against Medford last week.

Quarterback John Higgins, and backs Bob Shannon and Dan Coffey should supply the needed strength to give Coach Warren Huston's club the necessary drive. Higgins emerged as the likely candidate for the quarterbacking chores in the Mustang encounter and his passing may make the difference between victory and defeat.

Miss Hortense Lovejoy has returned to House in the Pines at Norton for her senior year. The school opened this week for its 40th year. She is the daughter of Mrs. George M. Lovejoy of 10 Estabrook road, West Newton.

The Story Of Douglas Christmas Seal Funds Aid His Rehabilitation

Last October, Douglas, at the age of 19, was a TB patient in Middlesex County Sanatorium. This year he is a student in a business school, and is getting ready for a good job in an office. Newton Christmas seal funds are helping him prepare for his career.

The story of Douglas (this is not his real name) was reported recently at a meeting of the board members of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association by Miss Alice G. Gallagher who is both executive secretary and rehabilitation worker of the Association.

Miss Gallagher told the group that Douglas, who was an only child, left school when he was sixteen to work in a factory. Someone working with him may have had active tuberculosis, — if so, that person was never found. But no one in Douglas' family had the disease. He must have picked up the germ from someone outside the family.

At any rate, after a series of colds that were hard to shake, Douglas went to his doctor, had a chest X-ray, and learned that he had tuberculosis. He spent a year and a half in Middlesex County Sanatorium.

Miss Gallagher's first work with Douglas began when he was halfway along in his treatment. She helped him to realize that he would need special training in order to get a satisfactory job that would not endanger his health. She gave him aptitude tests that showed his best fields for study and employment. While he was still "on bed rest" in the sanatorium, he started a correspondence course with her guidance and encouragement.

Douglas was well enough to go home last January, and Miss Gallagher visited him often, giving him help with his studies and preparing him for referral to the Massachusetts Division of Vocational Rehabilitation. Now, two years after his doctor diagnosed his tuberculosis, Douglas is at school. The Division is paying his tuition. Next June Miss Gallagher will help him to find a suitable job.

The Waban Woman's Club

The Waban Woman's Club will open the 1950-1951 season with a New Member's Day meeting Monday at 1:30 p.m. A reception and coffee will be held before the business meeting, at which Mrs. Jerome J. Shuman, the new president of the club, will preside.

Phil Saltman and Wright Briggs, duo-pianists will present a program of infinite variety and wide appeal. Mr. Saltman is the founder and director of the Phil Saltman School of Modern Music. Mr. Briggs is supervisor of the Department of Popular Music at the New England Conservatory of Music.

Newton U. Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will hold its Gentlemen's and Guest evening Monday, at 7:30 p.m. at the Emerson School Kindergarten. Mrs. Edward F. Roberts is Chairman of the program.

Dr. Charles W. Hewice of Northeastern University will speak on "Sturdy Convictions for Strenuous Living."

Refreshments will be served with Mrs. John Cady as hostess, and Miss Marie B. Sullivan and Miss A. Gertrude Osborne will be the pourers.

Antique Show In Boston Monday

The highlight of this season's annual Conley Plaza Antiques Show, which opens in Boston Monday, and continues through Nov. 9, is a rare collection of early photographs of Boston landmarks and an unusual group of rare volumes, loaned respectively by the Boston Athenaeum and the Boston Public Library. Margaret A. Ingraham, 275 Cypress street, Newton Centre, will show collection of early American glass; Rose Janse, 336 Dudley street, also Newton Centre, will display collection of pewter, silver and English bone china.

You Can Trust COOLIDGE

He will not waste your money

Coolidge Will Use Highway Money to Develop Highways

Coolidge will carry forward the Dever-delayed $200,000,000 Highway program, which as legislator, Senate President and Lieutenant Governor, Coolidge helped to plan, create and support. Coolidge will spend funds for competent personnel and materials. He will not squander money intended for motorists' benefits and urgent military needs, on costly political signs, leaf-raking loafers and swarms of election-year appointees now stuffing payrolls and holding up projects. Coolidge will give regular Public Works personnel and qualified contractors the opportunity, without political interference, to expand our highways properly. He will see that motorists get an honest dollar's value for every dollar spent on construction and maintenance.

Coolidge Will Really Serve the Public

Deserving applicants for aid or hospital treatment will not need the references of politicians before they can get help. Trained personnel—not pork barrel misfits—will care for the sick, the crippled children, the mentally afflicted, the helpless and the needy. Kindness will replace the sordidness of politics. Only proper prices will be paid for supplies and they will be used properly. Scientific treatments will be increased because devoted career men and women will be encouraged to do a fine job and not be so discouraged that they quit the state service in disgust, as now.

Coolidge Will Administer Housing Program in Behalf of Veterans

Under Coolidge, politics will have no part in the huge $200,000,000 Housing Program, which was originated, carefully planned and successfully launched while he was Lieutenant Governor. Coolidge will require that the program be fairly administered on behalf of veterans eligible for its benefits. He will remove the causes of complaints that interfere with completion of remaining projects.

Coolidge Will Run Port of Boston Authority to Bring in Shipping

Coolidge will see that the Commissioners fill the long-empty post of Director with a topnotch executive. Coolidge will get experts for Field Representatives and other key positions—replacing political hacks, who have no training, ability or interest, with skilled men who will try to increase exports and imports, thereby giving employment to factory workers, longshoremen, truck-drivers and others. Coolidge, by eliminating incompetence and political sabotage, will bend every effort to make self-supporting the Authority for which approximately 26 million dollars have been raised and authorized and which still operates at a two million dollar deficit. He will recommend corrective legislation whenever necessary.

Coolidge Will Protect Rights of Civil Service Workers

Coolidge will free faithful state employees from discrimination in pay that results when unfit political favorites draw big salaries without working. Coolidge will see that Civil Service laws, rules and regulations, including veterans rights, are carried out for the benefit of Civil Service employees. No longer will their hopes for deserved promotion be ruined by the appointment of outside political pets over their heads. Coolidge will end political interference which ruins morale, wrecks efficiency and robs the public of the type of service its money should provide.

Coolidge Will Have Competent, Representative Administration

As Governor, Coolidge will surround himself with able and devoted leaders, representatives of our population, who will have the vision, know-how and courage to clear away the wreckage of the last two years, end Dever Squandermania and remove the blight of political interference. They will give a sound, humane, progressive administration, free from arrogance, dictatorial domineering, brush-offs and personal selfishness.

Coolidge Tells the Truth—Coolidge Keeps His Promises

Dever promised to keep the MTA fare at ten cents. But after election he jumped it to 15 cents. Dever promised to cut the cost of government. Instead he doubled it and drained off workers' wages into taxes for wastes and extravagances. Dever is at his old deceptive game again. He is spending the biggest election campaign fund in history on expensive television, radio, billboards, advertising and other costly media in another attempt to fool the people into voting for him. He is deliberately taking sole credit for public improvements, which Coolidge and others helped plan and start. He is telling half-truths and making false charges. He is again promising the moon to every group and every section. Two Years Ago Dever Fooled MTA Riders and Others With His False Promises and Phony Claims. Massachusetts People Will Not Let Dever Fool Them Again This Year.

Headquarters, 1st Marine Corps Reserve District announces that it is planned to notify by the first of the year, practically all remaining volunteer Marine Corps Reserve officers who will be called to active duty by next June 30. Each officer notified is to be told, if possible, the month in which he can expect to report for extended active duty.

It is also announced that by November 30, all enlisted volunteer reserves below the rank of sergeant and all those above that rank who have been alerted under the present program will be mobilized. Certain staff non-commissioned officers of the volunteer reserve may be ordered up later to fill billets in critical fields.

Captains of the volunteer reserve will not be mobilized except for a few needed specialties. First lieutenants of the volunteer reserve having dates of initial appointment as second lieutenants on June 7, 1944 or earlier, and who have continuous service in the Marine Corps Reserve, will not be called, with the exception of a few needed specialties.

The reduction of officers to be called is a result of the larger than expected number of officers of the organized reserve who answered the initial call to duty. The Marine Corps said every effort was being made to give as much advance notice as possible to reservists yet to be called so they could plan their affairs accordingly.

Five Newton young men have received orders from the 1st Marine Corps Reserve District calling them to active duty. Reporting to Parris Island, S. C., will be Pvt. Donald J. Smith of 24 Lawn avenue, Newtonville, while reporting to Camp Lejeune, N. C., will be Pfc. Thomas F. Shannon Jr., of 5 Gardner street, Newton; Pfc. William R. Gauthier of 229 Hunnewell terrace, Newton; Cpl. Addison D. Raines, of 37 Underwood Park, West Newton, and Sgt. George R. Spence, of 43 Carleton street, Newton.

Robert B. Richardson, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Richardson, 665 Grove street, Newton Lower Falls, Mass., enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps for an indefinite period at the Marine Recruiting Station in the Federal Building, Boston, September 22 and was transferred to Parris Island, S. C., the Marine Corps' recruit training center. Private Richardson graduated from Rindge Technical High School, of Cambridge. While at Parris Island, Robert will receive ten weeks of basic training designed to equip him to care for himself in any situation. The basic training includes rifle marksmanship, close and extended order drills, infantry tactics, field sanitation and hygiene, military courtesy and customs of the Naval Service.

Pvt. Paul R. Postal, of 42 Thornton street, Newton, has received orders from the 1st Marine Corps Reserve District to report for active duty at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Cpl. Charles Tower, of 145 Auburndale avenue, West Newton, has received orders from the Headquarters of the 1st Marine Corps Reserve to report to Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Indoctrinated into the traditions and color of Naval life is Wallace Parker Simmons, seaman recruit, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Simmons of 191 Newtonville avenue, Newton, who received his first military instruction at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif., under the Navy's recruit training program.

Cpl. Robert A. Sutherland of 47 Oak avenue, West Newton, has been ordered to report to Parris Island, S. C., according to an announcement by the 1st Marine Corps Reserve District.

Dr. Carl K. Needy, a Naval reserve officer, arrived at the Medical Field Service School to be processed and oriented along with 600 others for duty with the Army. He is located at Brooke Army Medical Center at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Dr. Needy is the husband of Mrs. Carl K. Needy of 35 Langdon street, Newton, and is a 1949 graduate of the Harvard Medical School.

Dever Confident People Will Re-elect Him on His Record

Asserting that his record of achievement in office will stand like a rock against the hurricane of last minute innuendo, Gov. Dever yesterday said he was confident that the people of the State will return him to the office of Governor by an overwhelming vote.

"Many half-truths are uttered in the heat of a campaign," Gov. Dever said. "Sometimes statements are made which are even recklessly untrue."

"But in the final analysis, the voter will make an intelligent choice, comparing facts with falsehoods and measuring achievement against mere promises."

"I have tried to be a good Governor of all the people. And I am sure, that, rightly understood, there is no major accomplishment of my administration which will fail to meet with the approval of honest men of good will."

"As the son of a widowed mother of a large family, I have known from actual experience the problems which confront the working men and women of the state."

"It was therefore quite natural that the welfare of the working men and women of the Commonwealth should be a matter of paramount interest during my term of office."

"While I was only one of the millions who answered our country's call in the last war, I am proud to have been able to serve in the armed forces. Therefore, it was also natural that the needs of the veteran had a priority upon my heart."

"I had to struggle hard to obtain an education, and for that reason, I am deeply interested in our schools. And for this reason, I pledged myself to see to it that educational facilities were improved and brought up to date."

"I was always convinced that adequate highways were essential both to the life industry and to the tourist business which has grown to be a multi-million dollar enterprise in our state. And so, it was not a matter of wonder that I made the building of better highways one of the main objects of my administration."

"I grew up at a time when bigotry and prejudice were not unknown in our Commonwealth. I saw many worthy young men and women barred from opportunities both in education and in business life. It was therefore not unnatural that I should make every effort to wipe out, as far as possible, the un-American barriers set up against our fellow citizens because of their race, creed or color."

"As this campaign draws to a close, I should like to briefly sum up a few of the good things I have done. Let us first look at what we accomplished in the field of labor:

"We raised the minimum wage for the lowest paid workers in the state to 65 cents an hour."

"We provided for a $360 salary increase, long overdue, for all the state employees."

"We amended the anti-Labor Barnes law."

"We enacted an anti-injunction law."

"We liberalized the Workmen's Compensation Law, increasing the maximum weekly benefit from $25 to $30; doubled the compensation for the loss of an arm, and tripled the compensation for the loss of both eyes."

"We liberalized, too, the employment security laws, providing that a $2 allowance for dependency would no longer be charged against the total amount a worker would otherwise be entitled to. We secured other benefits making many workers eligible for greater benefits than they had been receiving formerly."

"There was other legislation benefitting Labor which is known to all those who work with their hands."

"While there seems to be some doubt on the part of my opponent on the question of who supplied housing for veterans, I merely submit that when I took office on January 1, 1949 there was not a solitary apartment anywhere in the state built under the state housing plan."

"Now, 22 months later, there are more than 13,000 units, most of them occupied and the rest will be ready for occupancy before the first of the year. Veterans had no housing before I took office. Now 50,000 veterans and their families have a decent place to live."

"It was because I took positive action after two years of inaction under a Republican administration in which my opponent was second in command, that we erected a 300-bed addition to the Chelsea Soldiers Home hospital."

"It was because I would not any longer tolerate delay that we have a modern hospital in Holyoke which serves the veterans in the western part of our state."

"It was at my insistence that the paraplegics were given a state pension, something my opponent thought was too generous to give men who lost the use of their limbs in fighting for our country."

"It was also at my insistence that the widows and mothers of men who died of battle wounds were given civil service preference, which was another measure which was rejected by my predecessor and my opponent in the previous administration."

"We have sought to improve the lot of every veteran, man and woman, to pay them a little of our great debt of gratitude."

"It has been a well-known fact that for years in Massachusetts, our schools needed help. Better schools and higher salaries for teachers was of prime importance. At my suggestion, the legislature passed measures which extended state aid in building schools, and we are well on the way to establishing the kind of school system for which Massachusetts was once the boast of the nation."

"Everywhere in the state, people are beginning to see the realization of a highway program talked about for years but never started. The very fact that my opponent has seen fit to ridicule signs telling drivers why they can't use a certain road under repair, or telling them about new roads being built, is evidence that the highway program is attracting attention."

"Ridicule never built a foot of highway, and I can take it as a tribute that my opponent finds signs of highway improvement everywhere he travels. Indeed, he ought to thank me for making it possible for him to tour the state on good roads in safety and in comfort."

Talk on Excise Tax

Gerald I. Glunts, of 58 Pine Crest road, Newton Centre, addressed the first session of the Tax Forum of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants held at the Hotel Statler on Tuesday, October 17, 1950, according to an announcement by Ernest H. Griswold, Chairman of the Committee on Taxation for the Society. His subject was, "The Massachusetts Excise Tax."

Mr. Glunts is a graduate of Brown University and is a Certified Public Accountant of Massachusetts.

He has been appointed Chairman of the Membership Committee for the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants.

In addition to his activity in the Massachusetts Society, Mr. Glunts is also a member of the American Institute of Accountants and the Federal Tax Round Table.

CITY OF NEWTON
Public Buildings Department

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed proposals for the construction of an addition to the Main Library, 414 Centre Street, Newton, Massachusetts, will be received by the Public Buildings Commissioner, City Hall, Newton Center 59, Massachusetts, until 2 o'clock p. m., Tuesday, November 21, 1950, and at that place and time publicly opened and read aloud. All branches of the work will be included in the general contract.

All proposals shall be in duplicate on forms furnished by said Commissioner. One of these copies (the original) is to be submitted to the Public Buildings Commissioner, accompanied by a certified check on a national bank or trust company in the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the proposal. The other copy of the proposal (without check) shall be submitted by the bidder to the Comptroller of Accounts, at Newton City Hall, 1000 Commonwealth Avenue, Newton Centre 59, Massachusetts, prior to the time set for the opening of bids (as required by the Ordinances of the City of Newton, Chapter 2, Section 22).

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the Architects, Appleton & Stearns, 53 State Street, Boston, beginning at 2 p. m., Friday, November 3, 1950, on the deposit of $30.00 in cash or certified check payable to the City of Newton. The deposit will be refunded on return of the plans and the specifications in good condition, title to all plans and specifications remaining in the City at all times.

A surety company bond by a company satisfactory to the Mayor of the City of Newton, and in an amount equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price will be required from the successful bidder. The surety bond will be required from the general contractor only and will cover the work of his sub-contractors.

Attention is called to the fact that minimum wage rates are established for the work and are as set forth in the contract documents, in accordance with the requirements of Chapter 461 Mass. Acts of 1935.

The Public Buildings Commissioner reserves the right to accept or to reject any proposal, and to award the contract as he may deem to be for the best interests of the City of Newton, and any contract made will be made subject to appropriations and grants to meet payments thereunder.

14 Newton Men Are Inducted

Fourteen Newton men, among the second group of Selective Service inductees to leave the Newton-Waltham area, heard a farewell address by Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, and Mayor Cousins of Waltham at the Waltham City Hall, last Friday.

Duffel bags containing toilet articles, stationery, and reading matter were presented to each of the group. The bags were sewn by the Power Stitching class at the Whittemore School, Waltham, and the materials for the bags were procured by Frank Burke, dean of Waltham's labor leaders, who headed the "Duffie Bag" committee during World War II. Newton has planned a paper drive for Nov. 19 to furnish funds for filling subsequent bags for servicemen.

Master of Ceremonies was William J. Mahoney, chairman of the United Veterans Organization of Newton. Those who participated in the program included the Legion post from Newton, the Newton VFW, and the U. V. O. in Newton.

The Newton men who were inducted were: Peter S. Guzzi, 68 Auburndale avenue, West Newton; Charles A. McCarron, Jr., 102 College road, Chestnut Hill; John M. Nahigian, 20 Pleasant street, West Newton; Richard L. Miller, 161 Forest avenue, West Newton; Michael J. DeFilippo, 92 John street, Newton Centre; Robert P. Robart, 9 Surrey road, Newton; Michael P. Saltonstall, Lodge, Bradford All Take Stump for Coolidge Republican U. S. Senators Leverett Saltonstall and Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., and GOP Ex-Governor Robert F. Bradford head line the many GOP leaders who will be heard on the radio, between now and election day, stumping for Arthur W. Coolidge, Republican nominee for Governor.

Starting the week off are Rep. G. Leo Bessette of New Bedford and Richard L. Buckley, co-chairman of the "Coolidge Commandos" and a former vice commander of the Massachusetts Department of the American Legion.

Both Bessette and Buckley spoke last night (Monday, Oct. 30)—Bessette over Lawrence radio station WLAW and Buckley over the Yankee Network, WNAC.

Senator Saltonstall took to the air again for Coolidge Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in a 15-minute broadcast out of Springfield over the American Broadcasting Co. network.

Senator Lodge will appear before the microphone on behalf of Coolidge at 6:40 tonight (Thursday) over Worcester radio station WTAG.

Former Governor Bradford, titular head of the GOP in Massachusetts, will also broadcast for Coolidge tonight over station WBZ-WBZA.

Appeal to Veterans

A direct appeal to war veterans to join the "Coolidge Commandos" in support of Arthur W. Coolidge's election as governor was made today by Richard L. Buckley of Salem, co-chief of this veteran's unit working for Coolidge.

Buckley's appeal followed on the heels of a radio address delivered last night over a Boston radio station citing Coolidge's record on veterans' legislation when the Republican gubernatorial candidate was President of the Senate. At the same time, Buckley, former vice commander of the Massachusetts Department, American Legion, rapped Governor Dever for "giving veterans the run-around with a lot of phony promises."

Buckley gave a specific instance of this involving paroled veterans who during his 1948 campaign were promised jobs that can perform by Dever in exchange for their support of his candidacy. "They are paraplegics," Buckley charged, "the helpless victims of war, who have told us quietly and almost with resignation, that they cannot understand what Governor Dever meant when he assured them during his last campaign that he would never forget the debt that was owed them. These gallant men must live on hope. How cruel to have that hope betrayed."

Buckley charged further that veterans are puzzled by the Dever administration in which "political preference has taken the place of veteran preference on state jobs."

He declared, "The aspiring veteran seeking a career in civil service who finds that his rights have been flouted will not believe Dever's claims of friendship for the veteran. He cannot understand how friends of the administration, who lack veterans' preference and take no civil service examination, can hold a long series of provisional appointments."

Coolidge Speaks at Greenfield

Coolidge charged Friday in a fighting speech delivered before some 600 voters in Greenfield's Washington Hall, that "Gov. Dever broke his false austerity promise early in January and has been utterly reckless with public funds."

The former lieutenant governor and GOP standard bearer charged further that despite universal public demands for economy last summer, "our money-crazed governor ship-lashed the Legislature into the greatest orgy of spending ever seen in the entire history of New England."

"If he wins on that formula," Coolidge continued, "Dever will think he has a public mandate to go back to the State House and outspend these last two years of Squandermania."

"The plain ordinary people of this Commonwealth," Coolidge said, "know that their wages cannot stand two more years of Dever. The common people of Massachusetts started the Revolutionary War against the English because they were being soaked unfairly in taxes. And a second people's revolt against being taxed for improper expenditures is now sweeping the Commonwealth."

"This state-wide revolt by the hard-hit people means that Arthur Coolidge, who once before defeated Dever, is going to give Dever the worst beating of his life," Coolidge predicted.

Coolidge continued: "Coolidge thrift means spending wisely for necessary services. Dever spendthrift means squandering people's money on wastes."

"I have just finished a swing from the Cape to the Worcester area. In every city I find independents and Democrats completely fed up with Dever's promise-breaking and Dever's extravaganzas for which everyone—except the politicians—is paying."

Named to U. S. Naval Academy

Richard W. Ellis of 98 Homer street, Newton Center, has been named by Congressman Christian A. Herter as his principal appointment to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

The selection was made on the basis of a competitive examination in which all interested young men participated, and Ellis topped the list. He is now scheduled to be a member of the next entering class at the Academy if he accepts the appointment.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
MIDDLESEX COUNTY PROBATE COURT
 To all persons interested in the estate of Caroline Leone late of Newton in said County of Middlesex, deceased.

A petition has been presented to said Court by Mary M. Leone, special administrator of said estate, representing that by virtue of a license of said Court she has been authorized to convey to Donato Pellegrini and Angelina Pellegrini, for the sum of twenty thousand dollars, certain real estate situated in Newton in said County of Middlesex, being Lots 70, 71 and 72 as shown in the Plan of said County of Middlesex, Massachusetts, by E. T. Westcott, dated September 19, 1949, recorded with Middlesex District Deeds, Plan Book 175, Plan 6; that by error the petition for said license so filed, omitted the words "private sale" so that the same read "to sell at public auction" and that the license of said Court authorized a sale at private sale for the sum of ninety-five hundred dollars or a larger sum, and praying that the act of said special administrator, as aforesaid, be ratified and confirmed, and that he be authorized to execute any and all instruments necessary or proper to conform to the said ratification.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Cambridge before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the eighth day of November 1950, the return day of this citation, and on or before the first day of October in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifty-one, the return day of this citation, First Judge of said Court, this thirtieth day of October in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifty.

Exclusive rapid road service for GMC owners—call Western Union Operator 25 for name of nearest GMC approved service

SURE SIGN of a SMART TRUCKER!

WHEN you see this gleaming GMC emblem on a rugged new truck, you know its owner is sitting pretty for years to come. For GMC's have a time-established reputation for long service with low maintenance cost—and with minimum down time for repairs.

That's because every GMC is a real truck—truck-built by the world's largest exclusive manufacturers of commercial vehicles. Every unit of every GMC, from grille to tail gate, is engineered for trucking service!

To find quick proof of this, just compare a GMC with any other truck before you buy. Compare engine, frame, transmission; compare cab, axles, and springs—see how much extra value you get.

Or count how many new GMC's you see on the road—far more today than ever before. Then see your GMC dealer and let him give you the inside story that explains why so many cost-wise operators are switching to GMC's because experience proves them best in the long haul!

Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 p.m. the public is invited to attend an Exhibition and Photo-Contest in the Memorial School Building at Oak Hill Park. Three prizes will be awarded in the Photo-Contest which is limited to residents of Oak Hill Park only. First Prize: $5.00; Second Prize: $3.00; and Third Prize: $2.00—all in photographic merchandise to be chosen by the winner from Atwood's Camera Shop, Newton Centre. The subject matter for the Contest must be Oak Hill Park, particularly in these three classes: 1. Human Interest Photos; 2. Before and After Photos; and 3. Aerial Photos. The panel of judges: Louis Fabian Bachrach, President of Bachrach—well-known portrait photographer; Ted Smith, Treasurer of Creative Photographers Inc.—outstanding commercial photographer; and Jack Bogart, Advertising and Sales Promotion Manager of Phillips Publishers Inc.—member of the Art Directors Club of Boston. In the Library Room will be items of historical interest and material collected in connection with the Dedication exercises last May 21. The Committee in charge of the Exhibition and Photo-Contest: Franklin N. Flaschner, Richard W. Grimm, J. Bruce Spillman, Francis A. Tanner, and Edward M. Hallett, Jr., Chairman.

Special Exhibition Display

A special exhibit of historical dioramas will be on display at the Jackson Homestead, 527 Washington street, Newton, the house which was recently given to the City of Newton, at the visiting hours which are from 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturdays during the month of November. The models, fourteen in all, are three-dimensional scenes depicting the life and action in the formative days of thirteen neighboring villages. The one of Newton's colonial life shows John Elliot preaching to the Indians on Nonantum Hill in October, 1646. This exhibit is shown through the courtesy of Filene's. Guides will be present to show the restoration which is being done by the City on this historic house. You will see items of interest connected with the 1670 Homestead, which was located where the present shed was built in 1809. Two features are the original front door of the 1670

Make Friends With Books

Library to Join Nationwide Observance of Book Week From Nov. 13-18

From November 13 through November 18, the Newton Free Library will join in the nationwide observance of Book Week. For over a quarter of a century book-sellers, teachers, and librarians have set aside one week in November of each year to call attention to books for children and young people. The need for books has never been greater than in this age of radio and television. Although boys and girls learn much through visual aids, they still need the ability to read easily if they are to become intelligent citizens. To carry out the theme of Book Week: Make Friends with Books, the Newton Free Library will display some of the best in children's books with both old and new at all the branch libraries. The main Book Week Exhibit will be held in the Sloan Memorial study at the Boys' and Girls' Library on 126 Vernon street, Newton Corner. This library is one of the few libraries for children in the United States that is located in a separate building. It is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m., and on Saturday from 12 noon and from 1 to 6 p.m. There you will find display books on almost any subject a child might ask for: picture books and fairy tales for the very young; science, history, biography, humor, and "how to do it" books for those a little older; and finally adventure, romance, mystery, and tales of daring for older young people. Book Week is the best opportunity for parents to see and examine books so that they may know what books to buy for the home library. Book lists will be available for parents, teachers, and boys and girls at

To Hold Benefit For Victims of Newton Accident

The fourth of a series of benefit shows, sponsored by Newton residents to aid less fortunate neighbors will be held to night at St. John's School, Newton. Newton Lodge, Sons of Italy, of the United Italian Organizations of Newton, will act as host for the performance, with Guido Cetrone as general chairman.

Proceeds of this show will be given to a local family that was seriously hurt in an automobile accident recently. An outstanding array of local and greater New England talent has been selected for this show which promises to equal the excellent entertainment of past shows sponsored by this civic-minded group. Among those performing will be Marsha Dugan of Waltham, specialty dancer; Johnny McGuinness, "Pride of the Newton Police Force"; Ellen Marie Magne, dancer; Carmen Collela, accordion stylist; Ratto Trio, comprised of three local merchants; Texas Yodeling Willie; John Desimone, singer; Barbara Norcross and Arlene Babbins, song stylists; Mrs. Ciampa and children, specialty routine; Sam Fried, clog dancer. Music will be by Don Dudley's orchestra. Master of ceremonies, Joe Tun Champagne, assisted by guest artist Jimmy White of Boston.

Brown Official to Visit High School This Afternoon

Frederick M. Diehl, administrative assistant in the admission office at Brown University, will be in Newton today (Thursday) as part of a three weeks tour of secondary schools in New England. This afternoon at 2 o'clock he plans to visit the high school where he will confer with Dr. C. E. Drake, acting principal and Miss Helen Finnerty, of the department of student personnel. He also plans to interview students about their future college plans.

UVO Waste Paper Collection To Be Held Sunday, Nov. 19

Sunday, November 19, beginning at noon, the United Veterans' Organizations will conduct a city wide paper collection, according to William J. Maloney, chairman of the UVO. The proceeds of this collection will be used to purchase gifts, to be presented to all Newton boys on the day of their induction into the Armed Forces. Maloney states that this practice of presenting these gifts was carried out all through World War II and having been revived during the present emergency, the UVO was delegated the agency to raise the necessary funds and present the gifts in the name of the Citizens of Newton.

Up to now, three groups of Newton boys have been inducted and each month in the future, until the present emergency is exhausted, one group will leave each month. As each boy leaves, he is presented a gift, usually an assortment of toilet necessities, cigarettes, reading matter, etc., and these help him tremendously until he is settled into military life.

Peirce School PTA To Sponsor Series of Teas

The Peirce School P.T.A. is again sponsoring a series of teas to introduce the teachers and mothers, with the home room mothers and their assistants acting as hostesses. Mrs. Paul Shipman and Mrs. Bernard Eames entertained at the most recent tea when the third grade teacher, Mrs. Mary Louise Tucker, was the guest of honor.

On Wednesday, Nov. 15, Mrs. Cecil Gordon will open her home for the sixth grade tea for Miss Ruth O'Donnell and mothers of the sixth grade children. Mrs. Ernest Seyfarth will be the assistant hostess. Mr. and Mrs. James MacLachlan entertained the officers and members of the Board of the Peirce School P.T.A., and their husbands and wives, the school principal and the teachers and their husbands at a buffet supper preceding the first P.T.A. meeting on Wednesday, November 8. Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Dangel, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rust, Mrs. Eleanor Muth, Dr. and Mrs. Chester M. Alter, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Whiteley, Miss Ann L. Caldwell, Miss Ruth J. O'Donnell, Miss Elizabeth Roper, Mr. Millard Harmon, Mrs. Edna Erret, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Work, Miss Florence Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnrow, Miss Marjorie E. Berry, and Superintendent of Schools Harold B. Gores and Mrs. Gores.

Miss Ruth Brooks Gives Talk to Student Nurses

"How can Christmas Seal funds be used to help protect student nurses from tuberculosis?" was the question discussed by twenty-four student nurses at a class meeting last week at Newton-Wellesley Hospital, planned by Miss Elizabeth Porter.

Guest speaker Miss Ruth N. Brooks, health educator of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, showed the class a color filmstrip about chest X-raying called "It's Up To You," and listed several ways in which Christmas seal money is already helping to solve the problem of tuberculosis among nurses. Present methods which they mentioned were: education of the public, chest X-rays, and research in "B.C.G.," an immunizing agent.

A most important project for the future, they felt, would be helping to provide chest X-rays for hospital patients. They said that to avoid the danger of exposing nurses to unrecognized these help him tremendously until he is settled into military life. The committee aiding the chairman for this collection consists of Robert Tennant, John Martin, Robert Wombolt, Edward Dugan and Patrick Finelli. Any Newton citizen wishing to help out in the collection may report to one of the committee on November 19 at 11:45 a. m., at either of two locations, Washington street at Adams street and Walnut street at City Hall. Newton's city trucks and many Newton firms' trucks will be out with city employees volunteering their services and members of Newton's veteran organizations as crews will also be out.

The UVO, according to Maloney, believes that we, as Newton citizens, should show these boys, as they are leaving their loved ones for service in the Armed Forces, that what they are doing to preserve our democracy is appreciated and will never be forgotten.

Says Package Stores Make Home Saloon

"Package stores make the home a saloon," stated Mrs. Isaac Goddard, candidate for Congress on the Prohibition ticket in a talk before the Newton Women's Christian Temperance Union in the Newton Centre Baptist Parish house last Thursday afternoon.

Quoting Mark Shaw, Prohibition candidate for governor of Massachusetts she said: "What man would continue in a business where he spends eight dollars to earn one dollar? That is what Massachusetts is doing in allowing the liquor business to continue. Massachusetts received in one year $13,139,687

Dr. V. E. Foster Now Editor of Religious Journal

Dr. Virgil E. Foster, formerly associate minister of the Second Church of Newton, has resigned from his position as director of Religious Education and Young People's Work in Iowa to become the editor of the International Journal of Religious Education, published by the International Council of Religious Education. Dr. and Mrs. Virgil Foster went to Grinnell, Iowa in February of 1946, when Mr. Foster took up his work with the Congregational Christian Conference.

Girl Scout Organization Has Resources to Help Children

The National Civil Defense program places great stress on services such as Girl Scouts can render in providing children with as normal a life as possible, it was reported today to the Newton Local Council Girl Scouts, Inc., by Mrs. Earl B. Bourne on her return from a conference of New England Girl Scout Leaders held at Swampscott October 9-11. "The Girl Scout organization with its 39 years of experience in working with girls, has enormous resources for helping children weather these unsettled times," Mrs. James D. McCallum said. "The varied program, the emphasis on physical fitness and resourcefulness, the practical experience in using democratic methods, all add up to basic civil defense work. In addition, we know that its influence is far reaching. Democracy is the hope of the world and the youngsters of today will be the ones to fulfill that hope." Mrs. James McCallum, Hanover, New Hampshire, was appointed Regional Chairman at the Closing Session. According to Mrs. Bourne, con-

Observance to Take Several Different Forms

National Loyalty Day will be observed in many Newton Churches Sunday, at the suggestion of the national United Church Canvass Committee which has announced from its headquarters in New York that nearly one fourth million churches throughout the nation will participate in special services on that day. Loyalty Sunday marks the beginning of the United Canvass on a city-wide basis in Newton and attractive posters bearing the slogan of the 1951 Drive have already begun to make their appearance in shops and various community centers are boldly proclaiming, "This year we are pledging more, so our church can do more." The observance will take different forms in various churches participating in the Newton Council sponsored Canvass.

At the First Church Congregational, Newton Centre, parishioners have been invited to attend one morning service to hear the Pastor, M. Russell Boynton preach upon, "For the Honor of the Church." Pledge letters will be mailed following this service and the members will be asked to pledge on Sunday, November 19.

At the Newton Highlands Church (Congregational) Frederick Groetsma, Pastor, will announce the annual Canvass dinner on Tuesday November 14 in the Church Vestry which will be addressed by Dr. David McKelthie. It is expected that 120 men of the parish will be present. The family service November 19 will mark the beginning of Loyalty week and there will be an every member visitation to explain the

Dr. Edward Landy, Director of Counseling in Newton, will head a panel discussion sponsored by the Newton Centre School Association Thursday, November 16 at 8 p.m. in the Mason School Auditorium.

Dr. Edward Landy's panel consists of Dr. Thaddeus Krush, psychiatrist for Newton Public Schools and children's psychiatrist Metropolitan State Hospital, Waltham, two teachers from the Mason School, Miss Anne Fahey and Mr. Harry Anderson and two parents, Mrs. Paul Milner and Dr. Albert Gordon.

The topic of discussion will be "Discipline of Today's Children." A general question period will follow the discussion. Refreshments will be served and guests are welcome.

Youngster, Age 3, Gives Mother an Anxious Hour

The idea of a 3-year-old Newton boy that he was old enough to take a bath without his mother's help, gave him and police a hectic hour Monday when he locked himself in the bathroom.

Little Stephen Kaplan was having a swell time, he told his mother, Mrs. Frank Kaplan, 103 Larchmont avenue, sailing soap cakes and running the water, until he tried to come out. Then he discovered he couldn't twist the little snap to unlock the door.

Mrs. Kaplan called the police and patrolmen Daniel P. Calnan and Eugene C. Paolletti arrived. While talking to the youngster to keep him from becoming panicky, Calnan got the doorknob off and then told the boy to use a towel for a "twister" to unsnap the lock. In the meantime Mrs. Kaplan called the fire department and firemen arrived in time to see the little fellow emerge with eyes full of wonder for all the excitement he had caused.

President Mowrey To Be First of Three Speakers

The Newton Teachers Federation announces that it has secured as guest speakers three officers of the National Education Association. Miss Cora Mowrey, President of the N.E.A., will speak at an afternoon meeting Nov. 21, at 3 p.m. This is the third consecutive year that the Newton Teachers Federation has been honored by having the President of the N.E.A. as its guests. Her native state is West Virginia, where she has been active in elementary and secondary education over a period of years. She has worked closely with the legislature of that state to secure the passage of laws beneficial to the schools.

Dr. Ralph McDonald, Secretary of the N.E.A. National Commission on Educational and Professional Standards and Executive Secretary of the N.E.A. Department of Higher Education, will speak on December 14 at 8 o'clock in the evening. He is well qualified to discuss the obligations of a community to its schools and what a community may rightfully expect of its schools.

Miss Mary Titus, Legislative Assistant for Local Education Associations of the N.E.A. Commission on Legislation and Federal Relations, will speak at 8 o'clock on the evening of January 10.

To Enlarge Industrial Developm't

With a valuation now of between three and four million dollars, the Newton Industrial Development on Needham street, Upper Falls, will be further increased by the addition of two warehouses to cost a half million dollars and which will be occupied by national concerns.

It has been announced that General Motors will occupy one building with its New England Regional warehouse and office, employing about 75 persons, and the other by the American Thread Company, which will use it for its New England sales office, employing about 100 persons.

Help Needed All Branches of Red Cross Have Need for Volunteers

Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr. of Waban, Volunteer Service Chairman of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, will preside at a meeting of the chairmen, vice-chairmen and unit chairmen of all Volunteer Services at the Chapter House, 21 Foster street, Newtonville, next Wednesday. Ways and means of recruiting and training the personnel necessary to carry out the commitments the Red Cross has made to the national defense program will be discussed.

General Marshall has strongly urged increased Red Cross Services for the armed forces, for the Home Services program, and for civil defense. "Volunteers," he states, "will play the most important roles in these vast programs."

Mrs. P. Edward Eden, of Newton Centre and Mrs. D. Morley Lodge of Chestnut Hill, are Vice-Chairmen of Volunteer Services. On the general committee are Mrs. Charles Jones, West Newton, Survey; Mrs. William F. King, West Newton, Training Consultant, and Mrs. John S. Clapp, Waban, Recognition.

Mrs. Edson A. Forbes of West Newton and Mrs. William Miller of Newton will report the urgent and immediate need for volunteers to help with the Arts and Skills program at Cushing Hospital. They are eager to hear from anyone with talent in metal craft, leather work or simple painting. On the spot training will be given at Cushing under the direction of the Occupational Therapy Staff. If you can help, call either Mrs. Forbes, LAsell 7-8500, or Mrs. Miller, Bigelow 4-8014. Other chairmen who will review their branches of service

Flat Rate, Lottery and Old Age Referendums Decisively Defeated Here

Republican Candidates Are Given Large Pluralities; Senator Lee Wins Re-election and High Vote

(Tabulation of Votes on Page 12)

Ideal weather and an aroused electorate brought out a vote in Newton Tuesday of 35,941 out of a total registration of 43,381. Thus, 83 percent of those eligible to vote in the election went to the polls here.

As was anticipated, the Republican candidates for Representatives had little trouble winning their election. In the 4th district, Christian A. Herter Jr., and George E. Rawson won handily over their Democratic opponents, Harry L. Lynch and James E. Murphy. In the 5th district, Howard Whitmore Jr. and Irene K. Thresher, the Republican candidates, likewise won handily over their Democratic opponents, Charles R. Hodgdon and Edmund F. Kneeland.

Senator Richard H. Lee won re-election in his contest with Frederic J. Muldoon in the Middlesex-Suffolk District by a plurality of 10,665 votes. Muldoon, the Democratic candidate carried Ward 22, Brighton by a vote of 10,546 to 3,173 for Lee, while Lee carried Newton with a total vote of 24,973 to 9,714 for Muldoon, and also carried the ward in Cambridge by a vote of 2,409 to 1,430 for Muldoon.

On the Referendum questions on the ballot, Newton voted in favor of Governors term; the Referendum question; Rent Control and all forms of liquor sales. The voters here cast a No majority for Old Age Assistance, the State Lottery, Flat Rate Automobile Insurance, and Horse and Dog Racing.

Dr. Shields Warren Keynote Speaker At Luncheon

Dr. Shields Warren of Newton, pathologist on the staff of the New England Baptist Hospital, was the keynote speaker at the Hospital's third annual Laymen's luncheon, held Monday at the Tremont Temple Baptist church in Boston. Dr. Warren witnessed "Operation Berkin" and is an authority on atomic energy. Preceding the luncheon, Dr. Frank N. Allen of Newton, of the Baptist Hospital staff, spoke to the Boston Minister's Assn., in a joint seminar on religion and health. About 200 clergy and members of the laity attended the meeting.

Memorial Mass to Be Held Sat.

A Solemn High Memorial Mass for deceased members of the Our Lady's Holy Name Society will be held at 9:00 a.m., Saturday, in Our Lady Help of Christians Church, Newton with the Rev. Francis X. Bransfield as Celebrant. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Philip Kearney, Assistant Director of the Boston Catholic Charitable Bureau and former Chaplain in the United States Air Force. Assisting Father Bransfield will be the Rev. John H. Quinlan as Deacon and the Rev. Charles Pisica as Sub-Deacon.

Tot, Nearly 2, Drowns in Fish Pool

Although a valiant attempt was made by a physician's wife who applied artificial respiration, and by police and firemen who worked with a resuscitator, a Newton Centre youth was drowned in a fish pond at the rear of 110 Cedar street, Newton Centre, Monday morning. The tot, Robert Myrman, nearly 2 years old, was pulled out of the pond by Mrs. Melvin F. White of 121 Cedar street, whose children told her that a child was "swimming" in the pool. Mrs. White summoned the police and firemen and applied artificial respiration until Ladder 1 arrived with a resuscitator. Firemen worked for an hour under the direction of Assistant Chief Henry L. Murphy until the child was pronounced dead by Dr. T. Horton Gallagher, medical examiner. The water in the pond is about 30 inches deep.

BRISTOL BRINGS YOU ITS MOST EXCITING UNDERCOVER STORY!

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT

- (1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special tufting.
- (2) We don't just glue loose frames—we take out old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.
- (3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
- (4) The seating isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made—that means it's stronger.
- (5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-sewn.
- (6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.
- (7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.
- (8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
- (9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor made suit.
- (10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

Annual Harvest Bazaar to Be Held at First Church Wedn'day

The First Church in Newton, at the corner of Centre and Homer Streets, Newton Centre, will have its annual Harvest Bazaar next Wednesday, from 4:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. The ladies in charge are Mrs. Carter, H. Hoyt, Mrs. John M. Nichols, Jr., Mrs. Oscar G. Wheeler, and Mrs. Julian D. Anthony. The decorations are done by Mrs. Warren Ordway, Mrs. Joe K. Billingsley, Mrs. Chester L. Churchill, and Mrs. Heman J. Pettengill.

Mrs. George W. Paulmer, 3rd, is the feature attraction with her "Sketching." During the morning, coffee will be served by Mrs. Norman H. Tracy and Mrs. Lester A. Moriarty. The luncheon at noon is to be a buffet in charge of Mrs. Clarence T. Heath, Mrs. Ross L. Trenholm, Mrs. Weston T. Budington, and Mrs. William K. Meahl.

A parade of old-fashioned costumes will go on while afternoon tea is being served. These dresses range from the sentimental '60's through the roaring '20's and should be most interesting and amusing. Mrs. John H. Nichols, Jr., Mrs. S. Anderson, Mrs. M. Russell Boynton, Mrs. Abbott Spear, and Mrs. Carl B. Bohlin are responsible for this collection.

Mrs. Milton Grayson has arranged an entertainment for the children at 4:00, and the High School group will sell ice cream. A home-cooked turkey dinner at 6:30 will close the day. Mrs. Donald B. Wheeler, Mrs. Frederick H. Knight, Mrs. Kristian A. Juthe, and Mrs. Herbert G. Farnum have planned the menu and supervised the kitchen. Rice Circle will clean up after the dinner.

The tables are in the hands of the following ladies: Mrs. Ernest H. Wilkins, Mrs. Walter N. Howe, Mrs. Edwin B. Goodall, Mrs. W. Lawrence Wilson, Mrs. Jesse G. Willis, Mrs. Ashley Q. Robinson, Mrs. Carl M. Stiles, Mrs. James A. Noon, Mrs. Harvey W. Strong, Mrs. Albert E. Bentley, Mrs. George W. McCreery, Mrs. Henry C. Marble, Mrs. E. Farnum Rockwood, Mrs. Laurence M. Curtis, Mrs. Joe K. Billingsley, Mrs. Richard S. Willis, Mrs. John A. Timm, and Mrs. Eric A. Bianchi.

Coffee Hour, Tour, Talk to Feature Open House at Junior College Sunday

The faculty of Newton Junior College holds Open House for students and their parents Sunday, November 12, from 2:00 to 4:00. Dr. Herbert J. Gezork, President of the Andover Newton Theological School, is to speak informally at four o'clock in the Junior College Library.

Coffee is to be served in the Junior College Social Rooms from 2:30 to 4 by members of the High School pre-Chief and Personality classes, so that all Junior College students and faculty may entertain the parents and other visitors. Students will take their parents on tours through the Junior College and introduce them to the faculty members and their wives.

Mrs. Harry L. Walen and Mrs. Kenneth P. White will pour for the first hour; and Miss Janice Abbott and Miss Muriel B. Smith for the second.

The Open House affords opportunity for parents to meet the faculty and the student body early in the year, and to inspect the Junior College facilities. Coming at the end of the American Education Week observances of the Newton Public Schools, the Junior College Open House is an appropriate Educational Week wind-up for one of the few public school systems in this part of the United States which includes the thirteenth and fourteenth years of education in its program.

Newton Junior College announces the election of members and officers of the Student Council for 1950-1951. Chairman of the Student Council is Dean Wallace, sophomore, of West Newton. Esther Meader, sophomore of Newtonville is the new secretary; Jo-Anne Cardinal, freshman, of Boston is the corresponding secretary; and William Rogers, sophomore, of Newtonville is the treasurer.

Sophomore members of the Student Council, elected last week after an intensive election campaign, are Esther Meader, William Donovan, Robert Tacktorff, Ronald Seltzer, and Dean Wallace. The freshman members are Jo-Anne Cardinal, Thomas Fahey, Peter Percy, and William Rogers.

The Student Council plans the extracurricular program of Newton Junior College, with the financial backing of the new Student Activities Fee, which assures that all students will have equal opportunity to take part in all activities. The Student Council is the center of student government, and sponsors all student affairs. It acts as intermediary between the students and the junior college administration. Adviser to the Student Council is C. Elwood Drake, Ed. D., Director of Newton Junior College.

Success in Sight as Army Drive Enters Last Weeks

Obviously elated, Kenneth E. Prior, Newton General Chairman of the Salvation Army appeal for funds, has reported that Newton's contributions now total $22,000.

"The situation is now most encouraging," said Mr. Prior. "We need only a thousand dollars to hit our quota of twenty-three thousand. And I'm convinced we'll reach that figure within another week."

"But right now," he added, "I want to correct a misunderstanding. It has been called to my attention that a good many people think the local Salvation Army drive is over. That is not so. We still have about two weeks to go. That means there's still time for those who have not yet contributed to join the many loyal friends of the Army who have already brought us within sight of our goal. I urge those Newton neighbors to give quickly. If they are not visited by our volunteer workers within the next few days, I ask them to send their gifts directly to the Salvation Army headquarters in Newton Corner."

Expressing gratification that the Industrial Committee has practically completed its canvass of business houses, Mr. Prior stated that "this Committee has turned in contributions well in excess of last year. Residential teams in several villages have also finished their calls, with excellent results; and I'm sure the others will have their canvassing done very shortly. All our volunteers have made a determined effort to make this drive a success, and I'm grateful to them. And although we haven't yet reached our quota, I think I'm not overconfident in believing that many who have not made their contributions up to now, will do their share in helping put Newton over the top."

Annual Teachers Tea to Be Held Next Monday

The Newton Newcomers Club

Last Friday at the Newton Highlands Workshop the Newton Newcomers Club met for their regular semi-monthly meeting with Mrs. Jefferson Gordon presiding.

The desert hour was in charge of Mrs. Roy Howard and Mrs. Paul Herbert, hostesses for the month. Pourers were Mrs. Philip Roy and J. Elliot Warner.

Following a business meeting, bridge was enjoyed by the members.

The members of the club entertained their husbands last Saturday evening in the ballroom at the Hotel Beaconsfield with dinner and dancing, followed by bridge and Canasta. Over 87 reservations were made for a most enjoyable occasion.

Mrs. Walter McCue, chairman, was ably assisted by Mrs. Walter Bird and Mrs. Arthur Reid in making the party a notable success.

The next meeting will be held Friday, November 17 at 1:15 p.m. at the Highlands Workshop.

Newton-Chestnut Hill Chapter

The Newton-Chestnut Hill Chapter, Women's Division of the American Jewish Congress will hold a discussion group meeting at the home of Mrs. Hy Hurwitz, 328 Waverly avenue, Newton, next Tuesday, at 1:30 p.m., under the leadership of Mrs. Benjamin Fastov, Chairman of Community Interrelations.

Subject: Quiz Program on Community Problems which will embrace methods of fostering better understandings among groups in the community.

All are invited to attend. Social Tea Hour at 1 p.m. Group participation in the program will be encouraged.

Bituminous coal furnishes about 50 per cent of the mechanical energy in the United States.

Junior Women's Club, Newtonville

At the first fall meeting of the Newtonville Junior Women's Club, Oct. 17, plans were formulated for a card party to be given for the Senior Women's Club and themselves at the December meeting.

It was decided that one girl would take a table and see to the refreshments and prizes for that table. Miss Sally Hughes, chairman of the program, and her committee will plan the finishing touches of the program.

Every new auto requires six tons of coal in its manufacture.

Old Age Assistance Decreases

The result of the Social Security, Old Age and Survivors legislation which became effective October 1, was felt in Newton during the past month, decreasing the amount spent by the city on individual cases of Old Age Assistance, James F. Reynolds director of Public Welfare announced.

However, should the lowering of the age limit on Old Age Assistance receive a majority vote in Tuesday's election, and this seems probable at this writing, it is very possible that an increase in the number of persons applying will result.

Heartbreak House To Be Presented At Wellesley

The Wellesley College Theatre under the direction of Eldon Winkler has completed rehearsals for George Bernard Shaw's Heartbreak House, one of the late master's most witty and ironic comedies, at Alumnæ Hall this Friday and Saturday evening.

J. Randolph Campbell, the new resident designer, has designed the settings and costumes.

Captain Shotover, John Peters, Jr., Elmer Stimes, Hesione Hushabye, Margery Howe, Ariadne Utterword, Mary Ann Crowell, Hector Hushabye, Thomas McNamara, Randall Utterword.

John H. Mitchell, Ellie Dunn, Barbara Garrett, Elizabeth Dunn, Herbert Ellison, Burtal, Robert Gibson, Guinness, Lydia Ballinger. Reservations can be made by calling the Wellesley College Theatre Office. The performances will start at 8 p.m.

Nancilee Fuller To Open Dance School

Miss Nancilee Fuller, 52 Washington Park, Newton, will open her School of the Dance this Saturday at the Neighborhood Club, Berkeley street, West Newton. It will be known as Nancilee Fuller School of the Dance.

Miss Fuller studied with Hazel Lunardo, associate teacher of the Hazel Boone School of the Dance; Katherine Pope of Brookline; and Boston Ballet Center, under the direction of Maestro M. Pianowski, who danced as soloist in one of Diaghileff's Company. He was Ballet Master of Anna Pavlova the last thirteen years of her life, Director of the Imperial School of Ballet at Warsaw, and Director of the Imperial School at Riga-Latvia. She attended Normal School under Maestro Yavinsky, associate teacher of the Chester Hale School, New York City; and Kiralfy under the direction of Nona Leonardo, where she was associate teacher for three years.

Miss Fuller will continue her studies under Hazel Lunardo and Madame Hilda Butsova of New York City, who is on the faculty of the Ballet Repertory and Ballet Mistress of the D.E.A. Training School.

Miracle of Being Able To Walk Again Tribute To District Nurse's Work

By DOROTHY G. BAKER

Ruddy-faced, white-haired, 71-years-old Arthur Prince Spear of Waban has just returned from a long vacation in Friendship, Maine. Here he enjoyed his favorite sport, fishing, rowing himself in the dory to the fishing grounds and out to the motor boat for lengthier salt-water rides. He also was the official wood carrier. Back now in the city his two or three walks a day are his favorite form of exercise.

However, if any one had told this genial gentleman or his family just before Christmas, 1949, that the following summer would find him able to negotiate the stones and seaweed-covered rocks of the rugged Maine beaches, the former would have been considered a very poor prophet. That this actually proved to be the case is due in part to the help of a Red Feather Agency, The Newton District Nursing Association.

On December 18, 1949, as the result of an auto accident Mr. Spear was rushed to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, and the list of injuries disclosed included two broken legs, one with a compound fracture; two fractures of the pelvis; two broken ribs; and a fractured skull. The superior attention given him upon admission to the accident ward and the subsequent excellent hospital and nursing care he received made it possible for him to return home 2 1/2 months later.

This happy event was greatly marred by the fact that Mr. Spear was able to move only with the greatest of difficulty. Getting from his bed to a chair was a particularly hard chore, and even with the latter lined with cushions, the uncomfortably bent position he was obliged to hold tired him quickly.

Now, just a bit over ten months after his accident Mr. Spear does not even mind going up and down stairs although he finds it advisable to use the "one foot at a time" method. His only complaint is that his feet are still tender.

The miracle of being able to walk again was accomplished through the services of the District Nursing Association's nurse physical therapist, Miss M. Patricia Shine. The latter visited Mr. Spear as soon as he arrived home from the hospital, and as is the procedure in such cases gave the patient treatment under the doctor's orders. Hot steamy baths (dividend-paying ordeals), massage, lamp treatments, and exercises skillfully administered and faithfully followed again put into action muscles atrophied from long weeks in a hammock sling and casts.

The District Nursing Association loaned a walker which the indomitable man called his "walkie-talkie" since the apparatus helped him walk but also caused him to talk (in no uncertain terms) because of the demands it imposed. The technique of learning to walk again is not

Gives Talk On Teaching Of English

Mr. Walter S. Hinchman, author and teacher, spoke to Newton High School English teachers on the teaching of English, Tuesday.

Mr. Hinchman is a former president of the Association of Teachers of English and himself a teacher of English with an enviable record at Haverford College, Groton School, and Milton Academy, and is now retired. He devotes his time to horticulture and golf.

The guests at the meeting were former teachers of English in Newton High School. Also present were some twenty-five teachers in Newton junior high schools.

The girls of the home economics class prepared and served refreshments to the group. Mr. Donald March's class provided the music. Because it was Election Day, the decorations were patriotic.

Before Mr. Hinchman's address, two early English ballads were sung by Mr. Henry Bissex, an English teacher at Newton High School.

Lasell Jr. College To Hold Buffet Supper Tonight

The Greater Boston Chapter of the Lasell Junior College Alumnae Association will sponsor a buffet supper and fashion show at the college, tonight (Thursday) in which several Newton girls will participate.

Miss Anne Lynch of Auburndale, president of the club, will act as general chairman. Members of the alumnae group, who will model fashions are Polly Quilty, Auburndale; and Jeanne Meyer, Wellesley Farms. Mary Jane White of Newton, a member of the senior class, is one of the student models.

The time the children got lost

"I couldn't imagine what had happened to my niece and nephew. They were to have met their uncle on a certain street corner, but when he got there, the children were nowhere in sight. And they didn't turn up at home, either."

"For almost two hours Mrs. Howard waited. Frantically she had telephoned every place she could think of . . . and notified the police. When there was nothing more she could do, she sat and stared out through the rain-blurred window into the gathering darkness.

"Suddenly the telephone rang. I ran to answer it with my heart pounding. It was a man—a stranger who had noticed the children crying as they waited on the wrong street corner. They were safe."

"When I put the receiver down I actually patted it.

"The telephone can bring so much peace of mind—so quickly—and yet costs so little."

Miss Nancy Louise Ricker Wed to Mr. Benjamin Robinson Sears

Cibotium ferns and fan-shaped arrangements of white gladioli flanked by tall candelabra with white tapers decorated the chancel of the Brigham chapel of the First Church in Newton Centre, Tuesday evening, October 17, for the wedding of Miss Nancy Louise Ricker, daughter of Mrs. Charles Sherwood Ricker of Newton Centre and the late Mr. Ricker, and Mr. Benjamin Robinson Sears, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harrington Sears of Newtonville.

The 8 o'clock ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Morrison Russell Boynton, pastor of the church, and was followed by a reception in the church living room. The bride, escorted by Dr. William Fitts Carlson, wore a white slipper satin gown with illusion yoke, off-the-shoulder bertha of Duchess lace with rhinestone centered pattern, sweeping train, and finger-tip length veil of illusion attached to a Mary Stuart bonnet of satin and lace. She carried a great aunt's prayer book with a white orchid and shower arrangement of stephanotis. The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Wilfred Richard Granger, of Worcester, cousin of the bride, wore an American Beauty chiffon velvet off-the-shoulder gown with tight bodice and full skirt and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of white carnations centered with rubrum lilies which matched her head-dress.

Mr. Robert Lindquist of Rockland, Maine, was the best man. The ushers were Mr. C. Evan Johnson, Mr. George Palmer, and

Mr. Edwin Perry McGill Jr., of Newtonville.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Ricker wore a coral crepe gown embroidered with rhinestones and silver beads and silver slippers. Her corsage was gardenias.

Mrs. Sears, the groom's mother, wore aqua green crepe with embroidery of bronze beads and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums.

The bride, who is the granddaughter of Mrs. Elbridge G. S. Ricker of Bridgewater, attended Mount Ida, Cushing Academy, and was graduated from Colby College, Waterville, Maine, with the class of 1950. The groom who served with the armed forces in the Pacific Area, is a member of the class of 1952 at Colby College and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

After a wedding trip they will make their home at the Veterans' apartments on the Colby campus.

Emerson Rug Co. Vacates Building In West Roxbury the Emerson Rug Company that the owner of the building occupied by the rug firm for their West Roxbury store is taking over the structure for his own use. The entire stock of famous-make rugs and carpet is to be disposed of in a gigantic Removal Sale that will start next Monday, November 13. Mr. John Reilly, president, said, "Our misfortune is the public's good luck. The owner wants to move into our West Roxbury store at once so we are forced to dispose of our $125,000.00 stock of quality rugs and carpet in the shortest possible time. To do this we have marked all prices ridiculously low in the face of rising costs. Nothing is reserved, nothing is held back... our entire stock will be included. Of course this is a clearance to the bare walls, so it has to be a case of first come, first served." The Emerson Rug Co. is well known throughout New England for the fine quality of all wool carpet that it carries and in its 18-year history has become closely associated with such famous names as Mohawk, Gulistan, Lees, Magee and Nye Waite.

John Emerson, treasurer, said, "Naturally we are terribly upset over the loss of our West Roxbury location but of course we have a lovely store on the Providence Highway in Norwood. This is just a few minutes drive from our present store and we will be able to take care of all our customers from Dedham and surrounding towns there until we find a suitable new location nearer to them. It is our intention not to move a single piece of carpet when we leave our present building; everything including fixtures and rug racks must be sold."

all libraries. Plan to visit at least one library during Book Week and see what the Newton Free Library provides for your children. For further information, call LA 7-1213.

In preparation for Book Week the staff of the Boys' and Girls' Library and the Children's Librarians in the branch libraries have been reading and meeting together informally during the fall in order to select the books most suitable for each of the ten branch libraries. Classes from each elementary school will visit the nearest library some time during Book Week to see and hear about the new books. These visits by the children to the Public Library are happy experiences for the librarians as well as for the children, and the interest aroused during Book Week carries over for many months.

Two of the branch librarians will give talks before local groups. On Wednesday evening, November 8, Mrs. Virginia Tashjian, Nonantum Branch Librarian and Library Story-Teller, took part in a Parent-Teacher Association meeting at the Stearns School. There she spoke to the parents about the work she is doing with their children at the Stearns School. She demonstrated to them how she presents a book to the children in the classroom and answered questions about the book exhibit. She also conferred with parents on individual children's library problems in an effort to promote better librarian-borrower relations.

On Thursday evening, November 9, Miss Mildred Libby, Librarian of the Waban branch of the Newton Free Library will speak to the women's group at the Newton Upper Falls Methodist Church on the subject, "Books to Buy for Christmas" for both children and adults. Miss Libby will bring to this meeting an exhibit of the books about which she will speak. She will also point out the various services of the Newton Free Library which are available to all borrowers.

With the cooperation of parents, teachers, and librarians, and boys and girls, Book Week of 1950 should be an occasion to be remembered.

In reading a report of last month's meeting, M. Evangeline Morse stated Dr. Ellsworth J. M. Dickson, Needham physician, said that beverage alcohol breaks up more homes than anything, and that "alcohol is the only narcotic which is allowed by law to be sold freely. He further was quoted as stating that the physical ills of a large portion of his patients can be attributed to alcohol in the home.

Dr. Marietta Butnam Reid reported that 3,260,000 sleeping tablets were sold last year. She also said that small children are sitting up until 10 and 11 o'clock at night watching television which is a serious health hazard. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. George Fisher, president.

Newton Real Estate Board Activities

The first meeting of the fiscal year of the Newton Real Estate Board, Division of the Boston Real Estate Board, was held Wednesday evening, October 25, at the Brae Burn Country Club. The meeting was conducted by Joshua W. Brown of W. Frank Brown & Sons, and many matters of local interest were discussed.

Arnold E. Worth of the Newton Savings Bank, discussed the new credit restrictions, known as Regulation X, aimed to cut sharply the number of new houses to be built from row on, and explained the new credit regulations placed on real estate, after which he answered questions from the floor.

A letter from Mayor Lockwood was read, asking for an opinion on whether rent controls should be continued. Since the Board felt that few rental units would be built under existing rent control regulations, it unanimously voted for the termination of rent controls.

Warren H. Blaisdell of Alvord Brothers, Chairman of the Committee on Alms and Activities gave the report of his committee.

Peter Turchon of Homes, Inc., was appointed by the Chairman to head the Public Relations Committee, and Arnold E. Worth to the Municipal Affairs Committee. The purpose of this latter committee is to represent the Newton Real Estate Board in connection with governmental matters affecting real estate.

The meeting was attended by 35 local brokers interested primarily in Real Estate activity in the Newtons, and it is the hope of all of those present that the Newton Real Estate Board may continue to be of increasing value to the community.

One Hundredth Anniversary Of First Congregational Church In Auburndale To Be Held Sunday

The 100th Anniversary of the First Congregational Church in Auburndale will be celebrated November 12 to 19 beginning with a special dedication service of Sunday morning. Rev. Chauncey Edward Blossom, Minister, will preach on the subject, "A Light Set on a Hill."

Sunday afternoon, November 12, there will be a 100th Anniversary Musical Vesper at 4 o'clock under the direction of Herbert Hobbs and with Priscilla Goggin, soprano and Philip Starkweather, clarinetist, as participating artists. A tea in the Fireside Room will follow the Vesper Service.

The next special event commemorating this historic birthday will come Tuesday evening, November 14, the actual founding date of the church, at which time there will be a colorful historical pageant entitled "Flashbacks through the Century."

This pageant was written by Mrs. Albert B. Terkelsen of Auburndale and will be directed by Mrs. D. William Lovell of Auburndale. The music will be conducted by Mrs. J. Parker Calvert of Auburndale; the narrator will be Ralph D. Weston of Auburndale and the story and lighting effects will be in charge of Edward Ufford of Auburndale.

Following the presentation of the historical pageant, "Flashbacks through the Century" will be a coffee hour and reception in the Fireside Room at which the special guest of honor will be those who have been members of the Auburndale Congregational Church for 50 years or more. There are some 30 such men and women, one of the oldest being 87-year-old Rev. David S. Herrick, for 43 years a missionary of the American Board in India who has been a member of this church since 1875.

On Friday, November 17, there will be an Anniversary Dinner at 6:45. This Anniversary Dinner will be served by the Senior Pilgrim Fellowship, the young people's group of the church, and fraternal greetings will be given from neighboring sister churches, including the Centenary Methodist Church, represented by Rev. Sidney Adams and the Church of the Messiah represented by Rev. Richard P. McIntock.

The dramatic highlight of this Friday evening, November 17, will be the dedication of a new Youth Room in memory of six young men from this church who died in service during World War II. They were: Stanton M. Amsbury, Lt. (j.g.) Navy Air Corps, North Africa coast; William W. Bartlett, Army Air Corps, The Balkans; Fred.

The officers of the Newton Smith College Club for 1950-51 were introduced to club members at the opening meeting held at the home of Mrs. Clark E. Woodward of Newton Centre. They include Mrs. F. Brittain Kennedy, Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Mrs. Richard A. Lee, Miss Alma W. Howard, Mrs. Arthur F. Williams, Mrs. Stephen B. Wellington, Mrs. Edward Blake, Mrs. Robert Bolan, Mrs. Eaton Webber, Miss Catherine Bolster, Miss Louise Jellerson and Mrs. Hugh M. Tomb.

erick A. Foss Jr., Ensign, Navy Air Corps in the Pacific; George B. Shute, Army Infantry, the Belgian Bulge drive; Philip William Kempf, U. S. Army, Germany, and James Van Tussell, U. S. Marines, U.S.A.

This dedication will follow the Anniversary Dinner and the leading participants will be Rev. Chauncey E. Blossom, minister of the church, and Miss Joan Hoxie of Auburndale, president of the Senior Pilgrim Fellowship.

The climax of the week's celebration of the 100th Anniversary of the Auburndale Congregational Church will be a special Anniversary Service Sunday morning, November 19, with the guest preacher, Dr. Rockwell Harmon Potter of Hartford, Connecticut, former Dean of Hartford Theological Seminary, President-Emeritus of the American Board of Foreign Missions and widely known preacher. His subject will be, "What Is the Church?"

The musical program for this final Anniversary Sunday Service will include an anthem, "Thou Shalt Remember" written by Horatio Parker at the time of the 50th Anniversary and dedicated to the pastor at that time, Rev. Calvin Cutler, who served the church from 1867 to 1895.

The members of the Anniversary Committee are: E. Sherman Chase, 47 Woodland road; Charles W. Blood, 31 Woodbine street; Jacques V. Yates, 43 King street; F. Payson LeBaron, 28 King street; Mrs. Winthrop A. Clarke, 59 Woodland road; Mrs. John B. Starkweather, 59 Pigeon Hill road, and Rev. Chauncey E. Blossom, 89 Grove street, all of Auburndale.

The Auburndale Congregational Church was organized on November 14, 1850 with 34 members and finally completed a church building in 1857 on the site of the present church. It dates back to those early days when the corporation which held the church property was made up only of those citizens qualified to vote in civil affairs, namely, males over 21 years of age, who attended church and contributed to its support.

Another historic milestone which the church history recalls is the fact that although from the very beginning the women carried on an energetic and devoted service it was not until 1887 that women were allowed to vote in church meetings.

The Congregational Church of Auburndale has had only nine ministers in its 100 years of existence. It has had a very close connection with the Walker Missionary Homes which are located almost next door to the church edifice which were founded in 1868 by a young widow with four small children whose husband died of cholera in the Near East. She was Mrs. Eliza Harding Walker and the idea for what has now become a plant of six fine modern buildings

Women's Guild of Church of Messiah

The regular meeting of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Messiah in Auburndale was held in the Church parlors with the president, Mrs. Earl Ordway presiding.

Mrs. Helen Brown conducted the devotional exercises and following a brief business meeting, Mrs. Waldo B. Hutchinson developed an imaginary literary lighthouse after speaking briefly on the real lighthouses of the world, their history and their maintenance. Using David H. Shaw's book, "Herbert Hoover, the Quaker," as a suitable foundation Mrs. Hutchinson reviewed the book, following it up with a review of Dr. Clarence Liebman's "Outwitting Your Years." Monica Baldwin's autobiography, "I Leaped over the Wall," and then into the world of fiction, choosing "Brief Candy Hour" by Margaret Brian, and Neville Shute's "Legacy." She completed her light-house with a review of Dr. Clyde Yarbrough's book "A Triumphant Personality," figuratively using this book as a light in her lighthouse tower.

It was an unusual way of handling a book review and was well received. Refreshments of doughnuts and cider were served, with Mrs. Louie Woodland as hostess.

To Be Held November 16 Lecture to Be Given by Ruth B. Rohde, Former Minister to Denmark

Plans have been completed for the second annual lecture sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Newton featuring the appearance of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Rohde, former Minister of Denmark, at Weeks Junior High School Thursday evening, November 16, at 8:15. Mrs. John Carver Beale, lecture chairman, has announced.

Presently Alternate United States Representative to the Fourth Session of the United Nations General Assembly, Mrs. Rohde will reveal what goes on "Behind The Scenes In The United Nations." Daughter of the famous silver-tongued orator, William Jennings Bryan, this distinguished feminine diplomat is the only American woman ever to receive the "Fortjenstmedaljen in Gold," Denmark's highest decoration, as an award for distinguished service.

Under the direction of Mrs. Harold R. Keller of Newtonville, a youthful group of ushers will assist at the lecture, including Misses Margaret Dittmore, Ruth V. Casten, Patricia Bentley and Gloria B. Stewart of Newton Centre, Mrs. James C. Donnelly, Mrs. Richard Palmer Berry and Miss Jean L. Murray of Newton and Miss Alice Vincent of Newtonville.

James H. Powers, Foreign Editor of the Boston Globe will serve as moderator for the question period following the lecture. Known throughout New England for his keen analysis of world affairs, Mr. Powers has covered United Nations meetings at Lake Success. He was made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor by the French Government for his editorial work in behalf of the DeGaulle government during World War II.

Four Score and Seven Years

Sunday, November 19, it will be exactly "four score and seven years" since Lincoln delivered his immortal Gettysburg Address. Would you believe that there could be seven million Americans who've never even heard of it? That's what a recent survey of ten cities indicated. Sixteen per cent of those interviewed who had heard of it couldn't identify the speaker, and fifty-four per cent were wrong about the occasion at which Mr. Lincoln spoke.

Perhaps then, it would not be remiss to present it as the anniversary of its delivery draws near. Perhaps then, in these troubled times it would not be remiss to read and re-read its message and its truths, so "that this government of the people, by the people and for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth, upon this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

"Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation, so conceived, and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met here on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of it as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

"But in a larger sense we can not dedicate—we can not consecrate—we can not hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they have, thus far, so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that this government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

All Praise to the Infantry

When it comes to glamour, most branches of the armed service, in the eyes of the public at least, are far superior to the infantryman but anyone at all familiar with warfare, including the present Korean conflict, knows that when it comes to fighting the infantryman is very likely to be the one found doing it.

Yet according to columnist Drew Pearson, "Under the current army pay system, the real heroes in the Korean war are drawing the least pay. They don't even get a fair share of the glory when the publicity and medals are doled out. These unsung heroes are the infantrymen, who form the army's battering ram, but who are not paid as much as the technical men and the pencil pushers behind the lines."

He goes on to say that the average monthly pay of a member of a rifle company is $135, as compared with $226 for an air force combat crewman and $172 for a submariner. Combat infantrymen once got a $10 a month bonus, but this is no longer given.

Moreover, according to Pearson, infantrymen are actually the poorest paid of all the troops in the army. Ordnance, signal corps, armored force, quartermaster, artillery and everyone else does better financially. And the ironical part of it is that all these other troops, are, basically, simply the infantry's support. They exist for the sole purpose of aiding the infantry in its grim task of closing with and capturing or destroying the enemy. If the infantry fails to do that, the cause is always doomed.

Relatively little stress was placed on the infantry in the so-called New Army we heard so much about a year or so ago. This was to be pretty much the mechanized army, the push button army, in which almost everyone would be a technician of some kind. The Korean war changed that concept, and with a vengeance. It was the infantry—the poor, bloody infantry of legend—that fought the delaying actions in the dreadful early weeks. At times the situation became so desperate that service troops had to be given rifles, canteens, and bandoliers of ammunition, and sent into the line as infantrymen. And finally, it was infantry, Army and Marine, which accomplished the brilliant later successes.

Infantry takes the beating in war. It suffered 70 per cent of the casualties in World War II, perhaps a higher percentage in Korea. Yet, Mr. Pearson says, in World War II it got only 11.6 per cent of the medals. And, as noted before, it is way down the line at the pay table.

It can be argued that mere money is a small recompense for asking a man to risk his life in war, and, at best, live miserably. But it is the only recompense possible. No way exists to make the infantryman's lot an easy, pleasant one. It is certainly a reasonable assumption that the footslogger with a rifle in his hands deserves a better break than he's now getting.

Defeatist Idea

Representatives of American retailing have told officials of the National Production Authority that they are opposed to rationing and wage-price controls at the present time.

The retailers of this country, both large and small, can vividly remember their experience under OPA after the last war, with the real emergency over, controls were continued for a long time. Production was discouraged, and stocks were sparse. The black market flourished, serving the few who would pay outrageous prices for goods.

American labor, American business and American agriculture can produce all the goods and services we need for both military and civilian use. American retailing can, as it has always done, take care of the complex job of distribution. All this can be done without dangerous controls which would regiment the economy and weaken our strength as a nation. We cannot successfully oppose the dictators by going in for dictatorship at home. If we do, we admit that freedom and representative government are failures.

Placing the Responsibility

Recently, the Rev. Herbert H. Sweeney, president of the University of Portland, told a student body assembly that the University of Berlin, which sponsored the philosopher Hegel, and the University of Bonn, which sponsored Marx, are the two universities most responsible for these theories of government which make the state supreme over the individual. "The universities are responsible for the ideas that created the savage struggle of today," he said.

Father Sweeney then reminded the students that their primary aim in attending a university should be to learn how to live, rather than how to make a living, and added, "We have not tolerated and will not tolerate a professor on our staff who teaches state socialism or totalitarianism."

This is a refreshing attitude in an age in which many teachers seek to undermine the faith of young people in the economic and political systems which made this country great and free—and which, incidentally, made our colleges possible. It is an attitude which should be general.

A man perched precariously on the roof of an 11-story hotel in Memphis, told two police officers, who rushed up to prevent him from jumping off, that he had no thought whatever of jumping and was merely watching a construction job.

Because she was "treated so nice" by the bus driver, who stopped for half an hour while she gave birth to a baby girl, Mrs. Myrtle Melvin of Fayetteville, N. C., named her daughter "Queenie" after the Queen City Trailways bus line.

U. S. Commissioner of Internal Revenue George J. Schoenman recently told the National Association of Tax Administrators that one out of every four individual income tax returns is erroneous and that 91 per cent of the mistakes are at the government's expense.

Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint, is mystified by a sudden drop in the demand for coins. She reports that instead of making four billion coins a month the demand is only one-eighth that grade. She can't understand why. A lot of housewives who know the little you can buy with a nickel or a dime nowadays might be able to give her the answer.

After pondering over the problem of what to do about troublesome and destructive courthouse pigeons, county officials in West Palm Beach, Fla., decided to spend $5.75 for rubber garter snakes to be placed on the ledges where the pigeons congregate.

At the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, a thief stole wax hands from two dummies in the "Crime Does Not Pay" exhibit. Apparently, it didn't make the intended impression.

In 1949, every man, woman and child in the United States footed a tax bill amounting to $359 for each. Of that amount the Federal government took $253.

Capitol Hill would control rents, roads and railroads, prices, production, power and pork, airlines, animals, autos, monies and credits, crops, industry, illness, old age; and if it could, it might even try to regulate demand, population, and the hereafter.

Our national leaders have maneuvered us into a position where Americans must either tighten their belts or run the risk of losing their pants.

George R. Schiemer of the State Frozen Food Locker Association recently announced in Rochester, N. Y., that one of the safest places to be in the event of an atomic explosion would be in a frozen-food locker. It also would be one of the coldest.

After Herbert W. Stusse was arrested in Los Angeles on suspicion of stealing the live chicken he was carrying under his coat, police found a hatchet and salt and pepper shakers in his pockets.

Announcing that he was adding more policemen to his force, Police Chief W. C. Woolverton of El Paso declared: "Cooler weather always brings more crime. People seem to eat more, wear more and steal more."

After seizing a suspect, Seattle federal narcotics agents discovered that what he was peddling as heroin was really just talcum powder. They charged him with grand larceny.

Mr. Knowlton Goes to Washington

The Newton Teachers Federation Is an Important Agent For Good Schools

(A Series of Articles from the 110th Annual Report of the Newton School Committee)

It had been just another day for Wallace Knowlton, Jr. The boys and girls in his social studies classes at the Weeks Junior High School had been more aware of the warm, spring zephyrs that came through the open window than they had of their civic responsibilities! Just another day, until he looked at his mail and found an envelope that would have sent shivers up and down the spine of even the most conservative Republican!

The envelope bore the address of the White House, and it contained a personal invitation from President Truman to take part in a panel discussion on civic education. Knowlton was proud he was a teacher—a Newton teacher—and a member of his professional organization, for the letter he held in his hand invited him to come to Washington as the representative of the Newton Teachers Federation. A few days later, with the moral and financial support of both the school administration and the Federation, Knowlton left for Washington to attend meetings of great national importance to the advancement of civic education.

This is only one example of the frequent invitations and requests which prove that the professional organization of the teachers of this city has won national attention and respect. To understand why such is the case, it is necessary only to become acquainted with the nature of the organization.

The Newton Teachers Federation, established in 1933, includes approximately 500 teachers, supervisors, and administrators. An Administrative Council of twenty-six members, elected by the teachers from the various schools and school districts of the city, and including one representative from the central administrative and supervisory staff, is the policy-making body of the Federation. The Federation's officers, together with the chairmen of the standing committees, constitute an Executive Council whose responsibility it is to engage in over-all planning. There are standing committees on Professional Development, Community Relations, Economic Research, Professional Ethics, and Social Activities; in addition, there are two special committees, one on Teachers' Housing, and the other on Salary Policies. It is the duty of these committees to propose policies and programs of operation; before policies are adopted they must be cleared through the Administrative Council or submitted by referendum to the teachers. The committees are then the executors of the measures thus approved; but, of course, all policies affecting the operation of the Newton Public Schools must be approved by the Newton School Committee. Provision is made for two annual meetings of the Federation, one of which must be the business meeting for the presentation of the annual reports of committees, adoption of budget, and, biennially, for the election of officers. The Federation is practically unique among teacher associations in employing the full-time services of an executive secretary. Much of the success of the Federation is due to this arrangement.

The operations of the Newton Teachers Federation affect the teachers, the schools, and the community in many ways. The Federation sends delegates to the National Education Association, the Massachusetts Teachers Federation, the Newton Community Council, and the P.T.A. Council. Also, the Federation is a member of the Newton Community Council. Last fall, the N.T.F. president was invited by Superintendent Harold B. Gores to take part in a conference devoted to problems facing the Newton Public Schools. Later, the Professional Development Committee worked out three policies regarding in-service credit projects, all were approved, after slight amendments, by Mr. Gores. Moreover, this committee organized seminars, workshops, and courses for teachers; and it continued Federation sponsorship of a high school chapter of the Future Teachers of America. Another committee, that on Community Relations, sponsored a program of city-wide observance of Education Week; this venture involved the cooperation of the clergy, principals, teachers, and pupils. In addition, this committee arranged for Dr. Andrew Holt, President of the N.E.A., to address the teachers of Newton and those from nearby communities. The Community Relations Committee explored, with the P.T.A. Council, the desirability of setting up a Newton Educational Council to cooperate with the Massachusetts Council for Public Schools and the National Citizens Committee on Education. To the P.T.A.'s the committee has suggested speakers on federal aid to education and has rented the March of Time film, "The Fight For Better Schools," to show before P.T.A.'s next fall. The Federation has contributed to the financial support of the Massachusetts Council for Public Schools. Furthermore, it has promoted both teacher and citizen support of federal and state bills offering hope of improvement in education, and it has opposed measures of a doubtful or threatening character.

The Professional Ethics Committee of the N.T.F. has not only formulated a local code of ethics, but also has participated in a proposed revision of the National Education Association Code. Two members of the Federation have served on the Professional Standards Committee of the Massachusetts Teachers Federation.

The operations of the Federation along personal and social lines deserve attention, for such activities promote friendliness throughout the school community. The Social Activities Committee not only arranges for sports and dances; it sends greetings to shut-ins and welcomes new teachers; and for the latter, it conducts a fall picnic. This year the outstanding project of the Social Activities Committee, assisted by the Public Relations Committee, was a Christmas Party given in honor of Dr. Anderson, retiring superintendent of schools, and, at the same time, as an expression of the loyalty of the Federation to our new superintendent, Mr. Gores, to members of the Newton School Committee, and to representatives of the P.T.A. Council and the P.T.A. Associations.

In order to further assist our teachers, several new services were rendered. A special Housing Committee was created this year, and a listing of living accommodations was placed in the Federation office. In cooperation with Newton health authorities, the Federation set up this spring a Heart Screening Program in which 500 teachers, secretaries, and custodians participated. Moreover, the Federation was instrumental in procuring adjustments in salary policy for non-degree teachers, increases in salary increments, and improved salary maximums; it arranged also for the checks to be received on the last working day of the month. Other services rendered by this organization include counseling on teachers' retirement and advice on filling out income tax blanks.

Many other activities are under way. The Economic Research Committee is about to present to the Newton School Committee proposals for the liberalization and modernization of its Sabbatical Leave Policy. This committee is engaged also in research on teachers' insurance as it affects matters of personal liability, health, and accident. A new Salary Policies Committee is working for a sound, defensible, professional salary schedule. The Community Relations Committee, with the Social Activities Committee and the P.T.A. Council, is studying ways to improve its manner of welcoming new teachers. A special committee on Education Week is formulating plans for its appropriate observance next fall. To keep the N.T.F. abreast of the developments in education, the Administrative Council has elected its president to represent it at the N.E.A. Convention at St. Louis this July.

Manifestly, the N.T.F. sponsors many activities, is in the process of becoming a truly professional organization, and is a cooperative link in the Newton educational framework. The N.T.F. enjoys no legal status; but, thanks to the vision of the Newton School Committee, education is increasingly a democratic, cooperative effort carried out by teachers, administrators, and the community. Therein lies the probability that boys and girls may realize the fullest development of their aptitudes and interests, and that thereby the entire community will be benefited.

3 Concerns File To Incorporate

The following Newton business concerns have filed papers with State Secretary Edward J. Cronin, seeking charters to incorporate under the business laws of this Commonwealth: Peter Turchon, 59 Wachusett road, Peter Turchon, Jr., 230 Walnut street and Patricia Norton, 24 Gay street, Newton, as Assurance Fund, Inc., and Warranty Fund, Inc., at 313 Washington street, Newton, both corporations with an authorized stock insurance of 500 shares at no par value; R. Caspar and Laura B. Swasey, 34 Whittier road, Newton, Herbert B. Baker, Norwood, and Florence S. Remington, Boston, as the Hot Oil Heater Co., Inc., at 34 Whittier road, Newton, with an authorized stock of 999 shares at no par value, and 1000 shares at $100, totaling $100,000; and John K. Appel, Harry F. Bruen, Newton, and William F. Byrne, Weston, as Appel Bruen Co., Inc., at Newton, with a stock authorization of 1500 class A at $100, $150,000, and 100 shares class B at $100, $100,000.

The West Newton W. C. T. U.

A goodly number of members attended the fall meeting of the West Newton W.C.T.U. held at the home of Miss Susie Johnson, 84 Grove street, Auburndale. After the business meeting, the president, Mrs. May L. Sweat, introduced the speaker, Rev. A. I. MacMillen, who is minister of the Scotch Presbyterian Church in Boston. He gave a most interesting and impressive talk on "Youth for Temperance," stressing the fact that our young people be taught the evils of intemperance.

Scrap books and magazines were reported sent to Veterans' Hospitals, by the director of "Soldiers and Sailors' work, Mrs. Caroline Sartwell. A social hour concluded a very enjoyable evening with Mrs. Nellie M. Davis, assisting hostess.

In the largest forest rehabilitation program ever undertaken, the State of Oregon has launched a $10 million program to get Oregon's 750,000 acres of state forest land under full protection. Forestry in this country is only 50 years old. The first professional forester was graduated from college in 1900. Today there are 12,500 practicing foresters in the United States.

Pops Concert Committee

The annual Pops Concert given by the High Pines Orchestra, under the direction of Carlos Pinfield, will be sponsored by the Parents' League of the Rivers Country Day School, at Newell Hall in Brookline this Friday evening.

This opening event in the Parents' League calendar is not only an evening of good music in the Pops tradition, but it serves also as a slightly different approach in Parent-Teacher gatherings. Proceeds from this year's concert will be turned over to the Pension Fund for the school faculty.

Active Newton members of the committee in charge are: Mrs. E. M. Burdall, Mrs. Richard B. Cattell, Mrs. Benjamin T. Fawcett, and Mrs. Richard B. Stimpson.

Starts New Radio Program Sunday

The Immanuel Baptist Church of Newton will go on the air for the first time Sunday, over station WCRB of Waltham (1530 on the dial).

The new program entitled "The Immanuel Hour" will be broadcast every Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 4 p. m. The musical portions of the half-hour program will be rendered by combinations derived from a double mixed quartette.

The speaker on the program will be the pastor, Rev. Douglas B. MacCorkle who will open a series of brief meditations under the theme: "Popular Phrases From Paul." Copies of these messages will be made available to those writing for them.

SPORTS

Newton High Posts 4th, Over Haverhill, 20-7

Limited to its running offense and line play during a rain-soaked afternoon, the Newton High eleven turned in their best performance of the season by downing Haverhill, 20-7, Saturday at the Haverhill Municipal Stadium for their fourth victory of the year in seven starts. Intermittent rain made passing impossible for both clubs and the Hustonmen proved superior on the muddy field.

A touchdown run of 73 yards by Bob Shannon and another spectacular dash by Don Thompson for 15 yards were the main features of the wet afternoon besides the outstanding durability of the Newton line to hold back the Hillies in their efforts to break through the Orange line.

A blocked kick move by Newton set up their first T.D. when Haverhill punted on its own 15 and lineman John Lee rushed in to block the kick, with Dick Fitzpatrick dropping on the free oval on the one-yard line. John Higgins carried the ball over on a quarterback sneak for the first six-pointers, Fred Dauton converting.

The miserable playing conditions did not phase the Newton club in the least, and standouts like Dan Coffey, Shannon, John Tripp, and Thompson took to the fray like ducks to water. Shannon scored the second touchdown in the third period, sprinting all the way from the 27-yard line. Newton first took over on downs on its own 27, after throwing up a strong defense against a Haverhill threat.

Taking a handoff from Higgins, Shannon knifed through the center of the line, with everybody pitching in to make the opening, and headed for the wide open spaces. Almost stopped by one backer-up, the fleet trackstar shook off the tackler raced along the sideline, and outdistanced three men in his touchdown dash. It was Shannon's ninth T.D. of the year and could be counted as one of his best, considering the adverse playing conditions and better-than-average opposition.

From then on it was all Newton. Less than five minutes after the Shannon show, the Orange scored their third touchdown for good measure.

Fred Dauton ran a Haverhill punt back from the Newton 20 to the 38, and six plays later they had their third rally. Thompson picked up six muddy yards, and Coffey added six more. At the mid-field stripe a token pass was attempted but failed, Coffey to Shannon. Coffey then pranced 34 yards on the next play, taking a pitchout and cutting around left end for a first down on the 15. Slicing through tackle, Thompson outmaneuvered two backs and dove into the end zone. Dauton kicked the point to give Newton a 20-0 edge.

In the final period the Hillies averted the shutout by scoring in the last four minutes. Stopping the Hustonmen on four downs on their 35-yard line, Haverhill battled all the way for their six-pointer.

Key men in this drive were Don Massie and Dick Mullen, Massie going over for the score. Coming to the Newton 12 after repeated line plunges, Mullen plowed for five yards and Mal Kimball picked up three. Massie then pulled a sneak and circled end to go over standing. Bill Hayes booted for the point.

To Hold Luncheon And Apron Sale

There will be a luncheon and apron sale at the Newton Methodist Church, corner of Centre and Wesley Streets, Newton, Thursday, Nov. 16, from 11:30 A.M. to 4:30 P.M. There will also be a Food and Miscellaneous gift table. Luncheon will be served from 11:30 A.M. to 2:00 P.M.

There will be approximately one hundred aprons from which to make your choice ranging from practical kitchen aprons to fancy gift aprons. There will also be some beautiful tailored smocks, and the prices on both will be very reasonable. The Food and Gift Tables will have many choice articles.

Our Lady's Eleven Routs St. Mary's, Waltham, 33-6

Any doubt as to which eleven is the class in the Catholic League Division 2 circuit was finally settled last Sunday afternoon when the new entry into the division, Our Lady's routed a one-time favorite St. Mary's of Waltham, 33-6, at Allison Park before a record crowd of 2500.

Newton Faces Tough Waltham Eleven Saturday

Newton High will play its traditionally rival game with Waltham High at the Watch City this Saturday. An important item faced by the Orange, besides the fact that Waltham is just about the best in Class A competition and undefeated, is its star back Joe Terrasi. If that isn't enough they have a strong and experienced line that played roughshod over last year's champions, Arlington.

Coach Warren Huston will not have the services of some first line and will have to depend on the abilities of Dan Coffey, Bob Shannon and Don Thompson to keep the Watch Citizens in check. Waltham was idle last week, its game being called because of wet grounds, and should be well-rested to take on the Newton eleven.

Newton Residents Playing in Field Hockey Tourney

Playing in the Northeast Field Hockey Tournament for Women Saturday at Wellesley College, will be Miss Ann Delano, Miss Alice Willey and Miss Norma Simmons, all of Newton.

Miss Delano is at present president of the United States Field Hockey Association, a member of the United States first team, and will be representing Boston as fullback on the first team. She has been on the faculty at Smith College, and is at present a visiting lecturer at Wellesley College.

Miss Willey, who is also playing on the Boston team as Goalie, was a member of the United States first team in '46, and the U.S. Reserve in '48. She has played for Boston for many years, and is at present on the faculty at Warren Junior High School.

Miss Simmons, who is the daughter of Mr. Frank S. Simmons, Director of Physical Education for the Newton schools, is playing center forward on the Boston first team. A graduate of Newton High School, she is at present a senior at Sargent School of Physical Education, Boston University, and is doing practice teaching at the Shady Hill School in Cambridge.

These three players are part of a group of 150 women participating in the Northeast Tournament, for which the Boston Field Hockey Association is the hostess group.

Play starts at 9 o'clock in the morning Saturday, and will continue on through Sunday with teams from Boston, New York and the Northeast area playing one another. Newton residents and high school students are cordially invited, and may get tickets either at the high school or at the fields in Wellesley.

Also playing will be Miss Barbara Mildram of Turner street, Newtonville, president of the Boston Field Hockey Association and an active player for many years. She is playing on the Boston first team and is responsible for the growth of hockey interest amongst the women of this area.

Newton Resident Wins Jackpot

A Newton resident Mrs. W. J. Forbes of 12 Whittemore Road, has won the largest jackpot ever offered by WCRB.

Last Saturday, Martin Tall as master of ceremonies of WCRB's Stop the Housework program, called Mrs. Forbes and asked her to identify the musical number then being played. When she gave the correct answer, she had the opportunity to guess the identity of the mystery voice.

Mrs. Forbes answered without hesitation, "Billy DeWolf." Mrs. Forbes said that the well-known actor was a favorite of hers and she was easily able to know his voice.

The jackpot which she opened up has a total of $335 in prizes, which Mrs. Forbes will receive this week.

Stop the Housework is heard on WCRB Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 10:05 a.m.

Pvt. Robert W. Vories, 33 Craig more road, Newton, and Pvt. Karl B. Whynot, 235 Webster street, West Newton, both Marine Corps Reservists have been called to active duty. Vories to Parris Island, S. C., and Whynot to Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Education Week

Parents' Night at Warren Jr. H.S. to Be a Feature

Warren Junior High School, West Newton, will hold its annual fall Parents' Night tonight (Thursday), from 7:15 to 9:45 p.m. This event has been planned for this particular date, during the nationally observed American Education Week, to allow more parents an opportunity to visit the school and become acquainted with the teachers of their junior high school sons and daughters. Teachers will be in their classrooms throughout the evening and will welcome the privilege of meeting both fathers and mothers of their pupils.

During the evening a meeting of the Warren Junior High School's parent-teacher Association will be held in the assembly hall. All parents are invited to attend. The P.T.A. will also conduct a food sale, the proceeds from which are used to build up a fund to finance outside talent for school assemblies.

This fall Warren pupils enjoyed a most unusual assembly program, made possible by this contribution of the P.T.A., when they saw and heard, in person, the "noted adventurer, explorer, and author," whom most pupils had heard over the radio but had never seen, Edward Rowe Snow, also known as the "Flying Santa." Mr. Snow told many interesting stories of his travels, particularly those in New England, and showed colored movies of his visits by airplane to lighthouses along the coast.

This year the drive for membership in the Junior Red Cross most appropriately coincides with the observance of American Education Week. The latter's theme, "Government Of, By, And For The People, and the role of the Junior Red Cross, "We Serve," have a common goal, that of bringing about world peace and friendship.

This Friday, the newly organized Junior Red Cross Council, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Priscilla Daudelin, will present a Red Cross assembly program. Pupils participating include Heidi Angvine, president of the Council, Penny Wolbert, Peter Clarke, George Halewood, and Colby Thresher. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Riley Hampton, Director of the Newton Chapter of the Junior Red Cross. The film, Leaders of Tomorrow, will also be shown to the student body.

Other activities planned by the Council include the filling of gift boxes, making of albums and favors, and possibly the filling of an overseas school chest in the spring.

This year's officers of the Warren Junior High School Junior Red Cross Council are: President, Heidi Angvine; Vice President, Patricia Mulrain; Secretary, Ann Jones; Treasurer, George Halewood. The Council has a record number of thirty-eight members whose enthusiasm runs high.

The activities of the Warren Junior High School afford many opportunities for the development of citizenship and leadership among its pupils. Recognizing that such training must begin at as early an age as possible, the school program allows many pupils to assume responsibilities of leadership. Through its student government pupils become school community and class officers, as well as home-room and division officers. They are able to get a glimpse of the workings of a legislative group through the grade Congresses.

A grade Congress is composed of the chairmen of that grade's home rooms who act as representatives of their groups. The first Junior I Congress was held last Wednesday, under the leadership of the girls' counselor, Miss Ida Scheib. The following officers were elected: Chairman, Sam Tishler, Room 113; Vice Chairman, Polly Stanley, Room II; Secretary, Lee White, Room 301. Other members of the Junior I Congress include Judith Hyde, Room 101; Madeline DeMaio, 114; Barbara Tansey, 117; Bruce Higgins, 205A; Brenda Bruce, 205B; John Daniels, 205C. The group discussed behavior on buses and prepared to take up with their homeroom constituents a set of rules on this topic that had been prepared by the Student Council, another student government body.

Social Studies classes have been discussing the matter of state elections and stressing the importance of citizens exercising their voting privilege. Pupils are encouraged to talk with their parents about the elections and urge them to vote. In many classes election of officers are being completed this week, with pupils casting their ballots in the same manner as for the state elections.

Other activities planned by the Council include the filling of gift boxes, making of albums and favors, and possibly the filling of an overseas school chest in the spring.

Carr School Parent-Teachers' Ass'n

The first regular meeting of the Carr School P.T.A. was held Tuesday evening, at 7:30 p.m. The program was a demonstration of art activities in the school in connection with American Education Week.

Miss F. Eleanor Elliott, director of Art Education in the Newton Public Schools, introduced the subject by speaking briefly about the philosophy of art education in Newton. Following this was a demonstration by groups of children from Kindergarten through Grade VI using all the materials and tools necessary to carry on the different art media. Each art medium was explained by Miss Elliott and Miss Helen Rose, the Supervisor of Elementary Art in the Newton Public Schools.

Kodachrome slides showing children in the Newton schools carrying on various art activities were also shown.

There was a short business meeting after which refreshments were served and teachers held open house in their rooms.

ELAINE REED

If you voted last Tuesday, you undoubtedly had done some "scouting" before placing your X in front of a name on the ballot. You owed it to yourself and your neighborhood to know about the candidates for whom you placed your vote.

You owe it to yourself, also, to do some "scouting" in the shops of your own neighborhood first for your late fall and early holiday needs. If you cast your "shopping" vote in your own neighborhood, too, you'll find you've elected a wonderful retail selection with minimum shopping effort in your own backyard.

Further accentuating Eric's excellent taste is a choice selection of hand-made furniture on display now in his shop. All solid mahogany, these pieces are Eighteenth Century copies. A handsome Pie Crust table, which gets its name from the fluted edges of the table top, is all hand-carved and hand-rubbed from the tip-top to the Georgian design and ball foot. This table is an accurate copy even to the detail of a "lazy-Susan" effect and the old-fashioned lock that holds the tip-top. This would make a gift to be treasured for years on end.

A call to Eric of the fashionable ERIC'S INTERIOR DECORATING AND FURNITURE SHOP at AL 4-4670 is all it takes to make arrangements for Eric to pay a visit to your home to help you personally with any decorating plans.

Soft gray or white hair is an enviably attractive addition to maturity. Often, though, it requires extra care to keep it up. The texture of your hair is apt to be changed and it must be treated gently. Perhaps you have discovered that your gray or white crowning glory doesn't respond to a permanent wave as it used to, or perhaps you haven't even dared to attempt having one. The HAZEL GANTER BEAUTY SHOP, 248 Walnut Street in Newtonville makes a specialty of permanent waving, particularly for gray or white hair. They are expert in giving the Halliwell Gray Glory permanent wave that was created especially for white or gray hair. The Halliwell Gray Glory permanent is a cold wave and has a milder, gentler, action. It absolutely does not yellow white hair as an ordinary wave is apt to. You can bring out the full mature beauty of your gray hair in soft natural waves with a safe Halliwell Gray Glory permanent. Call the HAZEL GANTER BEAUTY SHOP at BI 4-2192 and make an appointment for that permanent wave you've been wanting—get it done by a beauty operator who knows how to handle your particular crowning glory.

The HAZEL GANTER BEAUTY SHOP also reconditions hair that has been abused by summer sun, sickness, or improper treatment. You can make an appointment with either Esther, Eleanor, Sarah, and Jerry, each equally experienced in hair and beauty care, by phoning BI 4-2192.

pledged program. Monday, November 20, the movie, "Second Chance", which is dedicated to stewardship, will be shown in full length. Sunday November 26 members are invited to come to church and to make pledges after the sermon and special service of dedication. Duncan Cotting is the general chairman of these arrangements and will be assisted by a team of ten laymen from the parish.

At First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, a rather full program has been outlined by G. Louis Marcy, Canvass Chairman, and calls for the mailing of budget letters on Armistice Day, and a special talk on the needs of the church at the Loyalty Sunday service on November 12 by the Canvass Chairman. November 19 will be observed as Family Thanksgiving Sunday and the entire family pew will be reminded of Canvass Sunday the following week when all pledges received prior and during the service will be presented at the altar and dedicated. Visitations will be made on November 26 on all those who have not pledged up to service time on Canvass Sunday.

At the Newtonville Methodist Church where Hamilton Gifford is pastor, there will be a family Thanksgiving service on November 19 which will be addressed by Canvass Chairman, Theodore F. Koch. On November 26th the ladies of the parish will serve a luncheon to the Canvass committee who will then go out to the homes asking for pledges for 1951.

At Eliot Church there will be a Loyalty Sunday supper November 12 for the entire membership of the Church. The Budget for 1951 will be presented and discussed at this time. November 19, Lyman's Sunday will be observed and the Hon. Theodore R. Lockwood, a member of Eliot Church will address the congregation. Sunday evening the film, "Second Chance" will be shown to launch Canvass Week. During the week of November 20 there will be four preparation meetings for Canvassers from 7:30 to 8:30 in the chapel.

Monday, November 20, Dr. Eusden will speak on "Stewardship"; Tuesday, Mr. Baldwin Callahan, secretary of Mission Education of the Congregational Church will speak on the "World Christian Mission." Friday, the Canvass Chairman, R. Casper Swaney, will present a discussion of canvass techniques. Canvass Sunday, November 26 the canvassers will be commissioned in a service of dedication followed by a special dinner and the actual Canvass. Report of progress will be received in the evening during the entertainment for the entire parish.

At the Newton Methodist Church where Paul S. Rich is the newly appointed Canvass Chairman there will be a luncheon following the Loyalty Sunday service November 12 at which time 20 canvass teams will be briefed for an afternoon visitation in the homes of the parish. These teams will go forth two by two to explain the new budget, to tell what the various activities of the church are, and to urge everyone to come to the Family Thanksgiving service November 19 to hear the Rev. Dr. John Walker, retired member of the Indian Conference and interim minister of the church. Following a sermon on "Stewardship", the Canvass Chairman will speak and pledges will be made and taken to the altar to be dedicated. Those who have not pledged will be called on November 26.

At the Church of the Messiah, Loyalty Sunday will be marked November 12 and Ulysses S. Harris, prominent layman of the Diocese of Massachusetts and Delegate to General Convention will speak on the "Challenge of our Church" with particular reference to the program of the Episcopal Church in all the world.

The three meetings will be held in the auditorium of the Newton High School and invitations to attend will be issued to the teachers of adjoining towns as well as to the School Committee, Board of Aldermen, Parent-Teacher Associations, the education committees of various organizations and others who have an interest in promoting and improving public education.

On the question of flat rate automobile insurance, Newton voters registered in no uncertain terms their disapproval of such a plan voting 29,742 against it to 2,947 for it. The Lottery and Old Age Assistance plan likewise came in for a decisive No vote and by a large plurality Newton voters gave a decision for retention of Rent Control.

Senator Richard H. Lee received the highest Republican vote of all candidates on the ballot with a total of 24,973, closely followed by Congressman Christian A. Herter with a total vote of 24,657.

High School Senior Play to Be Presented November 17-18

Where can one find an aged philosopher, a play writer, a would-be ballerina, a xylophone player, Russian dancing master, and a manufacturer of fire crackers living under the same roof? They are found in the Sycamore home, the setting of the Newton High School senior play, "You Can't Take It With You!" The play will be presented Friday and Saturday, November 17 and 18, in the high school auditorium.

The story is centered around a lovable and highly amusing family that is somewhat set apart from the rest of the world. Since each member of the family indulges in whatever pastime or occupation he finds most enjoyable, with no sense of law and order, their everyday existence is far from humdrum.

Miss Ann Sanquineti is directing the play. The cast is as follows: Penelope Sycamore, Alice Lee; Grampa, Richard Losch; Essie, Alice Baer; Ed, Leon Martel; Paul Sycamore, George Carolyn; Alice, Dora Litchfield; Tony Kirby, David Bianchi; Mr. Kirby, George Thornton; Mrs. Kirby, Elizabeth White; Rhea, Barbara Ruben; Donald, Roger Masters; Kolenkov, Henry Hudson; the three G-men, Thomas Bresnahan, Murray Helfant, and William Bradshaw.

Over one hundred fifty seniors tried out for the cast which was selected by Miss Helen Sweeney, Miss Irene M. Haworth, and the Senior Play Committee.

The awakening to see man's immortality, experienced more and more through Christlike thinking and living, will be the central topic of the service held in all Christian Science churches next Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Mortals and Immortals." The Apostle Paul's statement from I Corinthians (15:48) constitutes the Golden Text: "As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly."

Among the selections contained in the Lesson-Sermon are these:

From the Bible (King James Version): "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things." (Philippians 4:8).
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We are all sculptors, working at various forms, moulding and chiseling thought. . . . We must form perfect models in thought and look at them continually, or we shall never carve them out in grand and noble lives. Let selfishness, goodness, mercy, justice, health, holiness, love — the kingdom of heaven — reign within us, and sin, disease, and death will diminish until they finally disappear." (p. 248).

Campaign Subscriptions
Now Total $232,089.00

The Newton Community Chest announces total subscriptions of $232,089.00 in the Red Feather Campaign in Newton following the Report Night. This is 74.8% of Newton's goal of $310,000. This amount will be reported, plus all additional returns received in time to be audited for the fourth Metropolitan Boston Red Feather Luncheon on Friday at the Mason Memorial Building.

Friday will be Newton Day, and thirty members of the Newton Campaign organization will be present to honor Winslow H. Adams, Newton Chairman, who will sit at the head table in recognition of Newton's outstanding achievements in the Campaign this year.

The total report from Newton at the third Campaign Luncheon on Tuesday, was $203,794, or 65.7 percent of Newton's goal, with Women's Mercantile, Mrs. John M. Powell, Chairman, leading at 87.9 percent, followed by Municipal Schools and Municipal General Divisions—Wesley S. Merritt and C. Evan Johnson, Chairmen, respectively—with 87.3 percent. The Mercantile Men's Division, Dwight Colburn, Chairman, reports 75.4 percent; the Manufacturing Division, John J. Wilson, Chairman, 70.1 percent; and Advance Gifts, Wilbur W. Bullen, Chairman, 68.7 percent.

The leading districts in the Residential Division at the time of the third Report Luncheon were: Newton Lower Falls, Howard G. Halvorsen, Chairman.

78.6 percent; Chestnut Hill, Felix W. Knauth, Chairman, 74.4 percent; Oak Hill, William D. Bradshaw, Chairman, 73.9 percent; Nonantum, Mrs. Edward R. Risman, Chairman, 66.9 percent; Newton Highlands, Howard Whitmore, Jr., Chairman, 65.2 percent; and Auburndale, Richard S. Tobin, Chairman, 59.0 percent.

The Manufacturing Division reports many substantial increases. Although solicitation at Raytheon Manufacturing Company has not been completed, already $7,500 has been reported, as compared with $6,520 last year, and employees of Doleman Corporation have subscribed $1,195, as compared with $100 to $500, another from $175 to $300, and a third large manufacturer has increased his gift by $550.

There are many similar increases in the other Divisions. Of 472 subscribers in the Advance Gifts Division, 132, or 28 percent, have increased their subscriptions over last year. In many residential districts, substantial gains in amounts subscribed are being registered.

The Armistice Day weekend will be "clean-up" time for the Residential Division, and plans are under way for workers to call on every family not already solicited to discuss with them their subscriptions to the campaign. If you, the reader, have not been called on by Monday, November 13, it is urged that you call the Red Feather Campaign headquarters—Lassell 7-5120—and arrangements will be made for a representative of the Newton Community Chest to call on you.

Miss Ann Morrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman C. Morrill of 515 Crafts street, West Newton, is a member of the Varsity Drill Team at the University of Massachusetts. Miss Morrill is also a member of the Operetta Guild, Ski Club, University Dance Band, and a pledge of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Facilities To Be Shown

Open House at High School
To Be Held Friday Night

By JOHN PARKER
Newton High School, in obedience of American Education Week, will welcome visitors to its classrooms and will have an Open House tomorrow night (Friday). At this time all phases of the High School, as well as the Trade School, will be working so that parents and other visitors may see the facilities of a modern secondary school in action. Augmenting the usual procedure of parents' interviews with teachers, will be many exhibits depicting the diversified activities in which this educational institution is engaged.

Congratulates

Editor, Newton Graphic:
Through your columns I wish to express my gratitude to those thousands of Newton voters who endorsed my candidacy for the office of State Senator. I congratulate Senator Lee and take my own comfort from the knowledge that he found it just as hard going in my home town and in neighboring Cambridge as I did in Newton.

Frederic J. Muldoon.

Editor, Newton Graphic:
I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to each and all of the more than fifteen hundred Newton men and women who contributed so generously of their time and energy to the recent Halloween parties. Their enthusiastic cooperation and spirit were reflected in the most colorful, original and enjoyable parties ever conducted in Newton.

To the Recreation Department, and especially to Mrs. Raqua Hovgaard, we owe particular thanks for taking the lead in these annual gala affairs, which have become such a pleasant and worthwhile part of our Newton community life. Further, I wish to convey my gratitude to the people of the other municipal departments to the many civic and business organizations, to the Chamber of Commerce and to our friends in all the churches, to the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross and to the Totem Pole for their kind assistance in so many ways, including the use of facilities.

This year marked the tenth anniversary of the Newton Halloween Parties. I feel certain that all who have participated in them enjoy a feeling of satisfaction in the pleasure afforded our young people.

HOWARD WHITMORE, JR.,
General Chairman.

A Thankyou Note

Editor, Newton Graphic:
I want to thank all the patrons of my route for their kindness and generosity of my recent retirement.

WILLIAM PITT,
Newtonville, Mass.

Lauds Hallowe'en Committees For Spirit

"As I look back to the feeble beginning, ten years ago, of our civic Halloween parties, and compare them with the mammoth celebration just held, I cannot help but be deeply stirred by the fact that the amazing success of our annual celebrations is largely due to an unparalleled outpouring of community spirit on the part of the more than fourteen hundred parents and others who have served on the numerous committees," stated Maror Theodore L. Lockwood.

"When it is realized" he continued that some cities and towns have difficulty in setting up and maintaining organizations of volunteer workers for even very short periods, it becomes all the more impressive that here in Newton these hundreds of busy parents and other volunteers are willing and eager to devote themselves for six long weeks to an enterprise that demands so much time, thought and sustained attention. But to me that impressive fact is not astonishing. For these parents typify the true Newton spirit so evident whenever there is a common endeavor to be shared; it is a spirit that, whenever called on, is never found wanting. In gratification, I can only say, as the City's chief executive, that our Halloween parties are a tribute to Newton as a whole, and, particularly, to the many self-sacrificing men and women of every race, creed and color, who make them possible.

"It is interesting to note that, through ten years, word of our outstanding Halloween celebration has inevitably reached the ears of a great many other communities throughout the country. Even far-distant cities have asked us for our 'pattern', because it is so successful and, especially, because it is so clearly achieving the long-range objectives which will be of great benefit to the future of Newton. Only recently, two articles about our Halloween have appeared in national publications. In September, the periodical, 'Recreation', ran a comprehensive review of our procedure, which brought much favorable comment; and only a week or so ago, 'Quick', magazine contained a brief but laudatory story about our parties.

"It is a pleasure to speak my warm appreciation for the splendid cooperation of all who have helped in making our Halloween parties such memorable occasions for our thousands of school children and, at the same time, such an effective and delightful means of bringing to young minds a better understanding of the fundamentals of good citizenship. Every resident of Newton, I am convinced feels a great sense in this vast city-wide enterprise. As for myself, my own pride in it, as an incomparable example of civic devotion and collective effort, is beyond adequate expression.

"All of our people should be grateful to the Recreation Department of the City of ARDOH for the part of the City for the work and thought devoted to this annual project now of such widespread importance."

Woman's Club to Hold Auction at Oak Hill Park

The second Annual Auction of the Oak Hill Park Women's Club will be held November 18, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Memorial School. The theme of the Auction is "Something Old Something New." In contrast to usual auctions, new as well as old articles will be auctioned. The following are examples of the types of items: knitted or crocheted goods, toys, games, glassware, baby's and children's clothing, preserves, and household articles.

Saul Cohen, a resident of Oak Hill Park will be the auctioneer. Mrs. Robert Young and Mrs. Arthur W. P. Hughes are Co-Chairmen of this function. Members of their committee include Mrs. Jack S. Batten, Mrs. Gerard H. Connolly, Mrs. Norman S. Rerkowitz, Mrs. J.J. David Chapman, Mrs. Charles R. Gallagher, Mrs. Kenneth F. Giracca, Mrs. Murray Green, Mrs. Roger L. Harrison, Mrs. Richard A. McLellan, Mrs. William J. Mullen, Mrs. George T. Richardson, Mrs. Daniel A. Sullivan, Mrs. Paul W. Swift, Mrs. Albert A. Wickson, Mrs. Richard C. Corder, Mrs. Richard Grimm, Mrs. Arthur W. McGrath, Mrs. Fredrick T. McGrath, Mrs. Daniel J. Shea Jr., Mrs. Edward Weist, Mrs. Agnir Hagelstein, Mrs. John Kerr, Mrs. Edward Murphy, Mrs. Robert Coleman, Mrs. Walter Vossberg, and Mrs. Walter F. Morris.

students will be present in the English rooms, to explain their projects and activities. The Mathematics Room, 120, will also be open with students in attendance. "The Aims of the Mathematics Department" will be distributed to parents.

In addition to the showing of garments finished and in the process of construction, the Home Economics Department will have an interesting display in a room which is in the process of being outfitted as a model apartment. This room, when the changeover is completed, will be used for classes in Child Study and Home Management. Also four boys and four girls (in different kitchens) will be making and passing out examples of their culinary ability.

The Arts Department, besides its participation in the window display this week, will have in the art and ceramic rooms in Building I, their respective objects d'art for the inspection of everyone. In the Science rooms of Building II, there will be numerous interesting displays which will, no doubt, impress all.

In the international flavor, there will be an exhibit titled "Kerchiefs—United Nations" in the school library, showing kerchiefs representative of many countries. This was arranged by the Art Department.

Services Held for Miss Flora
Murphy, Longtime Resident

Funeral services for Miss Flora Murphy, who died last Friday at her home, 63 Jasset street, following a brief illness, were held Monday from her late residence, followed by a solemn high requiem mass in the Church of Our Lady at 9 a.m.

The celebrant was Rev. Charles P. Scia, Rev. John H. Quinn, was deacon, and Rev. Francis X. Bransfield, sub-deacon. Rev. Joseph P. Mahoney of St. Joseph's Church, Medford, was seated in the sanctuary.

Miss Florence Herilhy was at the organ and the church choir sang the mass. The pallbearers were John A. Doherty, Frederick J. Casey, Arthur J. O'Neil, and Henry F. Thomas.

Miss Murphy, who was a longtime resident of Newton, was the sister of former Police Officer Dennis E. Cronin of West Newton, and of the late Mrs. John W. Murphy. She is also survived by four nephews and a niece, James E., Philip E., Walter F., John W., and Mary E. Murphy.

Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, with Fr. P. Scia reading the prayers.

ROBERTS—Committal service for the ashes of Rev. Floyd J. Roberts, missionary in Japan under the American Board of Foreign Missions for 12 years and until June, 1946, pastor of the South Congregational Church of Pittsfield, Mass., were held Monday afternoon at 1:30 in the Newton Cemetery. Mr. Roberts was killed in an automobile accident last June. His committal service has been deferred until Mrs. Roberts, who was seriously injured in the accident, was sufficiently recovered to attend.

Dr. Albert Buckner Coe of Boston, Minister of the Massachusetts Congregational State Conference, and the Missionary Society, officiated. Burial was in the American Burial lot at the Newton Cemetery.

Mr. Roberts died a highly successful piece of work in the industrial city of Nagoya, Japan, for over 14 years. He started a Christian social service center at "Riviera Alankuwan," or "House of Neighborly Love" which survived the war. It was a social center with a well-developed community program, plus religious activities. He also taught in the city and prefectural schools, aided the Japanese pastors of the city and directed the Nagoya choral society. Born in Indiana, Mr. Roberts was a graduate of Otterbein College, and Yale University. During World War I he served in the U. S. Navy. For the past eight years he had been the successful pastor of the South Congregational Church in Pittsfield, and a well known and beloved figure in the entire life of the city.

HETHERINGTON—Funeral services for T. Gilbert Hetherington, husband of Mrs. Dorothy (Bell) Hetherington, formerly of Newton, were held at his home Tuesday afternoon, October 29 at 1 o'clock.

Rev. A. Ray Meserve of Northampton, former minister of the Baptist Church, Winthrop, officiated at the services.

A native of St. John, New Brunswick, he had resided in Winthrop for the past 25 years and retired from business three years ago from the Atwell Company of Boston.

He was keenly interested in civic affairs and served as a member of the Winthrop Rationing Board and the Winthrop Salary Committee.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three sisters, Miss Ethel D. Hetherington of Winthrop; Mrs. George E. Rodell and Miss Violet Hetherington, both of California.

Interment was in Mt. Auburn cemetery.

Saturday at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Funeral services were held at his home Wednesday at 1 p.m., by Rev. Richard P. McClintock, rector of the Church of the Most Holy Annunciation. A graduate of Northeastern University and Mr. L. T. Gerhardt was engaged in physical testing at the Arsenal's research laboratories.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret E. (Barry) Gerhardt; a son, Richard, a student at Northeastern; a daughter, Muriel, at Vesper George School of Art; and two sisters, Mrs. Elsa Meyerand of Kirkwood, Mo., and Mrs. Ruth Newman of Concord, N. H. Burial was in Forest Hills Cemetery.

SEUFERT—John J. Seufert, 50, 193 Winchester street, Newton Highlands, died Saturday at the Archbishop Cushing Pavilion, Brighton, after a brief illness.

He was the husband of the late Anne B. (Voelke) Seufert. A resident of Newton for over 50 years, he had been retired for the past two years as a proprietor of the John J. Seufert Barber Shop in Brookline.

He is survived by four daughters, Miss Anna E. Seufert, and Miss Marion B. Seufert, both of Brookline; and Mrs. Alice Walcher of Barstow, Calif., and two sons, John J. Seufert, in the family, and a son, Walter, in the family lot in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Rudkin Book Talk
Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday morning, Mrs. Thomas Rudkin, well-known book reviewer, will present "One Hour With Books" in the Entertainment Room of The Second Church of Newton, Highland Street, West Newton.

The program will begin with a Silver Coffee at 10:00 a.m. and the book talk at 10:30 a.m.

This semi-annual event is sponsored by the Church School Parents' Guild and the proceeds are used to augment the Church library.

Mrs. J. Walter Allen and Miss Jane Hobart are the speakers this month at the Lucy Jackson Chapter D.A.R.

The meeting will be held November 13 and the subject to be discussed will be "The American Indian."

A 13-year-old Newton Boy Scout received one of the highest special awards in Scouting at the Norumbega Council Court of Honor, held last Friday evening at the Newton High School. B. Colby Thresher, Tenderfoot Scout of Waban's Troop 9, was awarded a Certificate for Heroism by the National Council of Honor, in recognition of his effective and heroic action in saving a boy from drowning. The certificate was presented by Deputy Regional Executive Robert Perry, representing the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Two of the outstanding boys in the Council—Warren B. Manhard II, 14, of Newton, and Edwin H. Krieg Jr., 16, of Wellesley Hills—also received great honors by attaining the highest rank in Scouting—the Eagle Scout Award. Manhard belongs to Troop 11 and Krieg is a member of Explorer Post 2W.

Gives Talk On Taxes To Forum

S. Ralph Jacobs, of 43 Winchester road, Newton, addressed the second session of the Tax Forum of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants held at the Hotel Statler recently, according to an announcement by Ernest H. Griswold, Chairman of the Committee on Taxation for the Society. His subject was, "Statutes of Limitations and Refund Claims."

Mr. Jacobs is a graduate of Northeastern University and is a Certified Public Accountant of Massachusetts.

He is a member of the Committee on Taxation for the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants and has written many articles on Taxation which have been published in the Society Bulletin.

In addition to his activity in the Massachusetts Society, Mr. Jacobs is also a member of the American Institute of Accountants.

Newton OK's Derby Street Bus Route

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night, that group granted the request of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Co. for a license to operate a bus line on Derby street, from the Newton-Waltham line to Cherry street; Cherry street, from Derby street to River street; River street, from Cherry street to Elm street, West Newton.

The action came after the board had received favorable reports from the Police Department, the Street Traffic and the Franchises and Licenses committees.

The proposed West Newton bus line still requires approval of the Waltham City Council for a part of the route in that city before it can be put in operation.

Two Newton Men Elected to Hood Association Board

Two Newton men, Harland A. Riker, 68 Hyde street, Newton Highlands, and Roscoe F. Doliber, 26 Falmouth road, West Newton, have been elected to the executive committee of the H. P. Hood and Sons Mutual Benefit Association to serve two-year terms of office beginning January 1.

Originally formed by 16 employees in 1903, the association today is one of the largest and most progressive of its kind in New England. It has more than 4600 members protected in the event of sickness, accident or death by the liberal provisions of the company-sponsored organization.

Ricker is a salesman in the ice cream division of the Hood company and served the association in a similar capacity during 1947. He has been with the Hood organization since 1938.

Doliber, who has been with the Hood company for more than 25 years, is the assistant manager of the company's milk ranch in Quincy. He is also a member of the Hood Quarter Century Club.

Norma Farber To Present Concert Here November 20

Norma Farber, soprano, will be presented by the Newton Centre School Association Monday evening, November 20 at 8 p.m. in the Newton High School Auditorium.

Mrs. Farber has just returned from a successful concert at the Palace of Fine Arts in Mexico City and will present for the first time in this country, a series of Spanish and Mexican songs, also Brahms' folk songs and songs by Gershwin. Mr. Robert Ewing will accompany Mrs. Farber at the piano.

Mrs. Sylvester McGinn is president of the Newton Centre School Association. Mrs. Martin W. Newman, chairman and Mrs. Otis E. Stephenson, co-chairman. Taking care of publicity is Mrs. Orville P. Carter and her committee, while Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dearing are working on tickets. Subscription to the concert is fifty cents so that all parents, teachers and students may enjoy the event.

Brownie Troop 138, Newtonville

Brownie Troop 138 of Newton Highlands had its Investiture Monday afternoon, October 30, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Eaul B. Bourne, Commissioner of Girl Scouts in Newton, conducted the ceremony. Under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Eayrs, Brownie leader, the following adults and girls were invested into Scouting: Mrs. Walter C. Betts, Mrs. Arthur R. Wilson and Mrs. Marquis B. Graham—Dorothy Graham, Carolyn Betts, Susan Wilson, Pamela Wilson, Susan Billings, Carol Schubert, Maureen Kenney, Ellen Ford, Peggy Klose, Barbara Kerr, Robin McClosky, and Margaret Snow. Elizabeth Hoppe joined the group, having transferred from Newton Center.

Several of the mothers were present and punch and cookies were served. The girls played a few games after the service under the direction of Program Aide Judy Shedd.

During the past generation, the forest economy of the nation has been emerging gradually from one supplied by virgin forests to one of reliance upon growing timber as a crop.

Lockwood Named to Civil Defense

Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood of Newton has been appointed one of five Civil Defense coordinators in the regional organization comprising 42 communities around Boston, with Boston's Mayor John B. Hynes as director. The other coordinators are the mayor of Somerville, and the city managers of Cambridge, Quincy, and Revere.

As co-ordinator of Sector 4, which includes Brookline, Dover, Needham, Newton, Waltham, Watertown, Wellesley, and Weston, Mayor Lockwood will be responsible for setting up a plan of joint action among these communities.

Waban Young Woman Airline Stewardess

Miss Jeanne L. Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Frederick Woodruff, II, Kewadin road, Waban, expects to add thousands of miles during the next year to her extensive travels throughout the U. S., Canada and Europe.

She has "won her wings" as an American Airlines stewardess, after an intensive four-week course at the airline's stewardess training school in Chicago, and has been assigned to flight duty aboard American's 40-passenger Convair Flagship operating out of Logan International Airport, Boston.

She attended Weeks Junior High School and Newton High School, was graduated from Colby Junior College as an Associate of Arts, then received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Syracuse University.

Community Series To Open Next Monday Night

Pierre Van Paassen, noted author of such distinguished books as "Days of Our Years," "That Day Alone," "Earth Could Be Fair," will open the Temple Emanuel Community Lecture Series Monday, November 20 at 8:30 P.M. His subject will be, "A World in Conflict."

One of America's most distinguished speakers and writers, and a journalist of international reputation, Holland-born Pierre Van Paassen will, on the basis of his first-hand knowledge of men and events gathered over two decades of observation in Europe, Asia, Africa and America, discuss the present critical world situation and will propose possible solutions.

Judge David A. Rose, Chairman of the Temple's Adult Education Committee, will preside. A question-answer period will follow the lecture.

The Week's Headlines

1951 Compulsory Auto Insurance rates here increase 40 cents. Newton's automobile insurance rates for 1951 will be $27.50 compared with $27.10 this year, according to an announcement issued Wednesday by the insurance commissioner.

Personal Property Bills. A record total of 11,990 personal property tax bills totalling $735,955.20 were sent out last week by city treasurer and collector of taxes, Archie R. Whitman. This personal property commitment is the largest ever sent out by the city.

Visits Newton Elks. District Deputy Theodore P. Bedard made a visitation last Thursday night to Newton Lodge of Elks and spoke to over three hundred Elks from lodges in the area.

Barely Missed Being Trapped by flames were a woman church leader and four members of the Newtonville Methodist Church basket ball team when fire broke out in the church Tuesday night. The blaze necessitated the calling of two alarms and the damage was estimated by Fire Chief John E. Corcoran at $15,000. Escaping from the burning building was Mrs. Grace B. Newton, of 238 Walnut street, Newtonville, president of the Women's Social Club of the church; Coach Curt Livingstone, of Rochester road; Agnes Kalnajs; Philip Moran, of 35 Bower street, and Robert Holmes, of 105 Fair Oaks avenue, all of Newtonville. Fire officials stated that if the fire had not been discovered until later, the

Representative Rawson Files Bill To Restore Pre-primary State Conventions

Representative George E. Rawson of Newton, top ranking Republican on the House Committee on Election Laws, has filed with the clerk of the House, a bill to restore the pre-primary convention for the nomination of party candidates for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, United States Senator and the constitutional offices, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor and attorney general.

It is his belief that both major parties will be enabled to nominate a ticket that is balanced racially, geographically and in other ways if the convention is restored.

After the primary in September in particular and then after election this month, there was a pretty general feeling that the strongest candidates who sought office had not been nominated, especially by the Republican party and a growing sentiment was expressed that stronger candidates could be obtained by the pre-primary convention system.

Massachusetts is one of the few states which rely entirely on the direct primary for nominations of state-wide offices. The results of the 1950 primary speak for themselves and make a correction of such situations imperative.

Family Thanksgiving

Protestant Churches To Observe Second Sunday Of United Church Canvass

Family Thanksgiving will be marked next Sunday by the Protestant Churches of Newton as the second Sunday in a three-Sunday emphasis on the United Church Canvass which is now in progress on a city-wide basis and includes 26 of the 33 Protestant churches and two synagogues. The detailed observance of this Sunday varies with the local churches with some turning the pulpit over to laymen, others emphasizing the family appeal of the day by musical programs by Junior Chorus, while still others are devoting the morning worship to a rethinking of the meaning of Christian stewardship and its relation to the Thanksgiving spirit.

At Auburndale Congregational Church, the one hundredth anniversary of the parish is being observed with the Rev. Dr. Rockwell Harmon Potter, of Hartford, Connecticut and former Dean of Hartford Theological Seminary and former President of the American Board of Missions. His subject will be, "What is the Church?" At Centenary Methodist Church there will be music by the Junior and Senior Chorus, and a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Sydney Adams. At the

To Commence First Aid Class On Nov. 30

A Standard First Aid class will open Thursday, November 30, according to Gilbert J. Champagne, Chairman of First Aid for the Newton Red Cross Chapter. The 18-hour course will be given on the successive Thursdays from 3 to 5 p.m. at Chapter Headquarters, 21 Foster street, Newtonville, and will be conducted by Mrs. Eleanor Peabees, a certified Red Cross instructor.

Under the National Civil Defense Program, Red Cross has been requested to assume responsibility for training approximately twenty million people in First Aid. The course beginning November 30 is the first of a series to be offered by the Newton Chapter in response to this request from W. Stuart Symington, Chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

Persons wishing to enroll may do so by telephoning the Chapter House LA 7-6000.

Schools Hold First Series Broadcast

The first in the 1950-1951 series of Newton Public Schools broadcasts over radio station WCRB was presented November 8. This is the fourth consecutive year that these popular fifteen minute programs have been aired from classrooms in the Newton High School.

The inaugural presentation November 8, was a special half hour show divided into two parts. For the first portion, the Newton Teachers' Federation gave a dramatization, prepared by National Education Association, entitled "Lift a Mountain," which was based on the Life of Horace Mann, famous American educator. The second part of this special show featured a group of ninth grade pupils from the Weeks Junior High School, who gave an evaluation of a classroom project, "Getting Out the Vote."

Judges Louis Fabian Bachrach, Ted Smith and Jack Bogart awarded second prize to Bruce Spilman for a portrait of his daughter. Third prize went to Richard Schluter for a photographic series showing his home under various stages of construction.

In addition to the contest, the library room in the Memorial School offered an exhibition of historical material for public inspection. Copies of the speeches which Senator Saltonstall and Mayor Lockwood had delivered at the Dedication of Oak Hill Park back on May 21 were among the items that attracted special interest.

Elected President Dr. E. M. Daland Heads Mass. Division of Cancer Society

Dr. Ernest M. Daland of 85 Homer street, Newton Centre, chief of staff at the Pondville State Cancer Hospital and instructor in surgery at the Harvard Medical School, was elected president of the Massachusetts Division of the American Cancer Society Wednesday night at a meeting of the organizations board of directors at the Harvard Club of Boston.

The 59-year-old surgeon succeeds Dr. Charles Carroll Lund of Boston and Brookline, who retires from the post he has held for more than two years because of his recent election as vice president of the national body of the American Cancer Society.

In accepting the presidency of the Massachusetts Division, Dr. Daland said that he would "strive to maintain the high standards set by Dr. Lund in carrying on the never-ending battle to conquer cancer through research and education."

Dr. Daland, the new president, was born in Wakefield. A graduate of Brown University (A.B.,

Residents Urged To Buy Christmas Seals to Aid Work

A proclamation urging Newton residents to purchase and use Christmas seals was issued by Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood. He said that the anti-tuberculosis programs of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association are carried out entirely through funds raised in the sale of Christmas seals. This work includes, Mayor Lockwood added, chest X-raying, health education, rehabilitation of patients and medical research.

The mayor's proclamation follows: "WHEREAS, no home in Newton is safe from the danger of tuberculosis while a single case exists, without proper care and supervision, in the community, and,

Raytheon's $13,887 Gives Red Feather Campaign In Newton a Big Boost

The Newton Community Chest announces the receipt of the largest amount ever subscribed by one unit in a Newton Red Feather Campaign. A total subscription of $13,887 has been turned in by Raytheon Manufacturing Company, of which $5,000 is the corporate gift, and $8,887 the subscriptions of employees. This gift exceeds by 32% the combined subscription made by the Corporation and the employees last year.

Other large increases in the campaign have been made by Doelcam Corporation and its employees, whose total is $1,446, as compared with $425 last year, with employees of this Company increasing their gifts 400 percent above the 1950 campaign. The Moyer Chevrolet Company, Inc., whose total subscription for the company and employees is $455, as compared with $95 a year ago, shows an increase of 380 percent.

Sherman Paper Products has added $550 to its last year's subscription, and Zenith Products, $400. Star Market and its employees has given $650, as compared with $525 last year.

Following Monday night's Report Night of the Residential Division at Bank Headquarters, the Newton Red Feather Campaign reached $261,244 or $14.4 percent of its goal. With but six days to go before the final night in Boston on Thanksgiving Eve, the Red Feather Campaign is fast approaching its close. All

Over $10,000 Pledged in One Day

Over $10,000 toward a quota of close to $15,000 was pledged in one day by every Member Canvasser Sunday by families of St. Mary's (Episcopal) Church, Newton Lower Falls; to back a program of increased activity in the parish, state, nation and world. About $5,000 more was being sought early this week by parish canvassers to put the parish "over the top" on its own and the quota for the general church work at home and abroad.

Over 80 percent of the Parish families made some increase in their pledges this year. Richard T. Viguers, senior warden, Wellesley Hills, stated. Howard W. Lewis, Newton Lower Falls, is general chairman in charge of the "mop-up."

An EXPERIENCED EXECUTOR Is Worth Money To Your Family

Before your family gets any of the property you leave, your executor must find and value all your assets, then prove and pay all your bills and the taxes on your estate.

During this process of administration your executor may have to sell some of your property or manage your business.

Efficient, economical administration of your estate usually means that more of your property will be conserved for your beneficiaries. This kind of administration requires an experienced executor.

We have served as executor of many estates for many years. The staff of our Trust Department is devoted exclusively to administering estates and trusts. As your executor we would bring to your estate and family the many practical benefits resulting from our long experience.

We should be glad to discuss our services as executor with you and your attorney at any time.

Unanimous Enthusiasm Shown At Fourth Annual Art Exhibit

Unanimous enthusiasm was shown at the fourth annual Art Exhibit last week of the Auburn-dale Woman's Club. Because of the community's active interest, the art gallery has now become a firmly established institution.

Mrs. William A. Jarvis, herself an artist, was in charge of the Nov. 7th exhibit. All mediums used in the arts were represented: oil, watercolor, charcoal, pencil, pen and ink, and wood carving. A tea was served, and table and gallery decorations were done by the art committee: Mrs. Albert E. Everett, chairwoman; Mrs. Walter B. Morehouse, co-chairman; and Mrs. James Cardell, Mrs. Edward T. Edmonds, Mrs. Bruce U. Gardiner, Mrs. Kenneth J. McCarthy, Mrs. Harold F. Young, Mrs. Louis H. Young, Mrs. William A. Jarvis, and Mrs. James I. Glaser.

Subjects in watercolor were: "Vespers," by Amy Jarvis; "Winter Wonderland," by Rev. R. P. McClintock; "President Truman," by Jack Turner; "Waiting," by Alice M. Gammons; and "South Side Reservoir," by Ernest Law Johnson.

Contributors in the medium of oil were: Evelyn Follett, "My Granddaughter"; Beryl F. Heyn, "Coast of Maine"; Irma Merrick, "Amariyels"; "Rockport," Dudley Bostwick; "Hurricane," Grave Lovell; "Bright Snow Scene," Alice Murphy; "Brant Point Lighthouse," Jo Barker White; "Sea and Rocks," William Sterli; "Boats at Noon," Sue Richmond; "Nova Scotia Homestead," Alice Morehouse; "Apple Blossoms," Lois Cardell; and "Autumn in New England" by Mary Scott.

Mrs. James K. Simms, chairman of Community Service, announced a large attendance at the Story Hour, held in Library Hall.

Auburndale Woman's Club Drama Group Holds Meeting

An interesting playreading took place at the home of Mrs. Edwin C. Harkins, 188 Islington road, chairman of drama of the Auburn-dale Woman's Club. Committee members and guests gave a hilarious performance of "Dear Ruth." Mesdames M. G. Clark, Eldin V. Lynn, Manuel Beckwith, Gregory J. Samoylenko, Ray N. Simpson, William E. Bailey, E. W. Lewis, Robert E. Woods and Darragh L. Higgins read with subtle humor.

Table setting for the lovely tea served later were, dainty milk glass and pink candles.

Tuesday of this week a trip to the Isabel Stewart Gardner Museum sponsored by the American Home-Committee took place.

To Present Comedy This Fri. and Sat.

The Central Players, dramatic group of Central Church, Newtonville, will present their new production, "Nothing, But the Truth," a comedy by James Montgomery, at the church Friday and Saturday.

"Nothing, But the Truth" is the story of a man who agrees to speak only the truth for twenty-four hours in order to win a bet. Larry Chamberlain will play the uncomfortable victim of the bet, and Beverly Quinlan will play his sweetheart. Others in the cast include: Don Frail, Alvin Whitmore, George Terrell, Walter Phillips, Edna White, Constance Linberg, Betty Tobey, Elaine Reed and Winnie Starbird.

Women's Organizations

With Newton's Club Women

By Erlin Hogan

Gardening, Canning, Antiques and Rug Braiding, Hobbies of President Of Newton Federation of Women's Clubs

Mrs. Roger C. Ellis, 33 Willow street, Newton Centre, is president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, which was organized in 1895 for unity among the women's clubs of Newton.

She was elected president two years ago, following an interest in the group through her work on committees of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. Prior to that, she was president of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club.

The Federation has no home of its own, but is invited out by the individual clubs for its meetings. Mrs. Ellis is proud that of the four city federations in Massachusetts, the Newton Federation is the only one ever to have entertained the Mass. State Federation, at the Totem Pole this fall. Although it rained, the day was memorable for the 800 clubwomen who came.

A native of Newton, Mrs. Ellis was educated in the Newton schools. She has three children, a son who plans to be married the day after Thanksgiving, another son, studying at the University of Maine; and a daughter, who graduated from Briarcliffe Junior College and is now employed by the Newtonville Savings Bank. Mr. Ellis works for the Frank A. Parker machine tools company in Newton.

overlooking the ocean in Marshfield Hills, Mass. Here Mrs. Ellis pursues her hobbies, which are gardening, canning, antiques, and rug braiding. A braided rug, 9 1/2' by 10 1/2', which she made, covers the living-room floor. She likes to scrape discarded furniture and reveal the beautiful, natural wood underneath. At Christmas time, her friends receive original cards which she has designed.

Mrs. Ellis says of her major activity that, aside from community service, clubwork is most important for the friendships and attachments it makes.

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs undertakes three big projects yearly, beginning with their Christmas-service giving, in cooperation with the Newton Community Council, when the women distribute money and Christmas baskets to the needy and lonely in Newton. In April they combine their artistic talents to make articles for the Federation's sale for the blind, a two-day bazaar which usually raises about $3,500 for the aid of the blind. The third major project is a play, given at the high school, for the school's benefit. Two years ago, the proceeds were spent for a victrola and records for the high school's music appreciation hour, and this year the money may be used for scholarships.

Conference Report Given at Hospital Aid Ass'n Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association was held in the Nurses Home Tuesday morning. Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr. presided.

A report of the third annual conference of the Hospital Auxiliary section of the American Hospital Association convention which was held in Atlantic City last September was given by the two delegates, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr. and Mrs. Paul Babson. This conference brought together over six hundred women representing hospitals in the United States and Canada. Ideas for making hospital auxiliaries more useful both to the hospital and the community were presented and suggestions for using the teen-agers in voluntary capacities were brought to the delegates. Mr. Wesley Sprague, assistant director of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital brought to the Board some ideas gained at the convention from the administrative point of view, discussing in some detail the subject of hospital standardization program.

A report on the recent successful lecture by Lowell Thomas, Jr. at Symphony Hall which was sponsored by the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association was given for Mrs. Roger E. Hall, activity chairman.

Mrs. Dana M. Dutch and Mrs. Benjamin Pepper were hostesses for morning coffee preceding the meeting.

To Hold 'Tag Day' Here For Clinic

The annual "Tag Day" drive of the Children's Free Clinic of the Mass. Clinic of Physiotherapy, 240 Beacon street, Boston, will be conducted in Newton this Friday and Saturday.

The Clinic is a non-profit, charitable institution offering free medical treatment to the many needy and underprivileged children of Greater Boston and all neighboring communities. Proceeds from "Tag Day" will be used to increase the Clinic's technical staff, to purchase additional equipment, and to enlarge physical facilities. All doctors on the staff render their medical services without compensation.

To Sponsor Morning Coffee and Bridge

The Junior Mothers Rest Club of Newton Centre is sponsoring a Morning Coffee and Bridge Wednesday, November 29 at 10:30 a. m.

WHEREAS, the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association is conducting a year-round campaign to bring tuberculosis under complete control in Newton, and

WHEREAS, the sale of Christmas seals constitutes the sole support of the association's work, THEREFORE, I, Mayor of Newton, do strongly urge all residents of Newton to buy and use Christmas seals in support of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association's efforts toward making this city a healthier place in which to live."

Hold Scholarship Bridge Tomorrow

The West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its annual Scholarship Bridge at the Newton Y. M. C. A., Friday, at 1 p. m.

Mrs. Henry D. Stone is in charge of the event, which will benefit the fund from which a scholarship is awarded annually to a senior girl in Newton High School. There will be several substantial door prizes, as well as attractive prizes for the winner at each table.

Among those who will assist with arrangements are: Mrs. Theodore C. Danker, Mrs. George H. Hayden, Mrs. Donald C. Moody, Mrs. Arthur L. Morse, Mrs. Frank L. Ogilvie, Mrs. Ralph C. Wright, Mrs. William H. De Melle, Mrs. Wilson C. Dorr, Mrs. Gordon S. Heath, and Mrs. Francis H. McCrudden.

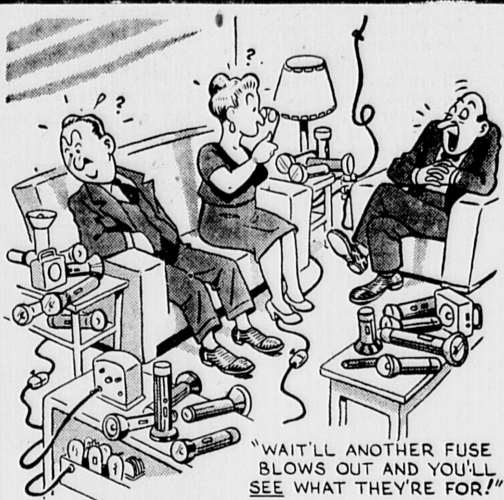

Waban Woman's Club Guest Night

The Waban Woman's Club will hold its annual Guest Night, Monday, at 8:30 p. m., at the Waban Neighborhood Club House.

Miss Cornelia Stabler, an author, actress, and director of a summer theatre, will present "It's Curtain Time." Miss Stabler has been heard over the radio on the major networks, and has used her creative and interpretative talent to achieve perfectly balanced theatre.

The Record

Just what is the matter with American medicine? Judging by those who are directing the hue and cry in favor of compulsory government health insurance, which is a polite term for political domination of the healing arts, medicine has woefully failed in its obligation to the American people.

In the light of that, it's interesting to record a few facts.

In 1900 each child born had a life expectancy of 49 years. Today his expectancy is more than 68 years, not far from double the former figure.

Fifty years ago typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox and many other diseases were dreaded killers. Today deaths from such causes have been virtually eliminated.

In 1900 there were less than 1,000 approved hospitals, with 400,000 beds. Now there are 6,300 registered hospitals, with 1,500,000 beds.

Fifty years ago the voluntary, low-cost health insurance plans, as we know them now, did not exist. Now they cover millions of families.

There are but a few of the achievements of free medicine, working in the American way. It is obvious to all, especially the medical fraternity, that a great deal more needs to be done in the conquest of disease, and the improvement of medical service. But the big point is that it is being done, steadily and soundly. And it is being done without a group of political appointees dominating the doctors.

American medicine can stand on its record.

Church of the Messiah, Auburn-dale, the Rev. Richard P. McClintock will conduct the service. Warne and present vestryman, Chairman of the Newton City-Wide Canvass, will preach the sermon on, "How Almighty is the Church dollar?" There will be music by the combined Junior and Senior Choirs and a sermon story - "Like Stars" by the minister.

At Eliot Church, Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood will be the lay speaker at the morning service. There will be a parish supper in the evening and the showing of the film "Second Chance" which opens a whole week of Canvass education and promotion under the leadership of Rev. Dr. Ray Eusden and R. Casper Swaney, Chairman. The Rev. Stanley Ellis will preach at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban, where the Canvass is being conducted by mail. Theodore Koch will speak during the morning service at Newtonville Methodist Church and members will have the opportunity of signing pledge cards on the spot. Laymen will conduct the service at the First Methodist Church, Newton Upper Falls where the Rev. Dr. Frank Taylor is pastor.

At Grace Church, Mr. Charles Olton will be the lay speaker. On Monday, November 20 there will be a parish supper and discussion of the Budget followed by an address, "The Challenge of Stewardship" by the Rev. Richard P. McClintock, rector of the Church of the Messiah. Dr. John Brush will be the preacher at Lincoln Park Baptist Church and Louis E. Ford will occupy the pulpit at Myrtle Baptist Church, West Newton. Loyalty Week begins at Newton Highlands Congregational Church where the Rev. Fred Groetsema will preach the sermon. Canvass results will be announced from the pulpit by the Rev. Richard Schoolmaster at Saint Paul's Church, Newton Highlands. Similar action will be followed by the Rev. Wilbur Kingwill of Saint John's and the Rev. William Berndt of Saint Mary's, Lower Falls, where the canvasses have been completed.

At Second Church, West Newton, the Rev. Clyde Yarbrough will occupy the pulpit to announce the supper meeting of the 150 canvassers for the following night. Church repairs as well as annual support will be under discussion at this time. The Canvass at Central Congregational Church, Newtonville will be held on December third so the emphasis will be purely on Thanksgiving at the morning service which will be addressed by the pastor, Randolph S. Merrill.

At Newton Methodist Church the interim minister, Rev. Dr. John Walker, will preach on "Stewardship" at the morning service following which Mr. Paul Rich, Finance Chairman, will make an appeal for pledges to be signed during service and consecrated on the altar during the offertory. At Second Baptist Church, Newton Upper Falls, the Rev. Francis Crisel will preach as does the Rev. Watson Sadler at North Church, Nonantum. At

Men's Club to Hear Museum of Science Director Monday

Norman D. Harris, Director of Education at the Museum of Science, will be the guest speaker Monday at the meeting of the Men's Club of St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville.

The dinner-meeting will be attended by Men's Club members, their sons and daughters.

Mr. Harris, a graduate of Tufts College with a Masters Degree from Harvard, is having the time of his life proving the Museum of Science motto: "Science Is Fun." Thousands of people are finding this true at the Museum's Temporary Headquarters at Science Park.

The executive committee of the Club in charge of the meeting includes President Donald E. Rust, Jr., Raymond Church, James Caton, Arnold Joyce, Steward Newland, Theodore Noll, Louvian Simons and Kenneth Merrill.

Hazard-

Figures available from the files of the Massachusetts Safety Council show that "the most dangerous road condition is believe it or not—the smooth straight road on a clear day. The annual report of the registrar also shows this fact to be true. Chief Purcell said that apparently the reason for this situation is that otherwise careful drivers are filled with a false sense of security when road conditions are good and do not give as much attention to their driving as they do in places they believe and know to be hazardous. Chief Purcell supports the recommendation of the Massachusetts Safety Council to all motor vehicle drivers that full attention and care must be given at all times the car is in motion, regardless of what the conditions may appear to be.

Trinity Church, Newton Centre, there will be Morning Prayer and sermon at eleven o'clock with the Howard Dunbar, rector, conducting. The Rev. Joseph McDonald of the Waban church will be assisted by the Rev. Arthur Sehle in the Family Thanksgiving Service.

The final Sunday of the three United Canvass Sundays will be the actual Canvass Sunday, November 26 when teams of laymen will be commissioned to call for pledges from the homes in the several churches. The United Church Canvass Committee of the Newton Council of Churches which is sponsoring the drive includes, William A. Jackson, 7 Walden street, Newtonville; Rev. Richard P. McClintock, 175 Auburn street, Auburndale; George E. Squier, 119 Parker street, Newton Centre; Jess D. Traylor, 15 Rangeley road, West Newton; and Edmund S. Whitten, 11 Owassa road, Waban. The slogan of the Canvass which has appeared on attractive posters about the city this week is, "This year we are pledging more so our church can do more."

Worse Than Fools

It is reliably reported that a number of Mr. Truman's economic advisors have told him that there is little need to worry about government spending, deficits, or the size of the national debt. If we are to have military budgets of $35,000,000,000 a year or more, they can simply be piled on top of non-defense expenditures of a similar amount.

This theory is not a new one. It was given a considerable amount of credence in the days of the Roosevelt Administrations by advisors who argued that the national debt was of small importance for the reason that it simply represented money we owed to ourselves. And, basically, that is part of the "spend and spend and spend and tax and tax" school of economic thinking.

There is, however, one little thing wrong with the theory, as history has demonstrated time and time again. It is simply this: the surest way to create inflation, to destroy the value of the dollar, and to destroy with it the true worth of every bank account, every life insurance policy, and every form of investment with the possible exception of real property, is government extravagance.

Senator Byrd has pointed out specific means by which non-defense spending can be cut by billions without imperiling a single necessary government function. The Hoover Commission surveys produced similar evidence. According to the American Bankers Association, the government could save $6,000,000,000 a year by the simple expedient of cutting back non-defense expenditures at least to the level of 1948. Yet the administration and Congress have not shown the slightest interest in cuts of any significance.

Here is "politics as usual" with a vengeance. It is an obvious fact that honest economy in government would shrink the pork barrel to a mere fraction of its present dimensions.

And that, the political argument goes, would cost votes. So the country is driven down a road that must lead to inflation, which if not curbed, leads eventually to bankruptcy.

Whether the American people will blindly accept such a fate remains to be seen. The American people will be worse than fools if they do not demand that their government cut its domestic spending and waste, no matter whom it hurts and protect the dollar. No nation can remain militarily strong and countenance continuous public extravagance.

Leaders of $20,000,000 M.I.T. Drive

John C. Hitt '37, 32 Verndale road, Newton Highlands, and George W. McCreery '19, 43 Rosalie road, Newton Centre, are group leaders in the Greater Boston sector of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Development Program now seeking through its alumni to complete a $20,000,000 fund to keep the Institute in the forefront of technological institutions of the world.

Newton Schools to Provide Demonstrations of Good Reading Practices Saturday

The New England Reading Association has asked the Newton Public Schools to provide demonstrations of good reading practices, both the elementary and high schools levels, this Saturday morning.

This will provide excellent opportunity for classroom teachers throughout the New England area to attend. Approximately 500 teachers will be grouped and transported by bus to various Newton schools Saturday morning.

Boys and girls, parents, faculties and principals and members of the central staff have been involved in planning with the New England Reading Association for this part of the conference. Besides the classroom demonstrations, kodachrome slides and recordings showing reading programs in action will be used.

The second annual conference of the association is to be held in Boston at the Hotel Statler and will be a two day affair designed to allow reading consultants, supervisors, principals, superintendents and teachers to come together to discuss common problems.

Dr. Emmett A. Betts, Director of the Reading Clinic, Temple University, Philadelphia, will be the speaker at the dinner meeting Friday evening, and Dr. Paul Witty, Director Psycho-Educational Clinic, Northwestern University, Illinois, will be guest

BRISTOL BRINGS YOU ITS MOST EXCITING UNDERCOVER STORY!

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT

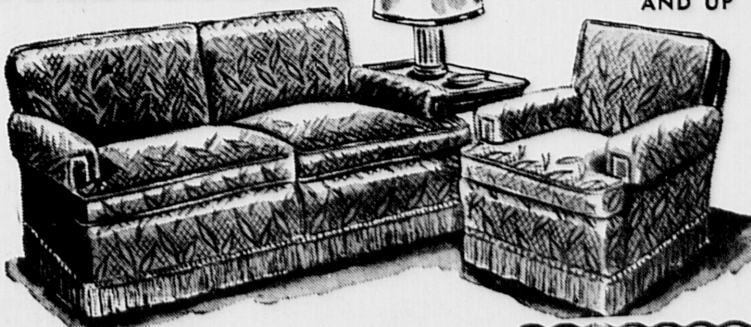

- (1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special tufting.
- (2) We don't just glue loose frames—we take out old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.
- (3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
- (4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made—that means it's stronger.
- (5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-sewn.
- (6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.
- (7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.
- (8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
- (9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor made suit.
- (10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

There's a difference in custom upholstery. At Bristol it's a fine science. The men who get inside your sofa or chair are qualified experts with years of specialized training. They studied reupholstering just as a doctor studies medicine, a mechanic studies machinery. They know the high standards of workmanship set by Bristol's—and they know how to meet them. Bristol's custom reupholstery department is efficient—and reliable, too. You seldom have to wait longer than 2 weeks. What's more, we have a huge assortment of fabrics—over 200 different patterns, each in a range of colors. You're bound to find just the fabric for your modern or traditional home.

knowledge of living conditions in different types of communities. The students spend a week in each city living with the pen-pals to whom they have been assigned. The school government is studied and places of historical interest and commercial value are visited.

Two years ago the group went to Wyandotte, Michigan, an industrial community; last year they exchanged with Frederick, Maryland, an agricultural community; and this year the chosen school lies in the Lackawanna Valley in Pennsylvania, where the richest coal deposits of the country are located.

181 seniors and juniors in the school met Tuesday to hear plans of this year's workshop. Following the plans used in other years, the Workshop Committee had invited a large group of boys and girls to this initial meeting. These included members of the National Honor Society, Lunch Room Captains, Officers of the Associates, the Senior Class, and the Junior Class, and pupils recommended by the Newtonite and the Newtonian.

Working for a truly representative group, and wanting to offer the opportunity of application not only to outstanding boys and girls, but also to little-known boys and girls in grades XI and XII who are potential leaders, every teacher in the school was asked to name three pupils—two seniors and one junior—to hear the explanation of the proposed exchange and to receive application blanks.

Mr. Floyd Rinker, chairman of the Faculty Committee for Directed Studies, told the pupils of his visit to Clarks Summit, Pennsylvania, and of the enthusiasm on the part of pupils, teachers, and the community for the proposed exchange. He stated that tentative plans, subject to change by the two Workshop groups and their faculty leaders, would give Newton pupils opportunities not only to attend comparable high school classes in a smaller school, but also to visit the famous Lackawanna coal mines, the International Correspondence School, the Scranton Lace Factories, and places of historic interest. Suggested is a day's stop-over in New York City so that the Newton pupils may visit the United Nations Assembly and the new buildings along the East River.

of the leaders and workers will be intensively at work this week-end to complete all their calls and get their final subscriptions reported, in an endeavor to reach the goals set for them.

Winslow H. Adams, Newton Campaign Chairman, has issued this statement: "It has been our aim this year to have every home and business in Newton solicited for a contribution to the Red Feather Campaign. In a city the size of Newton, this is a tremendous undertaking, and we know that some people have been missed, particularly those who may have moved to Newton recently. We shall be very grateful for gifts sent to us by any who may not have been called on. Checks or letters of subscription may be sent to the Newton Community Chest, 39 Union street, Newton Centre. If you would like to have someone call, telephone Lasell 7-5120."

Miss Joan Bruce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bruce, 35 Lenox street, West Newton, a senior at Goucher College, Baltimore, was a recent participant in a Goucher history-making event the final move of that school's resident students from its old mid-city location to its new 400-acre suburban campus.

In arranging this year's exchange. Under the leadership of Mrs. Riley Hampton, Director of Junior Red Cross activities, the Newton Red Cross again will cooperate to make the plan of greatest possible value to the pupils and to the community.

Pupils were given application blanks and a description of the Workshop Plan. These, Mr. Rinker said, were to be taken home for parents to read and to consider. He asked that they note carefully that the rules of eligibility apply. "The school," he added, "reserves the right to accept or reject applicants. A committee of the faculty has been appointed to evaluate all applications and to select the pupils for the Workshop. In the final selection the faculty committee tries to secure a representative cross-section of the city within a group of pupils able to profit by the experience. The number of pupils who can be accommodated is necessarily limited."

This year the faculty leaders will be Miss Katherine Curtis, Guidance Counselor, chairman; Miss Mary Lanigan, Department of English; and Mr. Michael E. Gradone Jr., Commercial Department. It is expected that considerably more than last year's number of 26 will be chosen from the 181 pupils invited to the preliminary assembly.

To the School Advisory Committee of last year, Mr. Harold Gores, Mr. Raymond Green, Dr. C. Elwood Drake, Mr. Charles Peltier, Miss Margaret South, Miss Emily Burdon, and Mr. Floyd Rinker, chairman and Newton High School Director of Field Studies, the following members have been added: Miss Edith Rideout, Miss Ruth Twiss, Mr. Lawrence Anderson, Mr. Donald Davidson, and Mr. Warren Switzer.

The members of the Student Advisory Committee are Judith Nerry, Sally Ann Haven, Shirley Mims, David Starkweather, and Allan Rowlings, members of last year's exchange group.

Anniversary Celebration of Centre Esso Station to Be Observed Friday and Saturday

Under the management of Fred Lovely, well known throughout the Centre district of Newton, a Grand Anniversary celebration will be observed by the Newton Centre Esso Station at 776 Beacon street, Newton Centre, this Friday and Saturday from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Orchids for the ladies, plastic banks or ball point pens for the gentlemen, and balloons and lollipops for the kiddies, together with valuable door prizes will be given to all who make a purchase of oil, gasoline, tires, lubrication or other facilities sold by this modern, up-to-the-minute gasoline service station.

This well-known gasoline station, in business at its present location for the past twenty-five years, has been completely modernized. This Newton Esso station, incidentally, was one of the first gasoline stations established in any part of Newton.

One of the new features which the Esso station has inaugurated is a free pick-up and delivery service for customers of the station. This service means that if you desire to have your car repaired, lubricated, equipped with tires, winterized, etc., a courteous attendant will call at your home, pick up your car, take it to the station for the work you wish to have done, and return it to your home when the job is completed.

For many days now, work has been in process to completely modernize this popular Esso station and it is equipped with clean and neat rest rooms, office space and every facility for the motorist.

Needless to say the popular and very efficient Esso gasoline is being sold at this station and Fred, Al, Larry or Dick will be very happy to take care of your needs and give you prompt, efficient and courteous service at all times.

G. Fuller & Son Lumber Co. Opens New Display Area

In order to properly display at a convenient location the many home betterment supplies of the G. Fuller & Son Lumber Company, Granville Fuller, Sr., has announced the opening celebration of their new Needham display center for this Thursday and Friday. The Fuller Lumber store's new display center is located conveniently on Route 128, south of the Highland avenue overpass. A large tract of land has been cleared and graded providing adequate parking, and conveniently located near Route 128 is a story and one half Colonial building in which will be shown, in actual use, many of the Fuller specialties. Next to the building is also a completely erected Fuller one-car garage which is being widely distributed in this area. This garage is built in sections for easy installation.

At the new Fuller Needham display center will be displayed unpainted furniture, kitchen cabinets, china cabinets, wooden fences of all types, Arborite wall-board, wallbrite decorative wallboards, Historic plank flooring, weldwood plywood, wood flooring, Masonite presdwood, Sheet-rock fireproof wallboard, Bevelled panels for ceiling, and knotty pine panels.

Mr. Fuller and his associates are offering a cordial invitation to all readers to attend the opening celebration. The G. Fuller & Son Lumber Company's main store and office is located at 550 Western avenue at Soldiers Field road, Brighton.

Obituaries

Services Held Sunday for E. T. Jenkins, Boston Reporter

Ernest Temple Jenkins, 53, of 457 Centre street, Newton, one of Boston's best-known police reporters, died last Thursday night at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. He had been seriously ill for several months.

A native of Saugus, he attended schools there and at Bridgewater Academy, Me., and Boston University. He was an outstanding baseball player as a boy and young man, and was selected for "All-Maine Scholastic" honors, and a semi-pro player and manager in Lynn and Saugus. He was also a Navy veteran.

Mr. Jenkins began his newspaper career as a member of the staff of the Lynn Item. He worked on the Boston American for a year, and in 1924 joined the Boston Traveler, transferring later to the staff of the Boston Herald.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Waterman Funeral Home, Kenmore Square, Boston. He leaves his wife, Jean Saunders Jenkins, and his mother, Mrs. George L. Jenkins, and his brother, Willis E. Jenkins, both of Medford.

Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Wellesley Hills.

CAMPBELL—Funeral services for Edward Campbell, 54, of 50 Oak street, Newton Upper Falls, was held last Thursday morning from the T. J. Lyons Funeral Home, 1479 Washington street, West Newton, followed by a requiem high mass at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church at 9 o'clock.

Celebrant was Rev. John J. Mulcahy and Mrs. Holly Flood, organist, directed the church choir.

The bearers, all nephews, were Thomas Campbell, Francis Campbell, Henry Scully, and John Keenan.

Mr. Campbell died suddenly at his home. He had been employed as laborer for the New England Concrete and Pipe Co., Newton Upper Falls. Born in County Fermanagh, Ireland, son of the late Edward and Susan (Keown) Campbell, he had made his home in Newton for about 20 years.

He leaves three sisters, Mrs. Susan Peterson of Beverly, Mrs. Mary Keenan of Allston and Mrs. Cassie Scully of Roxbury; and two brothers, Patrick and Francis.

Interment was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury with committal prayers by Fr. Mulcahy.

HNS 4th Annual Harvest Party To Be Held Nov. 21

The Fourth Annual Harvest Party sponsored by the Holy Name Society of Our Lady's Tuesday, November 21, 1950, at 8 p. m., in the High School Hall. A splendid program has been under the direction of Father Francis X. Bransfield, Spiritual Director of the Society and the Officers, Edmund LeBlanc, President; Joseph W. Chevarley, Vice President; Charles Seipione Jr., Treasurer; and Joseph McPherson, Secretary; John A. Shields, General Chairman of the party will have the co-operation of the following:
Ticket Committee: John Martin and Joseph McPherson, co-chairmen assisted by Frank Bradley, Christopher Bradley, Dennis Cahill and Carl Peterson. Prize Committee: Richard W. Sprague, chairman; John McKella, Thomas Dillon, Joseph Callahan, Oswald McCourt and Elmer Smith.
Property Committee: Allan McLean, chairman; Joseph W. Chevarley, Timothy Reagan, and Joseph Barton.
Refreshment Committee: Angelo Accione, chairman; Harold Quinlan and Frank Cabodanno. Fred Wheaton, popular master of ceremonies who has in the previous years so capably assisted in making the party an evening of fun for both older and younger, those that dance or still dance or think that they can dance, assisted by Eddie Hanlon's famous orchestra who regularly plays at the Hotel Beaconsfield recently back from a tour in Europe.

John A. Shields, General Chairman has planned an exceptional, interesting and pleasant evening for all and the following gifts will be offered:
Westinhouse T. V. Set, 16' Console Model; Armstrong Ironer, Westinghouse Electric Roaster, Automatic Coffee Maker, Electric Blanket, Sandwich Grill, Food Mixer with Juicer, Waffle Iron, Casco Steam Iron, Automatic Toaster, with 30 Turkeys and four Complete Thanksgiving Dinners sufficient for four people.
A full evening of dancing entertainment, fun and gifts and refreshments for a splendid party for all.

More than 350 persons are expected to attend the annual bridge-canasta party of North-eastern University's Faculty Wives Club Saturday evening in the Commons of the Student Center Building, 360 Huntington Avenue, Boston.

WELCOME SCARCITY
If all of us urge children to be careful in all things they do and caution them to be alert to keep themselves from getting hurt; if we ourselves use extra care when we go driving anywhere, then accidents are sure to be real scarce in this community.
If you're careful about the quality of the food you eat at breakfast or lunch or dinner or Snak House Delicatessen, 346 Centre St. you have a choice of ham and eggs, beef frankfurters and potato salad, hot pastries, sandwiches, and other delicious items. Sandwiches made up for parties. Snak House Delicatessen is a clean eating place where you're sure of a generous portion of high grade meat in all sandwiches. Breakfast any time up to noon. Sunday School at the same hour
Wednesday evening testimony meeting at 8.

Man's immortal selfhood or spiritual individuality, as the image and likeness of God, will be brought out in the Lesson: Sermon on "SOUL AND BODY" read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday. The Lesson also will discuss the use of the term Soul as applied to God. The Golden Text is from Psalms 84:11: "The Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly."

Lesson-Sermon passages from the Bible (King James Version) include II Corinthians 5:1: "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

This Week's Headlines-

entire structure, one of the most beautiful church buildings in the city, would have been completely destroyed. Those inside the church might have been trapped until the arrival of the firemen but for the timely discovery of the blaze by four other youngsters, Edward M. Mitchell, of 447 Newtonville avenue; Carol Gallant, of 210 Lowell street; Clifford Geyer, of 25 Highland avenue; and Virginia McGrath, of 5 Park place, all of Newtonville, who noticed a flickering bright light through a window on the first floor while the four were standing outside the church.

Surprise Party. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm A. Hamilton of 134 Parment road, West Newton, were tendered a surprise party last week by their four children, Russell A. Hamilton of Waltham, Esther A. Hamilton of West Newton, Mrs. Landrick Hart (Ruth Hamilton) of New Jersey, and Mrs. Norman Dixon (Arlene Hamilton) of West Newton.

City Employees Seek Increase. City employees of Newton, through Local 800 of the State, County and Municipal Employees, A. F. of L., last week laid before Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood, a request for an hourly wage increase, under which about 300 city employees would benefit. Mayor Lockwood informed the delegates that he is willing to keep an open mind on the matter, and that he will receive any suggestions until the completion of the budget for the coming year.

Death Due To Heart Attack. The body of an elderly Newton High school custodian, Charles Hall Furneaux, 74, of 42 Judkins street, Newtonville, was discovered last Thursday afternoon in the bushes at the rear of Turgeon's Garage, 238 Walnut street, Newtonville. Dr. T. Morton Gallagher, medical examiner, pronounced death due to a heart attack.

To Ask Zoning Ordinance Be Amended. A recommendation that the Board of Aldermen amend the Zoning Ordinance to include the zoning changes set forth in the Adams report will be made to the Planning Board at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night. The Planning Board will also ask that dates be set for public hearings at which Newton residents may appear either for or against the proposed change.

To Share Huge Estate. David Ellsworth Clarkson, 20-year-old soldier now fighting in Korea; Frank H. Colony, of 110 Plymouth avenue, Newton Highlands; his sister, Miss Eleanor Colony of 33 Canterbury road, Newton Highlands; their cousin, Miss Mary Colony of 33 Canterbury road, Newton Highlands; Stuart C. Hymers of 127 Hanso road, Oak Hill Park, and his sister Mrs. Mary H. Dodd of 25 O'Rourke path, Oak Hill Park, may share in the estate of John E. Colony, of New Hampshire, estimated at between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000. The greater part of the estate was left in trust to Mr. Colony's daughter, Julia Colony Ames of North Easton. The Newton residents are expected to receive from $40,000 to $120,000 each.

Suffer Wounds In Korea. Two Newton servicemen, both expected home for Christmas, have been wounded in action in North Korea. Pfc. William J. Foley, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Foley of 548 California street, Newton, was wounded November 7 while serving with Co. E, 2nd Battalion, First Marine Division, and Sgt. 1/c Paul F. Doherty, 21, First Infantry Division, U. S. Army, son of Mrs. Ida Doherty of 49 Langley road, Newton Centre, suffered shrapnel wounds in the face at Kaesung, 38th Parallel, in Korea.

Members to Hear Talk on Botany

A Botanist's Life Behind the Iron Curtain, is the title of the lecture to be given at the meeting of the Newton Centre Garden Club, Tuesday, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

The lecturer is Miss Harriet Creighton, head of the Botany Department of Wellesley College.

Coffee at 10 o'clock will be served by Mrs. Clifton H. Curtis, and her co-chairman Mrs. Spencer Williams. Assisting them will be Mrs. Bristol Nelson, Mrs. Lawrence Hopkinson, Mrs. John H. Underhill, Mrs. A. E. Bentley, Mrs. S. L. Sholley, Mrs. Charles Dean and Mrs. W. L. Cummings.

"My son's a successful businessman at twelve!"

He has his own newspaper route! And, what's more he's getting the kind of training that helped so many of our most successful businessmen. He's learning the basic principles of good business: salesmanship, management, service and handling of money. All this helps him to better appreciate the importance of his classroom studies; and the fact that so many families depend on him for their news also gives him a sense of pride and responsibility. So is it any wonder I'm proud of my son?

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC offers your boy the opportunities of a newspaper route, a business of his own.

munities and applying it to the general defense activity centering upon Boston. He will head a committee made up of the Civil Defense Directors of these cities and towns, and will be directly assisted by Douglas B. Francis, Newton's Director.

The first meeting of the coordinators was held in Boston Tuesday, the conference considering what action should be taken to expedite defense preparations in the suburban area, and laying a foundation of plans for mutual assistance among these communities and between them and Boston.

Edward E. Whiting, 148 Highland avenue, Newton, recently attended the annual meeting of the Advisory Council of the School of Practical Art in Boston. Following the meeting, he was the dinner guest of the president of the school, Alan W. Furbur, and the director, Harold C. Pollack, of 41 Westminster road, Newton.

Senior H. S. Play

"You Can't Take It With You" To Be Presented This Friday Afternoon, Saturday Evening

Alice Lee and Richard Losch play the leading roles in the Newton High School Senior play, "You Can't Take It With You," by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. The play will be presented this Friday afternoon, 3:00 p.m., and Saturday evening, 8:15 p.m., in the high school auditorium.

Miss Ann Sanguinetti is directing the play, and Mr. Donald B. Mitchell is the general manager.

Over one hundred seniors are serving on committees to aid the production. The chairmen of these committees are the members of the senior play committee, which helped to select the cast.

The faculty advisers and committee chairmen are as follows: Stage crew, Principal Raymond Green and Mr. John Sherman, faculty advisers; Tickets, Addison Ault, chairman, and Mr. Abner Bailey and Mr. Kenneth White, faculty advisers; Costumes, Sally Newton, chairman, and Miss Helen Vaznaian, faculty advisers; Publicity, Clara Hartigan, chairman, and Miss Helen Miles, Miss Frances Thumlin, and Mr. Harry Wahlen, faculty advisers; Properties, Judy Stetson, chairman, and Miss Mary Waters and Miss Natalie Brink, faculty advisers; Candy, Pamela Perkins, chairman, and Mrs. Helen Johnston, faculty adviser; Ushers, David Starkweather, chairman, and Mr. George Neilson, faculty adviser. Norman DeGiovanni is chairman of the Senior Play Committee.

Mrs. Gertrude Weiss Lewin, of 57 Grove Hill avenue, has been awarded a degree of Master of Science in absentia from Simmons College according to an announcement by Bancroft Beaty, president. Mrs. Lewin did her master's work at the School of Social Work.

Talk on American Indian Enlightening

An unusually large and enthusiastic group gathered at the Chapter House in Newton Lower Falls, Monday, for the November meeting of Lucy Jackson Chapter, D.A.R. Several gifts were received — valuable additions to the costume collection and a fine set of books, Sparks "Works of Washington."

Mrs. J. Walter Allen gave a most interesting and informative account of the American Indians based on recent travels in the Southwest. She contrasted the Pueblo and Navaho tribes and their handicrafts — the Pueblo Indians being expert in pottery while the Navahoes are noted for their unusual work in silver and as weavers. Miss Jean Hobart told of the D.A.R. work among the Indians, mentioning particularly the two Indian schools Ba-

Birth Announced

A daughter, Mary Ellen, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Hubert H. Hassell (Alice Boylan) of Newton, Oct. 29, at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. This is their second child, first daughter. The grandparents are Mrs. Francis J. Boylan of Allston and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert P. Hassell of Mansfield. The great-grandmother is Mrs. Bertha Holmes of Elmwood.

Newton Junior College's basketball team held first try-outs this week for the 1950-51 season. The team, coached by Mr. Beverly Wilson, and managed by Richard Morley, hopes to be the best in the five-year history of Newton Junior College.

Last year the team won five games while dropping seven. This year they have twelve games on their schedule, as they had last year. The college's first game will be played December 13 against Oxford College. Besides Oxford, the team will play Cambridge Junior College, Emerson College, Dosse College, Massachusetts School of Optometry, and New England College of Pharmacy. They will play each team twice.

Impressive Ceremonies Held

Archbishop Presides At Exercises At College of the Sacred Heart Order Marking 150th Anniversary

Tuesday, Archbishop Cushing presided at the first of a series of ceremonies at Newton College of the Sacred Heart, which celebrated the 150th anniversary of the founding of the Religious Order of the Sacred Heart. The Archbishop presided at the solemn high mass celebrated in the Playhouse on Centre street. Celebrant of the mass was the Very Reverend Monsignor Matthew Stapleton, with the Reverend Seavey Joyce, S.J., of Boston College as Deacon and the Reverend George Q. Friel, O.P., of Providence College as Subdeacon. The mass was sung by the combined choir of the college and of the neighboring Academy of the Sacred Heart. The Reverend Russell Davis, conductor of music at St. John's Seminary, directed the music.

In the afternoon, at 3:30, members of the religious orders of the archdiocese of Boston attended the presentation of a play, "Yesterday and Forever," recalling incidents in the history of the Society of the Sacred Heart since its foundation in 1800 by St. Madeleine Sophie Barat in Paris. This was followed by solemn benediction in the college chapel, given by the Very Reverend William Keller, S.J., president of Boston College, with the Reverend James Devlin, S.J., of Boston College, as deacon, and the Reverend Joseph Beatty of St. Sebastian's as subdeacon. In the evening at 8 many friends attended the second presentation of "Yesterday and Forever" in the playhouse.

The Society of the Sacred Heart came to the United States in 1818. The first nuns, under Mother Philippine Duchesne who was to be beatified in 1940, settled in Missouri where they founded the first free school west of the Mississippi. Expansion followed rapidly, especially under the direction of the first American Superior, Mother Alcyia Hardey, descendant of one of the earliest Catholic settlers in Maryland. There are now 30 houses of the society in the United States, two in Puerto Rico, three in Cuba, five in Canada and five in Mexico. There are also houses in South America, Australia, Asia and Africa, as well as throughout Europe.

The first convent of the Sacred Heart in Boston was founded in 1880 when, to quote the early records, "a Catholic venture in the field of secondary education" was there "a hazardous affair." The house was at 618 Massachusetts avenue. There the work of the nuns was, say the annals, "facilitated by the Bostonians' innate love of study and ambition to excel in things intellectual." In 1907 it was found necessary to transfer the academy to new quarters on Commonwealth avenue, where the work was continued until 1924, when the move to Centre street in Newton was made.

The academy had been 22 years at this location when, in 1946, at the request of Archbishop Cushing the Religious purchased the neighboring Schrafft and Harriman estates, and later the Rutherford property, to establish a liberal arts college. Forty students made up the original class. The first commencement ceremony was held in June, 1950. The present student body is drawn not only from Boston and the New England area, but from all over the United States, and also includes students from Canada, Cuba, Puerto Rico and Mexico, as well as two Lithuanian students who have been granted foreign student scholarships.

Newton Residents To Take Part In Shakespeare Play

Five residents of the Newtons will take part in the Boston College dramatic society's production of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice," which will be presented in the campus theatre, Chestnut Hill, November 24 and 25, at 8:30 p.m., under the direction of Francis Sidauskas.

Robert King, 465 Auburn Street, Auburndale, plays the part of Tubal, and is also a member of the production staff. The leading female role of Portia will be played by Grace E. Cavanagh, 18 Moffat Street, Waban, a graduate student at the College. Elinor Ryan, 15 Glastonbury Oval, Waban, is a member of the costume staff. Philip Mansfield, 24 Fenno Road, Newton Centre, is ticket manager, and Janet M. Dunphy, 6 Adella Avenue, is a costume assistant.

Miss Cavanagh, who played the part of Lady Macbeth in the College dramatic society's production of "Macbeth" last season, has had extensive experience in college theatricals. She played a wide variety of parts with the Boston College Summer Theatre, and other theatrical groups. Five years ago she won the CYP oratorical contest. She is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School, Newton, and Chestnut Hill College, Philadelphia, Pa., where she received her bachelor of arts degree.

Announce Blood Donor Days As December 4 and 5

John W. Whittemore, Blood Program Chairman, Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, announces the next scheduled visit of the Bloodmobile to Newton.

The unit will visit Temple Emanuel, Ward street, Newton Centre, on December 4, and will visit The Newton Centre Women's Club, Centre Street, Newton Centre, on December 5. The hours for both days will be from 1:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. These days will be known as "Newton Centre Blood Donor Days." Mrs. Leonard T. Clark is chairman for recruitment from that district. Her vice-chairman are: Mrs. Henry J. Chandonait, Mrs. W. J. Stover, Mrs. L. B. Perlmutter, Mrs. James F. Kelligan, Mrs. Anthony Leone, Mrs. Charles E. Supper, and Mr. John C. Preston, from Andover-Newton Theological School.

Postpone Any Action For This Year

Vote to Follow Committee's Recommendation

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen held Monday night, the proposal to change the names of approximately two hundred and twenty-five streets was defeated and the action taken postpones further consideration of the matter, for this year, at least.

Chairman Joseph Davis of the Street Naming Committee, stated Monday night that "after weighing all the problems of the matter, the committee voted that nothing be done on the proposal this year." Other members of the Street Naming Committee are: Leo Cannon, Carleton Merrill, Paul Rich, Arthur Scipione, Edwin Terkleson and Harold Buse.

The agitation to change the names of these streets with similar names was brought about by the post-office authorities and the fire department officials. Some names of streets here apply to three different localities and confusion at times existed in the forwarding of mail and responding to fire calls.

The committee was deluged with petitions against any change in street names, many of the residents pointing out that such action would necessitate the need to have changes made in their deeds, their social security records.

Named Auditor

Donald P. Frail Is Promoted By Newton Savings Bank

Donald P. Frail of 4 Apple-garth street, Newton Centre, vice treasurer of the Newton Savings Bank, has been promoted and has been given the additional title of auditor, it was announced by Joseph Earl Perry, president of the Newton Savings Bank. In this connection he will return to the Newton office from the Needham office of the bank which he has been managing since its inception in 1948. Part of his new duties will be to act as manager of the Accounting Department of the bank which now handles all of the accounting transactions for nearly thirty-three million dollars of deposits and over sixteen million dollars in mortgage transactions in addition to the transactions involved in the school savings system for Needham, Wellesley and Newton.

At the same time Mr. Perry announced that Raymond B. Thomas of 24 Leslie road, Auburndale, who has been assistant manager of the Wellesley office since January, 1949, has been promoted to manager of the Needham office of the bank. He has been with the bank since December, 1941, and before that was with the Arlington Five Cents Savings Bank. Deposits at the Wellesley office as of November 14, 1950 have reached a total of $3,460,155.49 and at the Needham office $1,735,099.25. All deposits of the bank are insured in full.

Community Centre At West Newton Holds Open House

The West Newton Community Centre held "Open House" Tuesday afternoon, at the Activities Centre in the Portable on Waltham street, West Newton. The Centre was opened from 2-5 to receive parents and guests and to demonstrate some of the courses given in the Fall program.

Miss Helen Quigley, executive director of the Centre told, that by January 1, 1951, approximately 500 persons will be enrolled in the varied program offered at the Centre.

Waban Man Wins Share of $17 Million Estimated Fortune

Aubrey C. Kretschmar, 114 Bethoven avenue, Waban, who is the New England representative of Geyer Publications, was named Saturday night as among at least eleven persons sharing, with a Mississippi banker and a Chicago woman, in the $17,000,000 Philadelphia Garrett snuff fortune.

The case had been in the Philadelphia courts for 10 years, and the Philadelphia Sunday Bulletin said attorneys for all parties had worked out a "package agreement" under which the 11 additional litigants, in return for the money they would receive, would not contest the decision of the orphans' court in Philadelphia.

Kretschmar, who has three sons and a daughter, explained that he was a first cousin once removed of the late Mrs. Walter Garrett, whose husband built the fortune she inherited.

Highlands Young Woman Prominent In Radio and TV

Prominent in radio and television commercials, Miss Jacqueline Seeley of Newton Highlands is now in her senior year at the Bishop-Lee Theatre School of Boston.

A concert vocalist, the young actress is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Seeley, 93 Bowden street, Newton Highlands. She has already been featured in leading roles of outstanding theatre successes at the Old Forge Theatre in Boston. This past summer, Miss Seeley was starred in the musical, "College Varieties" at the John Hancock Hall.

A graduate of Newton High, Class of 1948, Jacqueline plans to make professional theatre her lifetime career.

7 From Newton Take Part In Play At Wellesley

Seven graduates of Newton High School recently took part in the production and presentation of Junior Show, the musical comedy written and produced annually by the junior class at Wellesley College. Performers in the show included Carol Taber, a musician, and Dorothy K. Bigelow, a dancer. Among committee members were Mary Louise Lyon, head of publicity for the show; Constance Fulham, house representative and business committee; Joan Strumph and Elisabeth H. Buck, publicity; Myrna Green, properties; Miss Bigelow, make-up; and Miss Taber, music and production.

Miss Taber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Taber of 377 Waltham Street, West Newton, composed part of the music for the show, whose title was "My—

Red Feather Fund Drive In Final Days of Campaign

At the final Report Luncheon in Boston of the 1951 Red Feather Campaign on Friday, Newton reported $262,093, or 84.4% of goal. Of the seven million dollar goal set by United Community Services for Metropolitan Boston, $5,370,000 was reported raised.

With the Campaign ending yesterday (Wednesday) all Campaign units have been redoubling their efforts since the final Report Luncheon to turn in the largest percentage of goal possible at the closing night dinner at the Hotel Statler this evening.

As an additional gift to the Campaign, beyond the already generous one previously received, Raytheon Manufacturing Company and its employees have given Newton and Waltham each $2,500 more. Many other additional gifts have been coming in to the Newton Centre office, and these, added to those already received from late solicitation, according to Winslow H. Adams, Newton Chairman, are expected to add to the Newton total for tonight's report, meeting another 2 per cent or three per cent. Solicitation will continue and subscriptions and gifts from this time on will be gratefully received. It is Mr. Adams' hope that the total amount subscribed in Newton, when all gifts are in, will substantially exceed the amount to be reported at tonight's dinner.

Bill Cunningham, famous Boston columnist and a resident of Newtonville, has been actively at work during the "stretch" days of the Campaign trying to help "Tim" Clark, General Chairman, raise more money. Bill says, "If you haven't given yet, give all."

Community Council to Apply For Associate Membership in Federation of Women's Clubs

At its last meeting the Governing Board of the Newton Community Council unanimously voted to apply for an associate membership in the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. As several other Red Feather agencies are members of the Federation and as the Federation is a member of the Council, it was felt that this membership would strengthen the relationship between the two groups toward the betterment of the community.

The Newton League of Women Voters tries every year to present as speaker a woman voter known throughout the country for her achievements. Their guest speaker November 16, at the Weeks Junior High School, was Mrs. Ruth Bryan Rhoads, a delegate to the Assembly of the U.N., who spoke on "The Scenes Behind the U.N."

Mrs. Rhoads is a former minister to Denmark, and performed her service there so admirably that that country bestowed upon her the medal for distinguished service, which has been given to only 40 others, none of them Americans. She was a representative from Florida for two terms, and has written volumes on her observations around the world. But she said the chance to work on the American delegation was the realization of the dream of a whole lifetime.

Mrs. Rhoads told the women that Americans have an inferiority complex about their own officials. "The Congressmen are the butt of more intended humor than anyone but mothers-in-law!" Then she described some of the personalities that are representing our country. She said the U. S. has a high batting average in the U. N.; no football team ever knew its signals better. This is the result of consultation with technical advisors and the keenest preparation before an Assembly meeting.

When the Charter of the U. N. was drafted at San Francisco, the Ethiopian delegate told the other members that his emperor, Haile Selassie, had said when

The League of Nations refused him aid. "If you attempt to have peace without justice, you will have neither peace nor justice." When South Korea was attacked, the nations decided they would have peace with justice, even if that peace had to be fought for on a battlefield.

There were three curious accidents which turned the fate of the Korean incident. First of all, there was the fact that the Soviet delegate was not present in the Security Council when the announcement of aggression was made. The resolution now being passed in the Assembly says that if a resolution of peace should be held up by a veto, it can be passed to the Assembly, where the delegates can recommend to themselves that their countries will take action. Secondly, Mrs. Rhoads went on to explain, there was an American army close to the place where the act of aggression occurred. But some time there might be an act of aggression when no army was near by; so the new resolution passed by the Assembly provides that all member nations shall earmark arms which shall be available to the U. N. in case of war. Thirdly, close to the spot where our armies were, there was a chief of command acceptable to the U. N., in the person of General MacArthur. But the new resolution provides that there shall be a continuing commission consisting of 14 members which will be watching trouble spots, ready to make the necessary recommendation, and they will have a commission to equip and advise the units made available for the use of the U. N. So this incident of Korea has had the result of strengthening immensely the active power of the Assembly of the U. N. to deal with any further threat to the peace.

Mrs. Rhoads said she regrets that the attention of the people seems to be so largely on the clashes of the Security Council. Yet to the reading public it must often seem that the U. N. is just one long bout in the Security Council. This undue stress which reporting has given to the clashes, has made it difficult for the public to see the wide area of agreement. While they have been watching the Security Council, the Assembly has been meeting session after session, developing the atmosphere of a deliberative body of colleagues.

In Palestine, war was raging, and it was the superior work of the mediator in that country which brought about peace. War was raging in China, and it was the U. N. that persuaded the Netherlands and Indonesia to sit down at the round table; and out of that a new republic was born. The U. N. finally brought the cease fire and conciliation in Kashmir.

In conclusion Mrs. Rhoads said: "The U. N. is not a perfect instrument, and yet one that will serve its purpose as nations determine it shall succeed. We are going to put determination behind it if we realize the alternatives, and the objectives. With all the people, rests the responsibility for seeing the nations go forward toward the goals we charted for them."

ELAINE REED

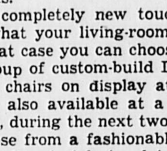

Are you guilty of repeating that famous phrase "This year I'm going to shop early!" and then doing nothing about it? Do you realize there are only five more weeks, thirty-one more shopping days, until Christmas? If this is to be the year you're really going to get your Christmas list filled ahead of the crowd, you'd better start now. Not only will you avoid crowds of last minute shoppers—but you can avoid time-wasting traveling to shopping districts by shopping early in your own neighborhood. The best Christmas buys are in the stores now—take advantage of them before the Christmas rush and while they're still available.

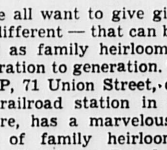

When you make plans for both sides over the holidays you'll wonder how to dress up the living-room to look its holiday-best. You may regret not having had father's favorite arm-chair (that the dog has taken over at night) reupholstered. If this is your predicament, you're in luck for the next two weeks at least your living-room still can be lived up for Christmas. Eric, who recently opened ERIC'S INTERIOR DECORATING AND FURNITURE SHOP, 2193 Commonwealth Avenue at Lake Street, is setting a special price for re-upholstering for the next two weeks only. Call Eric at ALgonquin 4-4670 now and make an appointment for him to come to your home and bring samples to submit an estimate. All labor on custom-made slip-covers will be taken care of at cost if you call Eric within the next two weeks.

A completely new touch may be what your living-room needs, in that case you can choose from a group of custom-built Lawson-type chairs on display at Eric's now, also available at a special price, during the next two weeks. Choose from a fashionable selection of materials in plain colors or cotton prints and re-upholster your old chair or start anew with a custom-built Lawson-type chair. Phone Eric, of ERIC'S INTERIOR DECORATING AND FURNITURE SHOP, at ALgonquin 4-4670, for an appointment to give your living-room a real exotic holiday face-lifting at holiday savings.

We all want to give gifts that are different—that can be treasured as family heirlooms, from generation to generation. TRADE SHOP, 71 Union Street, opposite the railroad station in Newtowh Centre, has a marvelous collection of family heirlooms and authentic pieces, Dresden vases and lamps and real Canton china. Ideal gifts for collectors—beginning or experienced. All young couples appreciate really fine old pieces of china or bric-a-brac for their newly established households.

Mrs. Seskin at the TRADE SHOP knows the history behind practically every piece in her shop from the three piece set of matched Dresden candlesticks and clock to the Dresden vase ready-drilled for wiring into a lamp.

Here's how to make a real "photo finish" with a gift for that special friend or relative who is interested in photography. ATWOOD'S CAMERA SHOP, 42 Langley Road in Newton Centre, is offering a special on some photographic item or piece of equipment that goes into effect only on Friday nights between the hours of 6:30 and 9:00. You're bound to find a value that will really please the "camera fiend" on your Christmas list because every special will be chosen from ATWOOD'S regular, dependable, photographic stock. If you already have something in mind in the photographic line just name it at ATWOOD'S. ATWOOD'S CAMERA SHOP carries a full line of photo equipment including supplies for home developing and printing, and, also, offers a twenty-four hour photo finishing service.

Holden School to Hear Miss Cauman

Miss Judith Cauman, Special Consultant to the United Community Services in the Division of Day Care for Children will speak November 28 to parents and friends of Holden Nursery School and kindergarten at the school in West Newton.

Her topic "Children and Discipline" will be directed not only to those in the youngest bracket, but to an understanding of children through the grades. Miss Cauman has had wide experience in her field, having been director of the Boardman School of New York City. Constructive and satisfying living, at work and at play at school and at home, has been the result of her inspiration and leadership among them. So well known and regarded is her work that she was invited to come to Boston this year by the United Community Services as consultant in child care.

Holden School has earned by its insight into the child's feelings a fine rating as a community asset. Each year children are started on the great road of education. It was one of the first schools to use the Role Playing Technique. It has also done much toward the acceptance of the handicapped child in the normal group. Great emphasis is at present being exerted in the rehabilitation of the military handicapped. Our children physically handicapped with the normal child's urges toward life, and need for normal experiences and companionship, should have their opportunities for development as useful members of society.

The meeting will be held Tuesday, November 28, at 8 p.m. Reservations may be made by telephoning DE 2-1010.

First Skating Session Held by Newton PTA Council a Success

At the November executive board meeting, the Newton PTA Council members voted to accept the Newton skating group at the Boston Skating Club as one of their projects for a trial period of three weeks, at the end of which time the whole subject will be reviewed and acted upon.

This action was taken after the report of the Skating Committee, presented by its chairman, Benjamin Beresin. "The results of the first skating session," said Mr. Beresin, "were more than gratifying. We were overwhelmed at the response for more than 500 youngsters attended, coming to the Skating Club by bus and private transportation. Three skilled volunteer workers helped on the ice, one of them a member of the Newton Lions Club which is co-operating so wholeheartedly in this project."

It was further explained that the Red Cross First Aid committee would be represented at each skating session.

George F. Keller, president of the Council, told the members that an attempt is being made to organize a Parent-Teachers group in the Newton High School, and then the meeting was thrown open to a discussion of membership and program planning in the local PTA's.

Christmas Concert To Be Presented December 20

A directors' meeting of the Community Chorus of the Newtons, Inc., was called following the regular rehearsal Tuesday, November 7, to consider the resignation of its president, Mr. Wilmer F. Held has been transferred to Washington, D. C., and therefore must resign his office with this group.

Its former president, Mr. Frank P. Pickett was then duly elected to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. Held.

The Christmas Concert of the chorus this year will take place at the Newton High School, Wednesday, December 20 and promises to be a very interesting program.

Thanksgiving Fun Frolic Nov. 21

A Thanksgiving Fun Frolic is being sponsored by the Dr. Joshua Loth Liebman Lodge and Chapter, B'nai B'rith at Temple Emanuel, Ward street, Newton Centre, November 21 at 8 p.m.

After a short joint business meeting at which Rabbi Zigmond, Regional Director of the Hillel Foundation will be the speaker, new members will be greeted and inducted into the group by the Ritual Team, headed by Dr. Percy Lightman.

A carefully selected program of fun games under the direction of Mr. Daniel Brown, former head of the Jewish Welfare Board U.S.O. Army and Navy Club at 17 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, will round out a hilarious fun-filled evening.

Members and their friends are cordially invited to join the fun and enjoy the refreshments. The program co-chairmen of the evening are Arnold Hann of the Lodge and Grace Brown of the Chapter.

Canines Can Soon Go to School

In the near future the Canine population of Newton and surrounding towns will have an opportunity of coming to school under the expert direction of Bert Turnquist, Head Trainer, war dogs, World War II. The American Dog Training Association announces that Mr. Turnquist will have classes in Wellesley at the Mark Jewell, Inc. The nervous, the shy or headstrong dog becomes a calmer controlled companion after this eight weeks course. The object of the American Dog Training Association is a sound one. The dogs become better citizens, and the real aim is a more understanding companionship from your dog. Your own little problem dog can really become an angel—it happens every day.

G.O.P. Leaders Did Not Aid Coolidge ... Bradford Ready to Reorganize Party ... Junket of Nine Legislators to Miami ...

Some of our Republican readers, who are completely reluctant to drop the subject of the recent State election, have written in to ask for specific facts concerning charges that many prominent members of their party did not go all out in support of Arthur W. Coolidge in his fight for the Governorship.

They point out that the men involved are professional politicians, who themselves seek public favor, and they suggest that it is time to stop beating around the bush and get down to cold facts and to name names.

Many Republicans are always somewhat reluctant to believe that the G.O.P. leaders carry grudges and grievances into a campaign, and they apparently suspect that such statements are something that political observers dream up to help fill space when they can't think of anything else to write.

Certain of the G.O.P. columnists and apologists are at least partly responsible for that feeling because every time a Republican politician has the courage to speak out in protest against the action of high party chiefs, attempts immediately are made to discredit what he has to say.

This writer stated in a previous article that about the only top Republican in Massachusetts who went all-out for Coolidge was ex-Governor Robert F. Bradford, who himself knows what it means to be knifed in his own party because of a controversy waged at the 1948 G.O.P. national convention.

Here are a few specific facts to support that assertion, as our cash customers request.

Of all the unsuccessful candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor in the September primary, the only one who really pitched in and tried to help Coolidge was General Daniel Needham.

Former Attorney General Clarence A. Barnes made one speech on behalf of Coolidge, then said he was ill and took no further part in the campaign.

Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, the runner-up to Coolidge in the gubernatorial primary, sidestepped the Republican campaign entirely, did not even keep the speaking engagement to which he was assigned.

Judge Frankland W. L. Miles, colorful and ebullient in his primary bid, who might have proved a stronger candidate than Coolidge, took no active role whatever in the campaign, and neither did former State Senator Edward M. Rowe, another unsuccessful contender for the G.O.P. gubernatorial nomination.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., who backed Denfeld in the primary, quite obviously had little enthusiasm for Coolidge's cause. Lodge issued a faint-hearted endorsement of Coolidge in which he said practically nothing. It seemed he was trying to work himself up to saying something good about Coolidge but couldn't quite make it.

Congressional Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., who had supported Barnes in the primary, supposedly was too busy with his own campaign to be able to do anything for Coolidge. The fact was he had no real fight and only had to cope with token opposition.

National Committeeman Sinclair Weeks, who is generally considered the leading Republican fund-raiser in Massachusetts, evidently was much interested in getting contributions for Senator Robert A. Taft as for Coolidge, this despite the fact that Coolidge was so short of funds that the Springfield Republican city committee didn't even have money to hire a campaign headquarters or hold a rally and the Republican State Committee didn't have funds to hire a hall for a big Sunday-night-before-election rally.

Mason Sears, who resigned from the chairmanship of the Republican State Committee in order to spearhead a primary drive on behalf of Admiral Denfeld, remained under cover during the entire fall gubernatorial campaign.

We could go on calling the roll, but for the benefit of those who have asked that names be named and that specific facts be presented, that's a partial list of prominent Republicans who at most gave Coolidge lip-service and sometimes not even that.

The furore which has been precipitated by charges that Coolidge was sold down the river by party bigwigs may result in a sweeping reorganization of the G.O.P. setup in Massachusetts and possibly a number of healthy changes.

A great many young Republicans think that someone like ex-Governor Bradford should step in, give their party the energetic leadership it so badly needs and rebuild an organization which would have some appeal for young men and women.

Bradford is the only top-level Republican who has shown any disposition to start a movement to pump new life into the G.O.P. and to bring some kind of order out of the present chaos, and it's quite likely that he will soon find an army of young party members beating a trail to his door.

Friends of Young Frederick Ayer, Jr., of Wenham, who made a strong run against Francis E. Kelly in their fight for Attorney General, now say that he is considering the possibility of running for Governor in 1952.

If that is true, it could mean an abrupt end to a promising political career for Ayer, of course, has had no real experience in public life and might well be expected to start his career by bidding for some office below that of Governor.

The most telling argument directed against Ayer in the campaign for Attorney General was that he had scant experience in the practice of law and that he had only been a member of the bar a year. A great many persons might have voted for him except for that.

About as flagrant a waste of public funds as one could imagine is represented in the junket of nine legislators to Miami to study railroad terminals.

The attempt by Representative Daniel Rudsten of Dorchester to defend and justify the trip is preposterous. He declares the law-makers would have been criticized just as harshly if they had gone to Nome, Alaska, instead of Miami to study the terminals.

Undoubtedly, they would have been. As a matter of fact, if they really had wanted to find out something about railroad terminals, they could have remained at the State House and secured as much information as they could have digested.

Representative Rudsten says that he is going to return to Boston the "best informed man on railroad terminals in political life."

Even if he does, it won't exactly be any terrific boon to the people since Rudsten is a lame duck legislator who for all practical purposes is out of office now.

One of the ironical aspects of the junket as far as Rudsten is concerned is that in his campaign for the State Senate in the recent primary, he blasted Senator Charles I. Taylor for going to Florida with the Market Commission last year.

Apparently, it was all wrong for Taylor to make the trip with a commission that did bring in a report that amounted to something, but all right for Rudsten to make a similar junket to find out about railroad terminals.

As evidence of how much work he is doing, Representative Rudsten disclosed that he had conferred on railroad terminals with Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin in Hollywood, Fla., and Governor Dever in Miami.

Dever and Tobin are both taking short vacations at their own expense in Florida, and one can well imagine the enthusiasm with which they sat down and discussed railroad terminals with Rudsten. But going to Florida at the public's expense to confer with them certainly is doing it the hard way. Or is it? Well at least, it's the long way around.

In sending out a description of an escaped convict named Donald Roberts, 20, police in Frankfort, Ky., suggested that he might be identified by a slogan tattooed on his chest which reads: "Crime Does Not Pay."

Down in Nashville a thief slipped away in broad daylight with a $50 radio taken from the police station.

In Tulsa a very uncouth citizen stole a police car from headquarters, used its two-way radio to taunt the officers in the station and then made a getaway.

Mrs. Evelyn Hansher, 52, was arraigned in Milwaukee court on a charge of disorderly conduct for spitefully ordering seven ambulances and six hearses to the home of a woman acquaintance.

James Montgomery reported to Columbus, O., police that $1000 had been stolen from his refrigerator where he had hidden it. Is that what you would call losing cold cash?

The proprietor of a restaurant in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., discovered a new way of turning an honest dollar. Salesman Edward Certin paid him $1.10 to keep the juke box quiet while he was eating lunch.

In its personals column, the Denver, Colo., POST ran an advertisement for "three Republican ladies" to complete a table of bridge.

Tulsa police are investigating the theft of a bathtub, gas stove and kitchen sink from the home of Mrs. Estelle Franklin.

A Dayton, O., housewife, equipped with field glasses, hired the Miami Valley Flying service to circle over the Wright Patterson Air Force Base, where her husband is employed, because "I want to find out where he goes after he leaves the field and before he comes home."

It must have caused a few chuckles and some red faces in Baltimore when Chairman Gordon Fleet of the Maryland Game and Inland Fishing Commission and Leslie Towner, a member of the Maryland Board of Natural Resources, were fined $25 each for illegal hunting.

Mrs. Thomas Dolan of Dumont, N. J., tearfully discovered that in cooking the Sunday dinner she not only had roasted the beef but also $600 her husband had placed in the oven for safe-keeping. He evidently intended to eat out.

Because of the illusions that were shattered when a department store Santa Claus picked up Gary Lee Roberts, 4, and then carelessly dropped him, a St. Louis magistrate awarded $500 in damages to Gary and $500 to his parents.

William J. Day asked a Cleveland court to free him from the responsibility for paying $12,100 in back alimony to his wife on the ground that: 1) she had waited 25 years to demand a financial settlement of their divorce decree; 2) she had married six other men during those 25 years.

Nothing Too Hot to Handle

N. H. S. Student Legislature Tackles

Real Problems

(A Series of Articles from the 110th Annual Report of the Newton School Committee)

Psychologists tell us that students learn best when they direct their efforts towards solving their own real life problems—not the make-believe problems set forth in a textbook. By that standard, Newton High School legislators are learning a lot. Over the past years they have had to face some real, honest-to-goodness problems that concerned their own happiness and safety.

Take the problem of fires for example. About 2500 students a day crowd into the three large buildings on the high school campus. A sudden fire—a panic—could endanger hundreds of lives. Yet fires were started during the school day by unthinking fellow students who just had to have a cigarette between classes.

The lavatories were the favorite place for a "quickie." A few puffs, a toss of a lighted cigarette into a wastebasket full of paper towels and off to classes went the smoker, with never a thought of consequences. On at least six occasions during a four-year period fires were started, in the girls' as well as in the boys' lavatories. Fortunately, these fires were detected quickly and doused by faculty members and students, with no injury or damage. Yet, the potential danger was there.

But some Newton students remembered too vividly the Coconut Grove holocaust. Indignation increased against those few students who so carelessly disregarded the safety of all. The Civics Board of the School Legislature determined to wipe out the practice of smoking in school buildings. The faculty had already imposed severe penalties on students found smoking in the buildings. Faculty members kept a close watch on lavatories, but the faculty supervision was not enough. Naturally, girls and boys would not light up a cigarette when faculty members were around. The Civics Board knew that the smokers could be detected only by students themselves; it, therefore, submitted to the School Legislature a plan whereby the student body itself would eliminate the fire hazard.

The School Legislature meant business and proved it. In the case of the few students who did not believe in the strength of the majority opinion of fellow students and who were found smoking, they were taken to the principal and severe penalties were recommended to him by the student board. Girls on the Anti-Smoking Committee have had enough courage in the right to face a girl smoker before the principal and cause an acknowledgment of guilt. This was not

The Legislature is an elected body of representatives of all homerooms. The Civics Board presented to them a straightforward picture of the situation, pointing out the fact that the Classical Building is 55 years old, the Technical, 40. There were plenty of fire escapes and exits—but these might be of little value in a panic. Thus, the arguments against smoking were based not on morals but on the sound common sense approach of self-safety. The Civics Board made their fellow students aware of a real problem, and the Legislature overwhelmingly backed up the Civics Board.

As the next step, an assembly of all students was called. On the platform were school leaders: athletes, class officers, scholars, "big wheels" on the campus, legislature representatives. They told the student body that smoking in the buildings must stop—for the safety of all. An Anti-Smoking Committee of forty student leaders was appointed by the Legislature to keep an eye on those places where boys and girls were known to sneak a smoke. These committee members had cards indicating official permission to leave classes or homerooms at any time of day to check on fellow students. Moreover, the committee members pledged themselves to turn in to their own student board the names of violators of the rules against smoking.

Thus the Legislature works at Newton High School. With only one faculty adviser, this group of 85 representatives, week in and out, faces and handles real problems. Newton citizens who conference that students who control themselves so effectively in their own group will be a vital backlog of the future Newton community.

Toluol, a by-product of coal, is used in the manufacture of TNT.

tattling; it was self-preservation as boys and girls understood it.

The plan worked. Over a period of three years now the Anti-Smoking Committee has done an excellent job. Smoking is, practically eliminated in the school buildings; a student problem is being controlled by the students themselves.

A second problem, that of fraternities and sororities, needed attention. For some years a number of boys and girls, when they were sophomores, had joined fraternities and sororities. These organizations were outside of school, beyond the jurisdiction of the school; they were, in fact, a hindrance to the best education. They were undemocratic and cliquish; the social affairs of some of the less supervised groups brought discredit to high school youth. Members of the fraternities sought to control student elections and school activities, and, voting in blocks, they carried power far beyond their relative strength in numbers. To some offices, it was almost impossible for a non-fraternity leader to be elected. Although totally disapproved of by school authorities, these organizations, sponsored by out-of-school adults—and in some cases well-intentioned ones—carried considerable pressure into the daily life of the school.

Again, a real student problem could be solved best by the students themselves. A group of non-fraternity student leaders determined to face the problem squarely. They brought up the issues in the Legislature, in homerooms, in problems of democracy classes. They hammered away on the point that fraternities and sororities in a large public high school were undemocratic. They condemned the cliquishness, the control of elections, the hindrance of school morale. They stressed that "belonging" meant belonging to the school, not to a fraternity. They finally submitted the issue to a vote of the student body. The great majority of pupils voted that fraternities and sororities had no place in Newton High School; there must be equal rights and opportunities for all students. At an assembly, the student body was informed by their officers that starting there-with no student who was known to be a member of a fraternity or sorority would be eligible for an office in the school or eligible to participate in school activities. For the first year this ruling was to apply only to members of the sophomore class; in the second year, to the members of the sophomore and junior classes; and so on. After three years, there would be no fraternities and sororities. The officers, too, went to the four junior high schools, explaining to ninth graders that no longer would be smart or essential to be a fraternity member to ensure one's social acceptability in senior high school. All pupils would be equal.

Again student control has worked. Boys and girls have solved a touchy problem that could never have been eliminated by adults. Today each officer and leader of the school is elected on his own merits, not because he is a member of a closely-knit fraternity group. In the past four years fraternities and sororities have been practically banished from our high school life. Your boy or girl has an equal chance with all others to gain recognition and success, regardless of his social position.

Thus the Legislature works at Newton High School. With only one faculty adviser, this group of 85 representatives, week in and out, faces and handles real problems. Newton citizens who conference that students who control themselves so effectively in their own group will be a vital backlog of the future Newton community.

Two girls who aided in the production of Junior Show at Mount Holyoke College from this area were Jocelyn Clapp, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. W. S. Clapp of 38 Otis street, Newtonville and Miss Gersha Kravet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isreal Kravet of 15 Burr road, Newton Centre.

This year's show, a musical fantasy entitled "Bigger and Better," was a satire on comic books and on radio and television programs.

Constance Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Montague P. Ford, Newton Centre, is on the 1949-50 Dean's List at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, where she is junior.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Colella of West street on the birth of a boy; to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Howe, Cook street on the birth of a girl, both on election day.

With Newton's Club Women

— By Erlin Hogan —

MRS. FREDERICK WOOD, shown with her three sons while on an outing at Fairfield, Vt., last summer. From left to right: David, age 12; Mrs. Wood; Daniel, age 7; and Christopher, age 4.

Mrs. Frederick Wood, President of Oak Hill Park Woman's Club, Flower Garden Enthusiast With Future Plans

The Oak Hill Park Woman's Club was just a year old in October, but already it is the sixth largest club in Newton, with a membership of 166. Its president, Mrs. Frederick J. Wood, 131 Wismall road, Newton Centre, began clubwork at the top, as this was the first federated woman's club she had joined, when she succeeded Mrs. William J. Manix as president last May.

Community service and adult education programs head the club's responsibilities. Last year it volunteered groups to work at the Cushing and Newton-Wellesley hospitals, and sent a third group to visit the women's reformatory and afterwards correspond with the inmates. In the spring they held a big garden fair to raise money for a scholarship for a Newton High School graduate, and later on will hold a bridge party in the same connection. Groups within the club paint trays, do oil painting, knit and sew together, hook rugs, and have recently organized classes in Christmas decorations. Frequently the groups discuss American problems, and before the election they studied the ballot. In addition to its community functions, its educational and social programs, the club is ready to perform whatever community service it is asked to do. The newly-formed Oak Hill Park Woman's Club tries to be a general, many-sided club like its older predecessors.

Although the majority of the members are from the Oak Hill Park area, the club accepts women from any community around Boston, and has one member from Chelsea, and another from Brookline. The meetings are held in the kindergarten room of the New Memorial Grammar School, but will have a new clubroom in January when the school completes its auditorium, to seat 314.

Mrs. Wood, formerly Mary Ham of Newton, was graduated from the Newton High School. She has lived in the Newtons constantly, except for four years when she attended Bates College in Maine, and two years following graduation when she and her husband lived in Boston. They were among the first of the 412 families to move into the Oak Hill Park veterans' housing development, which was completed two years ago. Mr. Wood, who is active in community work, is department manager for the S. S. Pierce store in Boston. Before he accepted this position, last year, he was manager of the Newton Centre S. S. Pierce. A few of his community activities include boy scout committee drives; and he is food chairman for the disaster committee in Newton. Mr. Wood is well-known in Newton Centre for his work as vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, and director of the Rotary.

Three boys comprise the rest of the Wood family. David, who is 12, is 5' 11" tall, and in addition to being president of his class at the Weeks Junior High School, he holds distinction as the second tallest boy in the class. Daniel Wood is 7, and Christopher is 4. In the summertime, the family goes to the beach at Gloucester. Last summer, however, they took two weeks off and traveled to Washington and New York to show the boys the sights.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood are gardening enthusiasts. She plants the flowers, and he grows the vegetables, but Mrs. Wood threatens next summer to squeeze the vegetables out of the garden. Also, in addition to clubwork, Mrs. Wood has for five years been a member of the Lend A Hand Masque acting group, which stages plays for the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. This spring she will play the lead in "The Tinder Box," a children's play by Hans Christian Andersen.

There are few drives you can name for which Mrs. Wood has not collected at some time. She has worked on the P. T. A., church sales, dance committees, bridges and socials, and this year was in charge of making up the kits for the Community Chest drive. She is director of the Family Service Bureau, which she describes as a valuable agency in that it offers free psychiatric service, advice, and consultation for people who can't afford to pay. The Bureau has also assisted some of the well-to-do, and would like to have more of these people take advantage of the service and thereby aid the others.

Mrs. Wood began joining groups to keep herself busy when her husband went into the service during the war. Now, with membership in the Oak Hill Park Woman's Club expanding and plans growing, her clubwork has become almost a full-time job.

Men's Club Hears Atomic Energy Talk

"Atomic Energy and Its Useful By-Products" was the subject of a talk by Dr. George Scatchard, M.I.T. Professor of Physical Chemistry at the Men's Club of West Newton last Thursday night.

Using blackboard diagrams to illustrate his talk, Professor Scatchard showed how scientists work with the various chemical elements to produce the various by-products. His talk of electrons, neutrons, protons, reaction and so forth, impressed the members of the club with the complexity of the subject and the progress science is making in this field.

President Loomis Patrick announced that the next meeting would be held December 14th with Commander Harold E. Stevens, Chief of General McArthur's staff section in Korea as speaker.

Newell Club

The first fall meeting of the Newell Club was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas V. Cleveland, 1663 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, at 2 p.m., October 23.

Gladys Starratt Romeyn of Melrose, well-known for her inspirational and entertaining lectures, was the afternoon's speaker, the title of her talk being, "Where I Hang My Heart."

At the tea following the meeting, Mrs. John A. Fulham, Mrs. Philip N. Horne, Mrs. Arthur M. Maloney and Mrs. Chester F. Smith.

Day Junior High School Notes

Although the Halloween Party is a thing of the past, many pupils who worked for its success should receive due credit for the work they did to help make it a gala affair. Joe Winship, Henry Nigro, John Rose, Thomas King, and Donald Raymond served most ably on the Decorating Committee. The Midway Committee who assisted Mr. O'Reilly included Claire Martin, Carol Langill, Elaine Holmes, Ora Murray, Rita McMullen, Carol Hagaman, Janice Pendergast, Nancy Kerr, Francis Dougherty, Hugh Mackintosh, Robert Aitchison, Donald Geyer, Francis MacDonald, Charles Wallace, Eugene Lee, Willard Hamill, and Thomas King. The members of the Dance Committee were as follows: Arline Glover, Sally Swartz, Susan Fitz, Nancy McGrath, Judy Lovely, Carlene Carter, Gail Connolly, Dorothy Johnson, Ruth York, Valerie Shaw, Connie Lindberg, Steadman Hervas, Patsy Proia, Richard Cair, Ronald Cair, Benjamin Cair, Robert Maxton, Alan Teschner, Russell Lovely, David Jarratt, Dan Paglia, Richard Battista, and Richard Murphy.

The Day Junior Varsity opened its season with a victory over the Bigelow Junior Varsity by a 12-7 score. Russ Halloran passed to Don Brigham for the first score and then Russ Putnam went off tackle on a 45 yard jaunt to make the score 12-0. Bigelow scored late in the final period and then Alan Teschner intercepted a pass and stepped out of bounds on the way to what could have been a third score. Patsy Proia and Frank McMullen were co-captains for this game.

The Day Varsity playing its best game of the year lost to a determined Wellesley Junior High team by a 13-7 score. Ercole Iafate scored after a Wellesley kick had been blocked and Bill Hamill scored the extra point.

This week the boys and girls of the school in America will act as hosts to their parents and friends in honor of American Education Week. There will be posters and exhibits in this school and as a climax, Open House will be observed on Thursday, November 9th, when parents and teachers will be the guests of the Day Junior High School.

Continues Long Years of Service

Miss Dorothy Craig is continuing her long and faithful service to Centenary Methodist Church Sunday School in Auburndale by starting another year as superintendent of the Primary and Beginner's Department. Teachers under her guidance are: Mrs. John W. Whitesell and Miss Nancy Wyman, nursery; Mrs. Wilfred Swaine, Mrs. Ulmont Jones, Miss Lois McKell, and Miss Shirley Andrews, kindergarten; Miss Patricia Wyman, Mrs. Vincent Hoagland, Mrs. Howard Fowle, Mrs. Alan Cleeton, and Miss Marjorie Craig, primary. Last Sunday Mrs. Hollis J. Wyman substituted for Miss Dorothy Craig, and Mrs. Betty LaTona substituted for Miss Marjorie Craig.

The Junior Department of Centenary Church is under the direction of Mr. Alan Robert (Bob) Cleeton, acting superintendent. Teachers in the junior department are: Mrs. J. Wendell Yeo, fourth grade girls; Mrs. Francis E. Selbeck, fourth grade boys; Mrs. Emory S. Buckle, fifth and sixth grade girls; Mrs. Walter Brown, fifth grade boys; Mr. William C. Schneider, sixth grade boys; "Bob" Cleeton, junior high girls; Mr. Leonard Simmons, junior high boys. Mrs. Sidney L. Patterson is Sunday School treasurer.

Eight of these teachers are registered for leadership work shop to be conducted by the Newton Council of Churches.

To Tell What the Weather Does to You

The next supper meeting of the Men's Club of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Newton Lower Falls, will be held Tuesday, November 21, in the parish hall, with supper being served at 6:30 p.m.

The guest speaker of the evening will be Dr. Raymond H. Wheeler, of the Babson Institute faculty, who will take as his topic "What the weather does to you."

Dr. Wheeler is chief of staff, climate research division, Weather Forecasts, Inc., and a well known writer. Before coming to Wellesley he was professor of psychology at the University of Kansas.

Professor Henry H. Stafford of the College of Business Administration, Boston University, will introduce the speaker. A group sing will be led by Carl A. Stearns and James E. Thompson. Reservations may be made by any man in Wellesley, Weston or Newton by contacting Leonard J. Edel, 56 Fuller Brook road, Wellesley, or Louis J. Vassalotti, 6 Colgate road, Newton Lower Falls.

"My son's a successful businessman at twelve!"

He has his own newspaper route! And, what's more he's getting the kind of training that helped so many of our most successful businessmen. He's learning the basic principles of good business: salesmanship, management, service and handling of money. All this helps him to better appreciate the importance of his classroom studies; and the fact that so many families depend on him for their news also gives him a sense of pride and responsibility. So is it any wonder I'm proud of my son?

Newton Y Chess Teams Win, Then Lose Two in Matches Here

Class B, D. Leighton Ordway of Gambiteers Y defeated W. Parker Mitchell, who has more commonly played on A teams at the Cambridge Y or the Boston City Club. Wm. Cushing Loring of the Gambiteers Y defeated Nutman, a former champion of the Cambridge Y Chess Club. Judge Thomas Weston of the Gambiteers Y drew with Russell Codman. Russell Codman was one of two players who defeated Grand Master Horowitz, two years ago at the Harvard Club when Horowitz played fifty four boards simultaneously. Dr. Paine of the Harvard Club defeated Larry Bonney. Warren Blaisdell of the Gambiteers Y defeated Manson Glover.

Class B, Captain Vazakas of Boston University defeated Carl Miller. Sinclair of Boston University defeated Capt. George Hopwood. Hersey of Boston University defeated Dr. S. W. Kramer. Mr. Hersey is a teacher of Scientific German at B. U. and a student in the Graduate School. Out of twelve games Mr. Hersey played in the league last year, he was defeated only once. Valdemar Nielsen of Commonwealth Y defeated Owen. Tommano of Boston University, defeated William Krzewick, who is a Junior in the Newton High School.

Before the matches started there were recitations from Virgil and Homer in the original Latin and Greek. A selection from the Odes of Horace and its adaptation by Thomas Gray in his famous Elegy.

During one quiet period Mr. Hersey pulled out a book and was reading a translation of Ovid, the famous Latin poet.

The Newton Y was fortunate in having the strength of some of the former experienced Newton Chestnut players to strengthen the Gambiteers team.

On Friday, Nov. 17, in Class A, the Lithuanian Club plays the Intruder Y at the Newton Y. In Class B, the Newton Y Gambiteers have a bye. The Newton Y Commonwealth plays the Harvard Club in Boston.

The Newton Y Chess Club meets every Tuesday night at 7:30 p. m. in the Colonial Room of the Y at 276 Church street, Newton. If you enjoy chess, come and play with us.

Hammondswood Opens at Chestnut Hill

The Hammondswood Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge will be open every day, 11 a. m. till midnight with "High Tea at the Hammondswood" served 3 to 4:30 daily as a service to shoppers.

Naturally, the Hammondswood is air-conditioned. There is no parking problem either, for two large adjacent areas provide ample space.

The cocktail lounge has been designed to accommodate mixed couples or groups of women shoppers. It has a smart atmosphere making use of a back bar arrangement which places liquors and glassware out of sight, allowing patrons to fully enjoy the relaxing atmosphere and the fluorescent murals depicting the history of tennis.

Downstairs there is a pleasant and intimate private dining room which accommodates up to 90 people. Here, all types of deluxe full course dinners or special luncheons may be prepared and served for individual party groups, clubs, wedding receptions and other occasions.

William E. Philbrook, manager, states: "Only exceptional food and the finest liquors are to be served in the Hammondswood... in a location which lends itself naturally to a smart, Modern Classique atmosphere."

Auburndale

Gordon L. Brett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Afley L. Brett, 57 Windermere road, Auburndale, has been initiated to the Theta Delta Chi fraternity at Brown University. A graduate of Deerfield Academy, Brett is now in his sophomore year at Brown and is a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Joan Kearney and Mary Wait are members of the senior hockey team at Lasell Junior College in Auburndale. Miss Kearney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Kearney of 269 Webster street, Auburndale, and Miss Wait is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip E. Wait of 7 Warren terrace, Newton Centre.

Services Held Monday for Jas. E. Farrell, Retired Banker

James E. Farrell, 78, died last Thursday at his home, 60 Henshaw terrace, West Newton. He had retired a few years ago from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation of Boston, where he had been an examiner. He was in the banking business for fifty years.

He began his banking career at the First National Bank of West Newton, going next to the Industrial Trust Company of Boston. He was manager of the loan department of the Federal Trust Company of Boston before joining the federal corporation. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Katherine Morrisey Farrell, and his daughter, Miss Anna I. Farrell.

A requiem mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock Monday morning at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton.

Interment was in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

MRS. MARY T. DUGGAN—Mrs. Mary T. (O'Connell) Duggan, wife of the late Henry J. Duggan, of 1 Beacon street, Newton, died last Wednesday after an illness of two weeks. She was 86 years of age.

Born in County Cork, Ireland, she had made her home in Newton for the past 65 years and was a communicant of the Church of Our Lady, Newton. Surviving are two daughters, Miss Helen A. Duggan, with whom she made her home, and Mrs. Edmund P. LeBlanc, of 177 Jackson road, Newton, and two grandchildren. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 9:30 from her late residence, with a solemn high mass of requiem at Our Lady's Church, Newton, at 10 o'clock. Her nephew, Rev. Edward O'Connell of West Newton, said the mass. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

J. DONALDSON NICHOLS—Funeral services for J. Donaldson Nichols, 66, president of the Cambridge Street Metal Company, Allston, were held Sunday.

Funeral services were held from his late residence, Wednesday morning, with a solemn high mass at the Corpus Christi Church at 10 o'clock. Besides his wife, Mr. Underhill is survived by three sons, Robert, William, and John, and by two daughters, Mary Lee, and Betty Ruth Underhill.

CHARLES A. J. UNDERHILL—Charles A. J. Underhill, husband of Catherine E. (McNiff) Underhill, died suddenly at his home, 18 Camden road, Newton, Sunday.

Funeral services were held from his late residence, Wednesday morning, with a solemn high mass at the Corpus Christi Church at 10 o'clock. Besides his wife, Mr. Underhill is survived by three sons, Robert, William, and John, and by two daughters, Mary Lee, and Betty Ruth Underhill.

Lawrence O. Bidstrup, Richard O. Ewer, Gerald S. Maloney, Gordon B. Gifford, Robert L. Gibson, Katherine Harlow, Stanley Newman, Miles N. Clair, Alfred H. Stafford.

official uniformed personnel of the Salvation Army will participate in this final step to reach our quota. They will not make any calls at homes — but will simply be on hand in numerous localities for the convenience of those friends of the 'Army' who have not been visited by our local workers, and for those who wish to add to their previous gifts.

"Since 'Tag Day' comes the day before Thanksgiving, I am hoping that the many who have so much to be thankful for on this national holiday will wish to share their good fortune with the less fortunate.

"I therefore ask, and urge, our Newton neighbors to respond as generously as possible to this special day-before-Thanksgiving appeal, and so help maintain the 'Army's' humane services which are so vital in making life a little more bearable for those in desperate straits."

Oak Hill Park Woman's Club

The twelve committees of the Oak Hill Park Woman's Club are busy planning an active and useful year for the club members.

The Adult Education Committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Warren is dividing into small groups to pursue different talents. Mrs. Ernest Bergstrom will head a class in furniture decorating. Mrs. Colin MacDougall's group under the guidance of Mrs. D. Allen Smith of Oak Hill will make Christmas decorations. Tray Painting and Early American Painting will be the hobby of the group directed by Mrs. William Mannix. Mrs. George Warren will be hostess to a class for hooked rugs directed by Mrs. Bruce Hick.

Mrs. Henry J. Chandonair, Jr., chairman of the Service Committee, has relegated worthwhile duties to the members of her committee. Mrs. William W. Fagen has charge of the sale for the Blind. Mrs. Henry Polard will send cards to the parents of new members of Oak Hill Park. Newton-Wellesley Hospital work will be done by Mrs. William G. Doherty Jr. and her helpers. Mrs. Franklin N. Flaschner will do volunteer work at the Peabody Home. The entire committee is working on the Christmas Seal drive, and with the Red Cross for the Blood Bank.

The Legislature committee has the able Mrs. David Greer Jr. as its chairman. Assisting her are Mrs. Allen Reid and Mrs. Daniel Sullivan, co-chairman.

Discussion group held October 18 discussed the questions that appear on the official ballot. At the next meeting, November 27, the topic for discussion will be the question: Should the Communist Party be outlawed?

Mrs. Arthur Hagelstein is chairman of the ways and means committee. A highly successful bridge-canasta party was held October 25 by the ways and means committee in the houses of the members of the Oak Hill Park Woman's Club. At present the committee is working on the Annual Auction to be held November 18. Mrs. Arlene Young and Mrs. Arthur W. P. Hughes are co-chairmen of this affair.

In addition to the above committees are the following: membership, Mrs. Robert G. Fitzgerald, chairman; nominating, Mrs. Edward M. McMahon, chairman; program, Mrs. Edward Baker, chairman; publicity, Mrs. Walter F. Morris, chairman; hospitality, Mrs. Veron G. Phipps, chairman; finance, Mrs. Charles J. Thomas; reception, Mrs. Charles J. Thomas; year book, Mrs. Frederick J. Wood, chairman.

Mrs. Richard Rockett, chairman of American Home Committee is planning a cook book composed of recipes from Oak Hill Park. The members of her committee are zealously collecting and illustrating these favorite recipes. The next meeting of the committee will be November 15 at Memorial School. Dr. Frank Law, chief of Public Health Service, will be the guest speaker. The subject of his talk is "Care of Teeth and the use of Sodium Fluoride."

Christmas Bazaar To Be Held Next Thurs. and Fri.

The Newton Centre Methodist Church will hold its Christmas Bazaar next Thursday and Friday, November 30 and December 1. Hand made and hand painted articles will be on sale along with the customary candy, grab bags, aprons, and toys.

Mid morning coffee and afternoon tea will be served as well as suppers both evenings at 6:30 p.m.

Friday night will be "family night" with movies to follow the buffet style creamed chicken supper. Roast Beef will be served at Thursday's supper.

Professor Ben will entertain the children Friday afternoon. Movies will be shown on Thursday, while sales of home baked goods will be held each afternoon.

Friendship Guild To Meet Next Tuesday

Members and friends of the Friendship Guild of the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, will meet next Tuesday in the Church Parlor.

Supper is to be served at 6:30 p.m., under the direction of Mrs. T. Edwin Peterson and Mrs. Roy A. Stinson and their committee.

Waltham Outlasts Newton, Wins in Thriller, 21-14

Meeting the strongest team in Class A November 11, Newton High gave a good account of itself, showing surprising strength and fight, but going down in defeat to a classy Waltham High eleven, 21-14, at the Waltham Athletic Field before a crowd of 7000 fans.

It was the Orange's fourth loss of the year, but was probably the best game of inspired football for the Hustonmen. The traditional rivalry between the two clubs is always anticipated by the fans and the affair was no disappointment. At one point, in the third period, the score was locked at 7-7, with many expecting an upset, but the Jack Fisher-coached eleven, which has gone undefeated all year, pushed across two T.D.'s in the second half for the victory.

Outstanding for Newton were Dan Coffey, speedster Bob Shannon, Don Thompson, and John Tripp. Bob Morrison, left end for the Orange, picked a John Higgins' pass out of the air in the end zone for Newton's first touchdown. The second T.D. came on a dash through right tackle by Tripp in the last period.

Waltham's aces and chief ball carriers were Joe Terrasi and Edwin Beck, both superlative runners. Terrasi, one of the best in the state and up for possible Class A honors.

The Watch Citizens struck first in the second period after stopping the Newton offensive on their own 48-yard line. In six plays they had the ball over and a possible rout in the making. Beck picked up six yards on an end sweep, followed by Terribe Terrasi plowing through the middle for five. On the 35 yard line, Beck kicked a 20 yard punt. On the 15, but interference was called on the play and Waltham had a first down on the 15. Two line bucks netted the Crimson five yards, and then Krol flipped to Terrasi who raced into the end zone for the first Waltham tally. Terrasi also kicked the point for the 7-0 lead.

Newton evened things up at the start of the second half, with Thompson taking the kickoff and carrying to the 32. Shannon cut for the left side on a neat 24-yard run, but a clipping penalty was waged against Newton, putting them back to the 41. After Shannon picked up a first down on the Waltham 45, Tripp, a track star, raced around left end on a 32-yard run, bringing the ball to the 3 and within striking distance.

Tripp was nailed at the line on the first T.D. attempt, but quarterback Higgins found Morrison in the end zone for the six-pointer. Deuten converted to lock the count at 7-7.

Taking the kickoff Waltham turned on its full power in the third period starting from its own 40. Beck sliced off left end for 11 yards, and Terrasi almost broke away on a right end run which took him to the Newton 21, a 23-yard dash. Beck elected to try the left end again, and finding the opposition porous, went the distance and scored standing in the end zone. Terrasi booted the extra point to give the Watch Citizens a 14-7 advantage.

Finding their edge not too comfortable, and the Orange and Black squad from Newton playing their heads off, the Fisher-coached eleven registered another T.D. to insure the victory. Waltham took possession of the oval when Newton kicked out of a tight situation after holding the Crimson hordes at the goal line. Waltham took over on the 35 and moved the ball over in six plays. Terrasi and Joe Boudreau combined to collect 17 yards, and Beck carried twice for 11 yards and a first down with goal to go. Joe Terrasi then bulled over on a tremendous line plunge that sent he and Shannon sprawling when they both collided. Krol kicked the point to put Waltham in front 21-7.

A touchdown march by Newton late in the fourth period gave the Orange their second tally. Moving the ball on the ground most of the time, Coffey came up with a nice pass to Morrison for 20 yards to put the oval on the three. From this spot, Tripp skipped through right tackle standing up and Dauten booted the point. Waltham took the kickoff and held possession of the oval for the remainder of the game.

Hear Of Chinese Art Of Living

Rev. Peter Y. F. Shih, world traveler, preacher, and lecturer, addressed the Auberndale Woman's Club, November 8, on "The Chinese Art of Living."

Dr. Shih said that after visiting thirty countries he has found Americans to be the most impatient people in the world. The ability to live together is a characteristic of the Chinese people, he claims. In every home in China three basic principles are practiced: Patience, Quiet (trouble comes from talking too much), and Politeness. Reverence, respect and honor to parents and teachers are the foundations on which Chinese culture exists.

Dr. Shih said that meditation should be practiced by everyone. Only by meditating will little things and thoughts leave you and big, worthwhile ones take their place. He concluded the talk with the quotation, "Too big for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, too happy to permit the presence of trouble."

Special guest of the afternoon was Miss Adelaide Ball, new Twelfth District Director of the M. S. F. W. C. Mrs. Kenneth D. Amidon and Mrs. Byron H. Pierce poured at the coffee hour. Mrs. Keith C. Parris, president, introduced new members and guests, and Mrs. Samoylenko acted as hostess. The table and mantel were decorated with Chinese figurines and vases of bronze chrysanthemums.

Club Celebrates Eleventh Birthday

The Newton Junior Community Club celebrated its eleventh birthday anniversary, Monday, November 6, at the Newton Y.M.C.A. Guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Wm. P. Suzanne. She spoke on "Flowers are fun." Her display and demonstration of flower arrangements was of a practical nature, using everyday flowers found in most gardens, arranged in containers to be found in any home.

This was an open meeting with each member bringing a guest. Among the honored guests were Miss Adelaide Ball, district representative of the twelfth district of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Edward Blake, President of the Newton Community Club, Mrs. Donald Gibbs, and Mrs. Everett Olds former advisors of the club, and Mrs. Carlton L. Shaw, and Mrs. Edward Aldrich, present advisors.

James Strathern, son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Strathern, 177 Varick road, Newton, has been pledged to the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity at Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio.

Newton Heavy Favorite On Thanksgiving Day

The traditional Thanksgiving Day football game between Newton High and Brookline High today (Thursday) should turn out to be nothing but a morning appetizer for the local club before sitting down for the holiday feast in the afternoon. The Newton Tiger's season record of four wins as against the same number of defeats does not present too big an advantage, but compared to Brookline's seven losses and one tie, the result will closely resemble a turkey chase.

Coach Harry Downes of Brookline has witnessed probably the worst year of his career since joining Class A schoolboy competition in 1947, after bringing three Class B championships to Brookline High from 1945 to 1947. Earlier this year he expressed misgivings about the ability of his gridders to compete successfully in Class A football. At that time his boys were sporting a record of four defeats and one tie.

Said Downes, "We're simply not big enough, nor good enough," then added, "Sure we won three successive Class B titles and were undefeated and untied in 1946, but we were playing in our own class then. Do you realize Newton has about twice the enrollment we have at Brookline? Now that we are in Class A we have to play teams in that class if we hope to make a respectable showing." And Brookline's schedule has been rough. The list includes Waltham, Weymouth, Saugus, Quincy, Arlington, and Watertown, just about the toughest schedule of any school. Their worst beating came at the hands of strong Waltham High, the class of the division, losing 38-6.

Newton, on the other hand, has fared much better in class competition, winning over Belmont, Melrose, Medford, and Haverhill, and suffering defeats from Brockton, Arlington, Waverhill, and Waltham. The Hustonmen displayed their best brand of ball against Waltham two weeks ago, when they put a scare into Terrasi and Co. by scoring twice against the powerhouse of Class A.

On that showing alone, Newton is highly favored over the winless Wealthy Towners this Thursday. Coach Warren Huston will have the services of all the top men in the lineup. Dan Coffey, the rough and ready junior fullback, will bolster up a fast backfield consisting of John Tripp and Bob Shannon, with either John Higgins or Dick Fitzpatrick doing the quarterbacking.

Top flight linemen will include John Luciano, Dave Harber, Dick Whelan, and Fred Dauten. The only juniors in Newton's starting lineup on Thursday will be Luciano and Dan Coffey.

To make Newton's chances greater is the fact that they are out to avenge an upset suffered at the hands of Brookline last year, when the Wealthy Towners pinned a surprising victory over the Orange in the Thanksgiving Day game.

Our Lady's Wins Div. 2 Crown, 44-0, in Final

Without the slightest bit of hesitation, power-laden Our Lady's High trampled all over their last opponent of the season for the Catholic League Division 2 championship Sunday afternoon, belting a weak Cathedral High of Boston, 44 to 0, at Allison Park.

It was Coach Jim Sullivan's second straight undefeated, untied year, and second championship crown won by the Purple and Gold. Last year O.L. remained victors of Division 3, and was moved into Division 2 this season. Yesterday's win was No. 17 over a space of two years, without a loss or tie.

Burly fullback Don Murphy and speedy Bill Cronin, who quarterbacked the club, both scored three touchdowns to lead the pack to its crown-winning encounter. Both ace ball-carriers are All-Catholic selections this year.

Murphy kept up his remarkable point total by tallying on runs of 73, 31, and 25 yards. Cronin went 55, 40, and 2 yards for his six-pointers, also booted two extra points. Our Lady's seventh and last touchdown was the work of John Van Steenberg in the final period.

Our Lady's scored once in the first quarter, then broke loose for two in the second, three in the third, and one in the fourth for their overwhelming victory. The Sullivan's were determined to make their last championship game decisive and did just that at the expense of Cathedral High. The Bostonians threatened only once in the first period when they ran the ball down to the Our Lady's 15-yard line. But a fumble on the next play lost forever their chances for at least one T.D.

Don Murphy concludes the season with a record of 21 touchdowns, for a total of 126 points. Cronin has gone over for 14 tallies this year and has kicked 16 points after touchdowns. Together they have scored 226 points.

Bruce W. Gray, 669 Saw Mill Brook parkway, Newton, a senior in Northeastern University's School of Engineering, was one of 12 members of his class initiated into the university's Gamma Beta chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, national honorary electrical engineering organization Saturday night, November 18.

Auxiliary Fire Dept. Under Way

The organization of an Auxiliary Fire Department under the Department of Civil Defense is now going ahead rapidly, it was announced by Fire Chief John E. Corcoran.

Plans call for training of about forty men at the present time, and putting into service two fully equipped engine companies and a ladder company; also equipping for auxiliary use three trailer pumps, along with full complement of rubber coats, boots, and fire helmets for the forty men.

The first training which will start shortly will be a First Aid Course which is completion of this course, the men will be assigned in one group to the regular Fire Department Drill Station at West Newton, for training and instruction in the handling of the equipment.

The Auxiliary Fire Department would like to get a group of the best men possible who are interested in this branch of civilian defense, and would appreciate anybody interested calling Civil Defense Headquarters at DE 2-3330 and leaving name, address and telephone number.

The Deputy Director of the Auxiliary Fire Department is Chief John E. Corcoran with his assistant Chief Everett Siebert. The Assistant Deputy Director of the Auxiliary Fire Department is Dwight Colburn.

TO GIVE HOMES A-BOMB INSTRUCTIONS

Announcement has been made that the Newton Civil Defense authorities will shortly issue to every household in Newton, a booklet entitled "Protection from the Atomic Bomb," which has been prepared and printed by the Civil Defense Agency of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Printed in two colors and filled with instructive illustrations which are a vivid addition to the text, the booklet presents rules for self-protection and for the protection of property against the effects of Atomic Bombing.

The inside cover carries the letter from John F. Stokes, State Director of Civil Defense to Governor Dever, presenting the book as the work of John W. M. Bunker, Dean of the Graduate School of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, assisted by consultants of the Civil Defense Agency. The complete text of the book is as follows: This booklet is prepared to help you in case of an atomic bomb attack.

Read this now—before anything happens. Be sure the other members of your family know what to do. You may have no warning other than a flash of light. Pick out in advance the best shelter nearest your home, your place of work or church. This would be in a cellar, or behind walls, or even behind a pile of dirt. Find out now how to shut off gas, water and electricity where the pipes have entered the house, and label the shut-offs.

Find out how to contact the local Civil Defense in case you need aid or instruction. IF YOU HAVE HAD NO WARNING IN AN A-BOMB ATTACK—When you see a flash of light brighter than the sun—Don't run! There isn't time. Fall flat on your face. Get down fast! IF IN-DOORS—Get down! Drop to the floor to avoid flying window glass. Crawl under or behind something. Cover up.

IF OUT-OF-DOORS—Get down! Drop to the ground, close against a wall if possible. Cover up. Stay down until the blast has passed; then get under the heaviest cover nearby. Stay there for at least a minute. IF IN YOUR CAR—Stop the car fast, set the emergency brake, and dive for the floor. Stay down for at least a minute. IF YOU HAVE NO AIR-RAID WARNING when you see the flash there is no time to run.

Wherever you are, get down fast. IF YOU HEAR THE AIR-RAID WARNING go to the nearest shelter. Go below ground in a cellar or nearest prepared shelter. If there is neither, go to the middle of the lowest floor. Keep away from windows. If in your car. Pull to the side of the road and park. Get to the nearest shelter. Do not come out until the all-clear signal has sounded.

AFTER THE ATTACK IS OVER. Your immediate danger is from falling wreckage and fires. If all the neighboring buildings have been damaged, try to move to a safer place before fire begins. You may be able to get under ground. If you see no immediate danger, look for a chance to help others. Watch for the start of fires. Try to notify the fire department but don't leave fires which you can put out while they are still small. Use extinguishers or sand or water, but don't get trapped.

If gas or water is leaking, try to shut it off. Listen for official instructions on someone's portable or car radio if your own is not working. Under no circumstances should the family attempt to leave the area by car until official orders for evacuation are received. AFTER A GROUND OR WATER BURST. The conditions will be different from those after an air burst. If you are officially informed that there has been a ground or (Continued on Page 5)

Sgt. Olivigni Killed In Korean War

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Primo Olivigni of 40 Charlesbank road, Newton, that their son, Marine Sgt. Francis Olivigni, 29, a veteran of major Pacific battles in the second world war and an outstanding Newton athlete, died in action in Korea two days before Thanksgiving.

Details of the action in which he lost his life have not been made known by the War Department. A pro-burial mass will be celebrated Monday morning at 9 o'clock in the Church of Our Lady, Newton. Military honors will be accorded and will be in charge of Edmund T. Dungan, Veterans Affairs Commissioner for the City of Newton.

Sgt. Olivigni was a native of Boston but came to Newton when his parents resided when he was five years old. He was educated in Newton.

New Members Join Centenary Methodist Church

This Week's Headlines

Would Curb Commissioner Long's Powers. Newton recently received a check for $225,891 as its share of $17,000,000 collected by the state this year in meals, corporation and income taxes. The Massachusetts Mayors Association spoke out recently of the fact that Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long had said he overestimated tax receipts from income and corporations by $14,000,000, a deficit which cities and towns will have to make up by increased tax rates. Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood of this city was named by the association to a special committee to discuss the means by which Commissioner Long's powers in allocating tax funds and his influence over municipal assessors may be curbed. The committee will draw up a bill for submission to the legislature for this purpose. Others named to the committee are Mayor Daniel B. Brunton of Springfield, chairman; Mayor John B. Hynes of Boston, and Mayor Philip J. Crowley of Everett.

Ask Abatement on Personal Property Tax. Already over one hundred applications for abatement on personal property taxes have been received by the Newton Board of Assessors. Last year the Assessors received about two hundred such requests. Residents still have about two weeks in which to pay their personal property tax bills and request abatements. If the abatements are acted on favorably, refunds will be made by the city to the taxpayer, if the bill has already been paid.

Plows Purchased To Remove Sidewalk Snow. At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen last week, it was voted to purchase 14 Maxim "Snow Rollers," at $700 each, for sidewalk plowing. The action came after members viewed a movie depicting the rollers in action.

Kiwanians Hear Talk on Newspapers

Speaking before the Newton Kiwanis Club at its meeting Wednesday, John W. Fielding, Editor of The Graphic, outlined the growth of suburban weekly newspapers during the past twenty-five years and intimated that only the strongest and most capably managed would survive in the future due to mounting production costs.

In his talk he stated that the management and production of a weekly suburban newspaper has become a highly specialized (Continued on Page 7)

Total Is Now $281,474 More Money Raised Here This Year in Red Feather Campaign Than Last Year

Additional subscriptions received through an intensive last-day campaign by all divisions of the Newton Community Chest brought in nearly $20,000 more to the 1951 Red Feather Campaign in Newton, and increased the total from $262,093 previously reported to $281,474. This total is $13,600 more than was raised in Newton in the 1950 Red Feather Campaign, and when all pledges and subscriptions have been received the final figure is expected to be at least $15,000 over the amount raised a year ago.

Resignation of Mrs. I. Thresher Is Submitted

At a meeting of the School Committee held Monday night, Mrs. Irene K. Thresher, who was elected to the House of Representatives at the recent election, submitted her resignation as a member of the School Committee.

Action on her resignation was withheld, pending notification from City Solicitor Matt B. Jones of the procedure to be followed in naming her successor.

Keen Interest In Jackson Homestead Since Opening

The Jackson Homestead has attracted over 250 visitors since it was first opened to the public three weeks ago.

Located at 527 Washington street, Newton, the old house, now the property of the City of Newton, is drawing attention with a fresh coat of paint outside and daily signs of activity within.

Among the most interested of the visitors have been the groups of school children who have come, some as classes accompanied by their teachers, and some voluntarily. They are fascinated with the original Homestead door, dating to 1670 and now a part of the shed. This door is constructed of two thicknesses of planks, vertical on one side, horizontal on the other, to keep out the arrows of the Indians according to tradition. The present house was built in 1809. A family history of the Jackson Homestead reads as follows: "The building of the present house was an event of public interest, it being a fine house for the time and Newton being so small a town that but few houses were built in a year. Indeed it was no light matter building a house. There was but little machinery to help, no planing mills, no stair or window factories, all must be made by hand. The granite underpinning was all hauled by oxen from Quincy, the beams which support the house, which by the way are a foot thick, were drawn in the same way. The gutters were each a single trunk of a tree hollowed out with an adze. All the window glass, called Crown glass, was imported from England. All was done in most painstaking and thorough way."

Visiting hours will continue to be held on Saturday afternoons from 1 to 3 for another month, when the house will be open more frequently. Groups may arrange to go through at other times by calling the hostess, Mrs. Arnold at LA 7-4907.

33 Inducted Into Service From Here

Thirty-three men from Newton were inducted into the armed services Monday from Local Board No. 23, Waltham. Of the thirty-three men inducted, 8 reside in Newton Centre; 7 in Newton; 4 in Newtonville; 3 in West Newton; 3 in Upper Falls; 3 in Newton Highlands; 2 in Auburndale; 1 in Lower Falls; 1 in Waban, and 1 in Chestnut Hill. Christmas Seals Mailed Out Good Work Being Carried Out Here To Eradicate Tuberculosis Symptoms

The forty-fourth annual sale of Christmas seals began here last week with the mailing of sheets of the red and green 1950 seals to homes all over the city. Christmas seals were first sold in this country in 1907 by Miss Emily P. Bissell of Wilmington, Delaware, who was helping to raise money for a small tuberculosis hospital. In Newton in 1908, the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for the first time raised money to aid the city's tuberculous families. That year they received $3,000. The 1949 Christmas seal sale here realized over $14,000. Although tuberculosis is no longer public health enemy number one as it was in 1908, health authorities still consider that a great deal of work remains to be (Continued on Page 8)

With Newton's Club Women

— By Erlin Hogan —

Community Efforts, Hooking Rugs And Travel Occupy Interests of Mrs. Edward Blake in Her Spare Time

Mrs. Edward Blake, 44 Lombard street, Newton, joined the Newton Community Club two years ago, and was elected its president last spring. Mrs. Blake maintains that only in the capacity of president can a woman realize the host of activities and responsibilities which clubwork assumes.

The Newton Community Club has 225 members, who meet twice a month at the Underwood School auditorium, when varied programs are given. In November, the women heard a lecture on "Women of Spain" by the wife of the former Consul General of Costa Rica; and for a December program Mrs. Anna Olson Combs will speak on "Cookery and Entertainment." One way that the club raises money for its annual scholarship fund is through a series of current events lectures, open to the public, and presented once a month by Mrs. Frank Mansfield

Taylor. They have already raised part of the money for this year's scholarship fund, which goes to a Newton High School girl, with a successful bridge party. The literature and drama committee, within the club, gave a play this fall at the Auburndale Drama Festival; and the groups in handiwork have held several exhibits of ceramics, hooked rugs, copper work, and antiques.

Mrs. Blake would like to increase the club's membership with more women who are interested in helping the community. There are many small but necessary community services—a few telephone calls made by club members helped the Newton Youth Organization to find some furniture for its club-room recently. The community service committee selects one month of the year in which to send birthday cakes to Cushing Hospital. It makes nightgowns and bibs for the children at the Peabody Home, and fills Christmas service bags for the veterans. One community service which interests the club at present is the education of Newton school children about sex offenders. It has arranged to have distributed comic books which illustrate simply nine "don'ts," such as not accepting a ride with a stranger.

A unique feature of the Newton Community Club's yearbook is its handy list of the representatives in Washington and the State House.

Mrs. Blake's Thanksgiving holiday provided more excitement than she had anticipated, when her seven-year-old grandson toppled from the second story window of her house. He suffered only a twisted ankle, but spent a few days in the hospital after his escapade. Mrs. Blake has four active grandsons, and two daughters, both graduates of Newton High School. Her only son died in the war.

Mrs. Blake came to Newton from New Jersey in 1929. During the depression she took a job, which she held for 11 years, as a representative of the Beauty Counsellor Company, a national organization with its main offices in Detroit. She was in charge of all New England and part of New York State, and made the company known in this territory.

Under her supervision were about 400 housewives whom she trained to sell soaps and cosmetics, by appointment, in the home. She says she felt this was a wonderful opportunity to help mothers, with only a few hours a day for outside work, to earn extra money. Mrs. Blake left the cosmetic company, in which she had been so successful, because she wanted to do war work. Joining the Red Cross, she served on its speakers bureau, and acted as chairman of the Home Nurses in Newton.

Mrs. Blake is a graduate of Smith College, and one of her major interests is the Smith alumnae club in Newton. She helped raise money for Smith's 75th anniversary fund through bridges and bazaars, and three years ago she ran a Smith Club dance at the Totem Pole. Another interest, displayed in her home, is hooked rug making. Mrs. Blake claims her rugs illustrate the good work of club committees, as those she made after attending classes are far superior to the others.

Mr. Blake has a machine tool business in Newton. One of their daughters is an artist, and her portraits of the family decorate the Blake home. The second daughter was a musician before her marriage to an army officer, with whom she and her children have traveled extensively, even as far away as Guam.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake also enjoy traveling. Before the war, Mrs. Blake visited Europe, and she has been several times to the west coast and through Canada and Nova Scotia. Business trips have taken her through every town in New England, and she loves to discover and visit new

To Give Talk On "The Road to Bethlehem" Wed.

The Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church, will hold its meeting next Wednesday afternoon. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock with the program starting at 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Kenneth Bernard will lead the Worship Service. The Newton High School Glee Club, under the direction of Wesley Merritt, will present a program of Christmas music. Mrs. L. Clarence Schroeder, a speaker of unusual ability, will talk on "The Road to Bethlehem." There will be a Food and Gift table and all contributions are welcome.

The Blakes spent last summer fishing at a place 170 miles from any other habitation. They had read in The Saturday Evening Post of a fishing reserve 250 miles north of Montreal, and because Mr. Blake likes to fish, the article promised good fishing there, and it was a spot they hadn't yet discovered for themselves. They chose it for their summer vacation.

Newton Good Citizenship Association To Conduct Campaign To Raise $10,000

A meeting of the fund raising committee of the Newton Good Citizenship Association was held at the clubhouse, Dalby street, Newton, last week with Jerry R. Angino, president of the association, presiding.

The members of the committee include Mrs. Maurice Strauss, Mrs. Ranny Weeks, W. Degottell, Nicholas Veducchio, Charles Feeley, Charles Mergendahl, Miss Mary G. Geanferante, Miss Helen Vaznaian, C. Larossee, Christian Herter Jr., Mrs. DeLuca, and Mrs. John Lovely.

It was unanimously felt that the organization must provide the youth of the community with such effectively-organized leisure time activities as will develop the desired attitudes and habits that will make them the good citizens both of today and tomorrow.

Christian Herter Jr. was elected president of the fund-raising committee and Miss Mary G. Grenferante its secretary.

At a meeting to be called in the near future, it is hoped that initial plans will be made for the raising of funds so that the Newton Good Citizenship Association may better meet the needs of the youth of this community.

Characterizations In Modern Manner To Be Presented

"Characterizations in the Modern Manner," a program of original monologues and character portrayals will be presented by Beth Carey at the regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, Friday, December 8, at 2 p.m., in the Second Church entertainment hall.

The tea which follows will be presented to the "Mothers Club" by the Hobby Class. Hostesses in the tea room will be Mrs. Waters, Mrs. C. Roy Rook, and Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader. Mrs. William L. Warner, Mrs. Wilson C. Dort and Mrs. Sidney R. Williamson will pour.

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT

- (1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special twine.
- (2) We don't just glue loose frames—we take out old dovetails, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.
- (3) We don't tack seams at just the obvious spots—we hand sew seams throughout the piece.
- (4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made—that means it's stronger.
- (5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-sewn.
- (6) We don't use ordinary fibre or excelsior—we use the new, expensive moss filling.
- (7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all.
- (8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.
- (9) We don't just cut from a pattern—we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor made suit.
- (10) We don't settle for second-best materials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

There's a difference in custom upholstery. At Bristol it's a fine science. The men who get inside your sofa or chair are qualified experts with years of specialized training. They studied reupholstering just as a doctor studies medicine, a mechanic studies machinery. They know the high standards of workmanship set by Bristol's—and they know how to meet them. Bristol's custom reupholstery department is efficient—and reliable, too. You seldom have to wait longer than 2 weeks. What's more, we have a huge assortment of fabrics—over 200 different patterns, each in a range of colors. You're bound to find just the fabric for your modern or traditional home.

ELAINE REED

Now that Thanksgiving is past it is easier to look forward to and make plans for Christmas. Thanksgiving Day, with many families, is when the family groups of the clan gather to themselves, whereas Christmas is a gathering together of the entire clan. Most Christmas plans revolve around how many members of the family will be present when and where, and getting Christmas gifts lists completed satisfactorily. You have three and a half more weeks to get the family together, but only twenty-one more shopping days in which to finish your Christmas shopping.

Christmas shopping is an enjoyable task—especially when it is done leisurely and comfortably without haste and jostling crowds. You can avoid the crowd by taking advantage of the convenient, well-stocked, shops in your neighborhood. There's no need for time-wasting travel to shopping districts, either, when you shop at home. Make your Christmas shopping more enjoyable by shopping practically in your own backyard now, while you can still get the best Christmas buys ahead of the crowd.

A heavy schedule of Christmas shopping, with probably some holiday parties taking up your after-hours, doesn't leave you much time or energy to bother with fancy hair-setting when you've hit the holiday season and are in between permanent! If such happens to be your case, then you should be very interested in this offer from the HAZEL GANTER BEAUTY SHOP, 248 Walnut Street in Newtonville. During the month of December you can get a regular $15 cold wave for only $10 at the HAZEL GANTER BEAUTY SHOP—this includes cutting and styling, shampoo and finger-wave. Miss Ginter is giving this unusually nice December special to acquaint you with the wonderful treatment your hair can receive at her shop, and to show you how the proper treatment can bring out the full beauty of your hair. Treat yourself to a Christmas present from yourself now—make it a glorious cold wave at the HAZEL GANTER BEAUTY SHOP at this December special of a $15 cold wave for only $10. Call BI 4-2192 for an appointment for the December special—it's a Christmas present from Hazel Ginter, too, that will make these next busy weeks easier and more gracious for you.

Naturally, children are the most important part of Christmas—you don't have to go far for toys that are different to have under the tree this year. You'll be surprised at the choice selection of toys on display at ARTS, 332 Centre Street in Newton Corner. ARTS has musical instruments of all types, styles, and sizes from small plastic ukeleles for only 69c to children's Schoenhut pianos for $24.00 that have their own stool and are large enough for the child to sit right up to and play. There are "living puppets," $1.25 each, with familiar TV and comic strip faces. For lively young gentlemen living in an atomic age, there's the "Tomic Rocket" for $2.98, a mechanical toy that screams while in motion and showers sparks from its tail (harmless, of course). For more demure young ladies, there are Town and Country doll carriages for only $5.95. ARTS has a toy to suit any child—and they're open every night from now until Christmas.

There's still a week left in which to call Algonquin 4-4670 for that special holiday "retouching" of your living-room. Eric, of ERIC'S INTERIOR DECORATING AND FURNITURE SHOP, 2193 Commonwealth Avenue at Lake Street, will make appointments during this next week to reupholster any of your furniture at a special price. All labor on custom-made slipcovers will be taken care of at cost by Eric.

If you're really giving your living-room a Christmas present of holiday spirit, you'll want to choose from the brand new group of custom-built Lawson-type chairs on display at Eric's—they're available at a special price, too, if you call Algonquin 4-4670 before next Thursday.

There's no excuse for not having your living-room looking its holiday-best for Christmas—and you'll need no excuses for your living-room at Christmastime if you contact Eric now. It's not too late to have dad's favorite armchair reupholstered or a new Lawson-type chair done in your choice of smart fabrics and colors for the holidays. You must act before next Thursday, however, for this holiday special on holiday spirit for your living-room is good for only one more week. Call Eric at Algonquin 4-4670, and he'll visit you bringing samples to submit an estimate for your holiday spirit.

Junior Community Club Plans for Christmas Party

Mrs. Robert Burns, 36 Taft avenue, West Newton, was hostess to the Board members of the Newton Junior Community Club, Monday evening.

The business of the evening was plans for the coming regular meeting of the club, to be held Monday at the Newton Y.M.C.A. The Children's Museum is sending a representative to this meeting, to tell of the activities of the museum.

Plans were also completed for the coming Christmas party to be held Tuesday evening, December 19, at the Y.M.C.A.

Mrs. Burns served an attractive lunch at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Ronald Morse, and Mrs. Alvie Jorgensen, presided.

Buffet Supper and Open House Held At Hunnewell, Club

A buffet supper and open house was held at the Hunnewell Club last Saturday. These suppers have proved very popular and this one was served by a committee of men—the membership committee, consisting of Earle C. Mitchell, Dr. Walter E. Young, Dr. Lynwood W. Storer, Lucius B. Wheeler, Kenneth Bourne, George Lusk, and Theodore C. Morrill.

During supper there was community singing accompanied by Hal Caswell on his accordion and movies followed. Seventy-four members and guests attended.

The Alert Retailer

It can be fairly said that the principal aim of the typical retailer is to give you the most for your money, in goods, services, or other values.

The retailer doesn't do this as a matter of charity. He isn't running an eleemosynary institution. He, like everyone else, is working to make a profit. But he knows he must give the customer full value, and that if he doesn't the customer will soon make tracks past his store and take his trade down the street. And the alert retailer also knows that unless he let's his regular and potential customers know regularly and consistently by advertising that he is in business and tells, through advertising, his prospective customers of the values he has to offer, like many another who failed to recognize this fact, he and his store will soon be forgotten. In other words, competition forces him to give the customer the right kind of a break and let his customers know what he has to offer.

Retailing, as anyone can see, is one of the most competitive of all businesses. The biggest chain system on earth, for instance, hasn't got a monopoly on anything. It must compete every working day with thousands of other stores, of all kinds and sizes. And the biggest store in the world, if it fails to advertise, if it fails in the job of pleasing the consumer, will go to the wall eventually.

Here is one of the big reasons for our American standard of living. Competition holds prices to the lowest possible level, and so our dollars go farther than they would otherwise. Competition forces all producers and distributors to work harder to please us, and so we have the widest possible selection of goods to choose from when we go shopping. In the free market, the consumer is always the dominant factor and he is interested to know at all times where the best values can be obtained. The consumer's desires and fancies can make or break any business and the alert retailer is the one who keeps his prospective customers informed of his values and informed of the fact that he is doing business.

A Painful Subject

Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation Henry F. Long, has a faculty, from time to time, of getting into somebody's hair.

The latest group to come under this category appear to be the heads of municipalities who, last week, denounced the Commissioner because their communities were to receive less money from the Commonwealth than was estimated they would receive earlier in the year. That means higher taxes for 1951. No doubt about it.

Well, we can understand the plaint of the poor, overworked executives. They, for the most part, have been so busy concocting ways and means of spending more and more money for more and more projects, that they just haven't had time to do any real thinking about the fact that economy in civic affairs is just as important as economy in the life of the individual. But then, what politico ever gained many votes by trying to conduct civic government along business lines. That friends, just doesn't make for votes at election time. No indeed. The way to perpetuate oneself in office is to spend and spend. This makes for more, and more, and more jobs which in the end makes for more, and more, and more votes.

We really feel sorry for many of these municipal executives. They just never have learned that you can't spend more than you take in and remain solvent. Why should they? Isn't there always the poor, dumb taxpayer left to soak and make up the deficits.

Commissioner Henry Long may not be the most popular official in the State House but no one, with justification, can say that he has not the taxpayers interest at heart nor deny that when politicians go about thinking up ways of enacting bills and projects without regard to where the money is coming from, it is Commissioner Long's job, painful though it is, to find the means to carry out the politician's dreams of potential vote producing projects.

It's about time, the common, every day citizen awoke to the fact that you just can't sustain a government that goes on spending without regard for the consequences. Not unless the pocket-books of the people are to be drained, and drained, and drained.

Commissioner Long knows that and it's a good thing for this Commonwealth that it has Long. A less capable official than he might be the politician's dream of Utopia but we're afraid it would be Hades for the taxpayers.

Current Comment

Executive Council Pardons Two Murderers . . . Business of Council Conducted in Secrecy . . . Senate Can Block Fair Deal Program . . .

Because the Governor's Council transacts virtually all its important business in star chamber session behind closed doors, the public ordinarily has only a scanty knowledge or none at all as to the stand taken by an individual member on a matter of consequence.

At times that system is unfair to a sincere and conscientious member of the stamp of Councillor Clayton L. Havey of West Roxbury who may and often does oppose measures only to be overruled on a voice vote with no subsequent record as to how anyone voted.

That situation reaches something closely approaching the preposterous when the Council on a voice vote grants pardons to two murderers and there is no official record to show where any member actually stood on the issue.

Last week the Executive Council voted pardons to two men on the condition that they be deported and sent back to Italy.

One had been convicted and sent to prison for life because he beat a fellow employee to death with a hammer, then robbed him of his money and finally set fire to a shack where his victim lay dead. Needless to say, a man guilty of so trivial and momentary a departure from the primrose path should not be kept in jail, and the Council voted to free him so he could go back to the old country.

A second gentleman pardoned is colorfully known as the last Black Hand murderer in Boston's history, the Black Hand being an organization which killed people it didn't like. This man lived up to its best traditions. He came here from New Jersey to shoot a North End resident who had been marked for extinction, and shoot him he did at a busy North End intersection in plain daylight. Even the fact that a surprised police officer on traffic duty nearby was a witness to the proceedings didn't deter him.

Well, $10,000 bail was posted for the Black Hand emissary, which would indicate that he was not friendless, and he promptly left town without the formality of waiting for a trial, and the person who put up the bail went to jail for a while.

Our gallant friend went to Chicago where he was involved in a shooting, and from there he retraced his steps to Waterbury, Conn., where he was presiding as the proprietor of a house whose reputation was similar to his own, namely ill, when the arm of the law reached out to find him after 12 years.

He was convicted, which was hardly surprising since a police officer had seen the murder he committed, and he was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Thanks to the Governor's Council, this model of piety and decorum will walk out of prison a free man as soon as arrangements are completed for his deportation.

On the other hand, pardons were denied people who were far more entitled to them. It can be reported that Councillor Havey looked with disfavor and distaste upon pardoning the Black Hand murderer and the hammer slayer and said so during the Executive Council meeting, though this did not change the ultimate action by the other members.

When any further characters of this stamp are being turned out of prison, it might be a very good thing if the people were given a few facts other than the vague information that the pardons were granted on a voice vote and that there was no record of who voted for what. The public is entitled to know a little more about exactly what transpires behind those closed Council doors.

Senate Can Block Fair Deal Program

A good many experienced political observers believe that President Truman would have been better off if the Democrats had lost the U. S. Senate instead of holding it by a slim 49-47 margin in the recent election.

As matters now stand, the Democrats will be in control of both branches of the 82nd Congress, but the prospects that Mr. Truman will be able to obtain the passage of any substantial part of his Fair Deal program during the next two years are small, indeed.

Of the 49 Democrats in the Senate, for example, 22 are from the former Confederate States, and it is estimated that 12 of the 22 are vigorous opponents of the President's domestic program.

Between 40 and 42 of the G.O.P. Senators are said to be against all basic items in the Fair Deal except the civil rights legislation.

This means that the President can only count on 37 Democrats and seven Republicans for a total of 44 votes, five short of the number he needs to get any measure through the upper chamber.

Unless Mr. Truman is prepared to compromise with the Southern Senators on such matters as civil rights, the Brannan farm program, the Taft-Hartley law, the Ewing public health plan and taxes, there seems little likelihood that he will meet anything but a series of rebuffs in the Senate.

So far President Truman has demonstrated no disposition to compromise. When he was asked at a press conference whether he thought the election results indicated that he should go slow on parts of his program, he said he did not think any such thing and that most of the results in his opinion were due to local conditions.

In response to another question the President said that, of course, he would continue to press for the adoption of his Fair Deal program.

Now Mr. Truman is a very shrewd politician, and you may be sure that he knows as well or better than any observer or commentator in Washington exactly what problems or obstacles he will encounter in the next Senate, and the fact that he says he is going to press for the passage of his program doesn't mean that he expects to obtain the adoption of any part of it.

He fought the Republican-controlled 80th Congress with little success as far as legislation was concerned, but when the battle was over he was able to go back to the people in the 1948 campaign, report to them that he had struggled valiantly but that the G.O.P. had blocked him at every turn.

Whether he will be able to do that as effectively in 1952, after the Democrats have been in technical control of both branches of Congress is a matter for conjecture.

Storm Damage Here. The severe storm last Saturday afternoon and night did considerable damage throughout the city. Six persons were injured in five automobile accidents attributed to the storm and a man had to be rescued by police from a roof after his ladder had been blown away. Approximately 200 telephones were put out of order Saturday night but all services have since been restored. Police, fire and street departments were lauded for their work during the storm. Police patrolled the streets, firemen stood guard over broken wires to prevent fires and street department men cleared drains and flooded cellars. Many trees were damaged throughout the city, and a number of roofs of houses had shingles ripped off and branches of trees were torn off. The severe wind and heavy rain did most of the damage throughout the city.

Debt of City Down. The total debt of the city decreased $50,000 from September 30 to October 31, according to figures announced by Archie R. Whitman, city treasurer and collector. The debt on September 30 was $9,846,000 compared with $9,796,000 October 31. In the same period the debt within the limit decreased $2000 from $4,370,000 to $4,368,000. The debt outside the limit decreased $58,000, from $5,476,000 to $5,418,000.

Ask Early Mailing. Postoffice officials are asking the public to do their Christmas mailing early and point out that mail volumes are heavier than ever and uncertain December weather conditions are apt to be unfavorable for the speedy handling of mail.

Hearing Monday on License. As a result of the firm failing to file its annual certificate for continuation of its license to store synthetic resin coating solution, the Board of Aldermen will hold a public hearing Monday night at which Reiss Associates of 49 Elmwood street, Newton, will be given a chance to show why the license should not be revoked. The company's predecessor, the Fisher Plastic Co., holds a license for the storage of 5000 gallons of synthetic resin coating solution in 100 barrels of 50 gallons each, for private use only.

Murderer Pardoned in Newton Case. Nicholas Caruso of Newton received a Thanksgiving pardon for the murder of John C. Cuniff in Newton in 1933 at a meeting of the Executive Council last week but is being held for deportation to Italy.

Edward R. Broad To Speak On Work At Africa Leper Colony

Edward R. Broad, Northeastern Secretary of the American Leprosy Missions, will be speaking at the Auburndale Congregational Church this Sunday at 6:30 in the evening to the College Group.

In addition to his message, a motion picture in sound and color will be presented entitled "The African Prince" which depicts the experiences of the son of a native chief. Contracting leprosy, the young boy is taken to the well-known Garkida Colony in Nigeria, Africa. Under Christian care and training, he gives his life to Christ and continues in service for Him at the colony.

Over ten years ago Mr. Broad gave up an active business career to give his full time to the vital work of the American Leprosy Mission, Inc. He has always been active in church and mission work, and was a director of religious education in New York.

With more people suffering from this disease in this country than ever before, the Federal Leprosarium at Carville, Louisiana, has become more and more prominent in the news. Mr. Broad has made three trips to Carville, the first time as a member of the U. S. Public Health Service. He has also met many of those afflicted with the disease in New York City.

With the new sulfa drugs bringing astonishing results, there is more hope today than ever before, and while there is still no specific cure, the medical profession is becoming more and more alert.

All of these facts will be fully covered in Mr. Broad's Message.

This Friday night at 8 o'clock, Leo Egan will interview Lou Boudreau on the "Closed Circuit" over Station WHDH.

Members To Attend School For Jurors

Members of the League of Women Voters of Newton will learn at first hand how the jury system works at the School for Jurors held by the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts today (Thursday) at the Mason Memorial Building, 14 Somerset street, Boston.

The all day program of the school includes a Mock Trial at 10:30 a.m. with Judge Jennie Loitman Barron presiding, and attorneys Thomas H. Mahoney and Samuel Sears arguing the case. A jury will be chosen according to trial court procedure from among the attending League members. Tours of the Federal District Court and Suffolk Superior Court will be conducted at 2:15 p.m. The School for Jurors has been planned to spread as widely as possible the kind of information that will make Massachusetts women intelligent and able jurors.

Among those members of the League of Women Voters of Newton attending the School are: Mrs. Philip Paisner, Mrs. Walter Fife, Mrs. David B. Rost, Mrs. James Zimmer, Mrs. George Eisenman, Mrs. Lyman V. V. Banker, Mrs. Earl B. Millard, Mrs. Stanley Lewenberg, Mrs. George Elbaum, Mrs. John C. McClintock, Mrs. Ernest Dietz, Mrs. Frederick Bloom, Mrs. Seymour Gitter, Mrs. George Alberts, Mrs. Steven R. Berke, Mrs. Moses Pearlman, Mrs. Jules Baer, Mrs. Stanley Morton, Mrs. Robert E. Segal.

To Discuss Diet Aspects At Meeting

Dr. Frederick J. Stare, professor of nutrition at Harvard School of Public Health, and Dr. Donald M. Watkins, research fellow at Harvard Medical School, will discuss the practical aspects of diet in heart disease tonight (Thursday) at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

The meeting is part of the Newton Postgraduate Heart Institute, a series of lectures sponsored by the Newton Heart Demonstration Program for local physicians.

Dr. Stare will speak on "New Concepts of the Importance of Cholesterol in Coronary Heart Disease."

Dr. Watkins will cover "Practical Aspects of Sodium Restriction in Hypertension."

The meeting will be conducted in Usen Auditorium at 8:30 p.m.

water burst, keep under cover until you are told it is safe to move out.

If driven out-of-doors by fire or other reason, cover your nose and mouth with a wet cloth to avoid breathing contaminated mist or dust.

Get inside again as soon as you can safely, and wash your hands, face and hair thoroughly with soap and water.

Do not eat or drink anything that has been open to the air; it may be contaminated.

Food in cans can be used if the outside of the can is first cleaned with soap and water.

You will be told when radio-activity outside has subsided enough for you to move to a place of safety.

FACTS ABOUT THE A-BOMB.

The A-Bomb can hurt you three ways:

1. By Its Explosive Force. This strikes through the air in a sudden blow without warning. You can't hear it coming.

In a second it is gone. It can destroy buildings or do serious damage for two miles.

One reason to get down flat is to let the worst of it pass over you.

2. By Its Scorching Heat. This travels with lightning speed.

It lasts but a few seconds. It can badly burn the bare skin at two miles.

Clothing or anything thicker gives protection.

The shorter the time your skin is uncovered, the lighter the burn. This is why you cover up.

3. By Atomic Radiations Like X-Rays.

These are invisible. You cannot feel them.

A small amount will not harm you but too much can cause death.

They can reach to a mile and a half, through the air.

Concrete or steel can slow and stop them.

They cannot penetrate far into earth; that is why cellars and subways make good shelters.

If you see no immediate danger, look for a chance to help others.

IF A BOMB GOES OFF IN THE AIR, its radiation danger is over in a minute.

IF IT EXPLODES AT GROUND LEVEL or under water, radiation danger may linger for hours. That is why you need to stay indoors until it is safe to go out.

OF THE THREE WAYS in which the A-Bomb can hurt you, radiation is the least harmful.

Waban Woman's Club To Hear Talk On Book Reviews By Helen Abbot Beals

Newton Girl One Of Finalists

This Friday evening in the ballroom of the Hotel Statler, Boston, one of the largest gatherings of persons of Swedish ancestry will choose the "Lucia Bride of Light."

The contest was open to all young girls of New England, with one or more Swedish parents. Newton is proud that Miss Marie Anne Thelin, of Sargent street, is among the finalists.

The winner and the attendants will receive many beautiful prizes. Merchants of Newton Centre have donated many of the prizes. Mr. and Mrs. Harbo P. Jensen and Miss Grace Jensen are active on the committee.

The Swedish Home for the Aged will receive the benefits from this affair.

WILMER W. SHIELDS—Wilmer W. Shields, 83, of 12 Balcarras road, West Newton, died Monday, November 20, at a hospital in St. Petersburg, Fla., where he had gone to spend the winter, as he has since his retirement in 1939.

A native of Pittsburgh, he resided in West Roxbury before coming to Newton and had made his home in this city for almost 20 years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Shields, and two sons, John W., of West Newton, and Wilmer W. Jr., of Chagrin Falls, Ohio.

Funeral services were held in St. Petersburg Wednesday, November 22.

FREDERICK WILLIAM KEMP—Frederick William Kemp, 37, Beaumont avenue, Newtonville, died Tuesday, November 14, at a Boston hospital where he had been for treatment several days.

He was born in Boston, son of Carl A. and Anna M. (Kirch) Kemp. He spent most of his life in Boston, where he was graduated from Stoughton High School, then went higher in the field of music. He was well known as a teacher and soloist on the violin, as well as a musical educator.

He served as supervisor of music in several schools. He taught at Fairhaven, and was supervisor of music in the schools of Sharon, Foxboro, Mansfield and Concord, and more recently he was supervisor of music in Walpole and at Rivers Country Day School in Brookline. He taught at Tufts College and Harvard University and held many organ positions in various churches throughout New England.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Ruth (Folsom) Kemp; a son, Channing Kemp, both of Newtonville; his father, Carl Kemp; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Larson and Mrs. Emma Crossman, all of Stoughton; a brother, Carl Kemp, of Easton, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held in the Universalist Church, Stoughton, Friday afternoon, November 17. Rev. Gordon McKeeman, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by Rev. Charles Styron of the First Parish church, Lincoln. Burial was in Evergreen cemetery, Stoughton.

MISS ROSE MAGUIRE—Miss Rose Maguire, 85, died last Friday night at her home, 46 Auburn street, West Newton. She had been ill a short time.

A native of Ireland, she had made her home in West Newton for the past 42 years, and was a member of St. Bernard's Sodality and the League of Catholic Women.

The funeral was held Tuesday from her home, followed by a solemn requiem mass in St. Bernard's Church at 9 o'clock.

Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

CHRISTOPHER E. RICE—Christopher E. Rice, 63, of 365 Cabot street, Newtonville, died suddenly Sunday, November 26, at his home.

Associated with the International Paper Co. for 40 years, he was New England representative for the International Paper Sales Co. He was born in Bellows Falls, Vt., and had lived in Newtonville 25 years.

Survived by his wife, Virginia G.; three daughters, Mrs. Helen R. Jackson, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Shuster, and Mrs. Janet B. Sheppard; two step-children, Mrs. Nanice Gardiner, Lucas and Guy G. Gardiner, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville, at 3 p.m.

DANIEL J. CORCORAN—A requiem mass was celebrated Tuesday morning at 8:15 o'clock for Daniel J. Corcoran, 55, oldest retired member of the Newton Fire Department and father of John E. Corcoran, present fire chief, in St. John's Church, Wellesley Hills.

Mr. Corcoran, who was born in County Cork, Ireland, made his home in Dedham and Wellesley. He died last Saturday at his home, 40 Moulton street, Newton, Lower Falls, after an illness of three weeks.

He was a member of the Newton Firemen's Relief Association and of the Holy Name Society of St. John's Church.

Surviving, in addition to John, are two other sons, Henry, of 34 Moulton street, Newton, Lower Falls, and Richard, of 2 Coyne road, Waban; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Noonan, with whom he made his home; 11 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

MRS. MARIA THEODORA JOHNSON—Mrs. Maria Theodora (Borjesson) Johnson, 66, of 7 Walnut street, Newtonville, widow of Carl F. Johnson, died Sunday evening at the Beth Israel Hospital in Brookline.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Sweden, November 5, 1884, and had lived in Newton the past 18 years, coming from Brookline.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Hedlund of Newtonville, one niece, Mrs. Doris Caroline Hedlund, also of Newtonville; and a brother, Axel Borjesson, and several nieces and nephews, all in Sweden.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the William R. Miller chapel, 27 Spruce street, Waltham. Rev. Carl A. Bergquist, pastor of the First Lutheran Church of Waltham, officiated. Cremation followed in Newton Cemetery.

MRS. LUCIA ANTONELLIS—Mrs. Lucia Antonellis, widow of Pasquale Antonellis, died Sunday morning at her home, 40 Dalby street, Newton.

Born in Sandomata, Italy, the daughter of Loreto and Maria (Ruffo) Cugli, she had lived in Newton for 42 years.

Dr. Noyes-

Church for Sale." Anxious members who called the church office to inquire what the sign might mean were invited to come to Sunday service to find out the details. A capacity congregation was informed by the Rev. Frederic Groetsma, pastor, that the sign was a vision of things to come unless everyone accepted a fair share of the support of the church and practised seriously the Christian teaching of stewardship.

Edmund S. Whitten, speaking for the City Canvass Committee, in commenting on the success of the canvass said, "Let us give credit where it is due. It is true that the United Church Canvass Department of the Newton Council of Churches has spent time and effort in overall planning and encouragement, but the real credit for the success of this canvass as in past canvasses, is to the men and women in the local churches who actually go out and ring door bells. They are the shock troops on the firing line of this war for good. Their determination to give each church member an opportunity to respond to the needs and the call of their church, their loyalty in getting out in the rain and their persistence in completing their lists is what has spelled victory for the tenth corporate Church Canvass in Newton. As goes the individual canvasser so goes the entire United Canvass."

The United Church Canvass Committee for Newton has been headed by William A. Jackson of Newtonville and has included Edmund S. Whitten, George P. Squier, Rev. Richard P. McClintock and Jess D. Traylor. The committee has been materially assisted in its work by the ministers of the 26 participating churches and the finance committee chairman from each local church.

the only Residential section so far to go over the top. Great credit goes to Mrs. Edward Risman, chairman for this section, and to Charles Seeley, Mrs. Arthur Richard, Joseph Poirier, William Marchand, Francis Leone, Guido Cetrone, Louis Fried, and Edward Theriault, Captains.

Father Sylvio Barrette also was of great assistance in achieving the results reached. Chestnut Hill, Lower Falls, and Oak Hill also have reached over 90% of their respective goals. In the Advance Gifts Division, Newton Highlands with 92%, and Oak Hill with 91%, are the leaders.

In the Mercantile Women's Division, Newtonville, Newton, Auburndale, Newton Centre, Waban, Newton Highlands, West Newton, and Chest Agencies have reached or exceeded 100% of their respective goals. Clubs and Societies, with 97%, also has a possibility of making its goal. In the Mercantile Men's Division, Automobiles with the outstanding leader, with 153% of goal reached. Bank Employees attained 98%.

Both Municipal Schools and Municipal General raised more money than a year ago, the leaders in the 1951 Campaign being Welfare Department with 123%, Building Department with 110%, Police Department with 103%, Executive Department with 100%, and Street Department with 99%.

"If there are any who have not made their subscription or who would like to pledge additional amounts, rest assured," states Winslow H. Adams, Newton Chairman, "that these additional gifts can be used to good advantage and will be gratefully received. All gifts should be sent to the Newton Community Chest, 93 Union street, Newton Centre."

E. Russell Crane of 16 Westchester road, Newton, has been appointed as a Notary Public. It was announced by Edward J. Cronin, Secretary of the Commonwealth The term of the Newton Notary Public will expire in 1957.

MRS. LUCIA ANTONELLIS—Mrs. Lucia Antonellis, widow of Pasquale Antonellis, died Sunday morning at her home, 40 Dalby street, Newton.

Born in Sandomata, Italy, the daughter of Loreto and Maria (Ruffo) Cugli, she had lived in Newton for 42 years.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning from her home with a solemn mass of requiem at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, at 9 o'clock. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

recruited to conduct a house-to-house canvass. The purpose of Volunteers are now being conducted next week, is to describe the screening procedure, answer questions about the program, and make appointments.

The tentative schedule of days and hours for the screening is December 11 and 12 from 2:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon and from 7:00 to 9:00 in the evening.

The purposes of the screening is to find individuals with possible heart conditions who would benefit from further examination and advice from their own physicians. The screening examination takes about ten minutes. Each person screened is asked to check "yes" or "no" to a few medical questions. His blood pressure is recorded by a public health nurse. His height and weight are taken by a volunteer. His heart sounds are checked by a public health physician. All findings are confidential. A report is sent to the individual within three weeks.

The staff at the screen center will include the following: two physicians and a public health nurse from the Newton Heart Demonstration Program; public health nurses from the Newton Health Department and Newton District Nursing Association; and volunteer nurses, nurses' aides, gray ladies, and typists from the Newton Chapter of American Red Cross.

Medical guidance is setting up the screening procedure, as well as other aspects of the Newton Heart Demonstration Program, has been provided by the Cardiac Program Committee, a group of physicians from the staff of Newton-Wellesley Hospital. The Newton Community Council is developing community participation in the program.

Dr. Albert Navez, head of the Science Department, and also Belgian Consul in the Boston area during his spare time.

Miss Cox's address on Wednesday was spoken of in Newton Junior College advance publicity as a "most unusual one." Miss Cox, an authority in the field of retail sales and merchandising, has excellent functional knowledge of textiles, styles, colors, and personalities. She was brought to the Junior College through Miss Mabel A. Turner's class in Personality Development. Members of the class assisted Miss Cox in her talk.

Women's Guild Hears Interesting Talk On Missionary Work In Philippines

The enjoyment of the regular monthly meeting Monday of the Women's Guild, Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, was greatly enhanced by the presence of Father Abbott who is the leader of the Episcopal Mission, St. Francis of Assisi, in the Philippines.

Father Abbott was a prisoner in a Japanese prison camp for four years and when released was much broken in health and obliged to return to this country for recuperation. He returns to his mission work in that country in January. In part, Father Abbott said:

"The Republic of the Philippines is composed of 7,000 islands, extending 1,000 miles, with a population of 20,000,000, mostly of Malayan race with over 80 dialects. The country is divided into 3 areas and Protestant missionary work was not begun

Highlands Woman's Club to Hold Guest Night Wednesday

Annual Guest Night will be observed by the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the Parish House of the Congregational Church, with Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite, president, in the chair.

The program features "The Tuckers," a young couple who delight and amaze their audience with an hour of "Mental Telepathy and Magic." Music by Norman Dow, tenor, will precede the program.

Refreshments will be served to members and their guests following the program, with Mrs. Alexander I. Peckham and Mrs. John M. Gallagher acting as hostesses. Club members are urged to attend and to bring a guest to enjoy this unusual evening of fun and relaxation.

Mother's Rest Club To Meet Wednesday

The Mother's Rest Club of Newton will hold its December meeting next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Joel Barnes.

Luncheon will be served at 12:45 o'clock by the following committee: Mrs. A. L. Risley, Mrs. Grosvenor Atkins, Mrs. Kurt Thoma, Mrs. Kirtley Mather, and Mrs. Hoyt Weston.

Our Lady's School Notes

By PATRICIA IADONISI

The celebration of the victorious football season of Our Lady High School lasted more than a week. Starting with a parade led by a boy on a pony, and the St. Brendan's band, the bus with the boys and cheerleaders, was followed by hundreds of fans. The boys made a visit to the Our Lady of Fatima shrine in back of the convent after which they returned to the school yard, while the Nuns were anxiously awaiting their arrival. As the players were cheered into the gym, Coach Sullivan was carried in by two men. A party was put on by the Our Lady of Fatima Guild. An assembly was held Monday. St. Pat's of Watertown held a victory dance on the night after the game at which Our Ladys was invited. And Father Quinlin sponsored a dance on Thanksgiving night. Mike Bowman was elected as captain of next season's football team. Thomas Dillon, a Junior, represented Our Ladys in the Oratorical, Wednesday. Tom Cuddy, George Pettee, and Kenny Lochiatto were also named for the All-star game. There are six finalists for the freshman cheer leader election, who will be chosen by Father Quinlin.

NO WONDER BROOKLINE FAILED. Newton High's football team Thanksgiving gave their Brookline opponents a lesson on how to do effective blocking in order to score points and this action shot clearly demonstrates blocking that is blocking. Shown coming through a wide open hole in the line, thanks to effective blocking, is Dan Coffey, Number 30, carrying the ball for Newton while co-captains Bob "Dodo" Shannon, Number 17 and Dick Whelan, Number 18, make certain there'll be no interference from would-be tacklers of Brookline. Newton Routs Brookline In Last Game, 40 to 0

Newton High's football team closed out its 1950 season on Thanksgiving Day last week by drubbing Brookline High 40 to 0, before a holiday crowd of over 7000 at Dickinson Field, the main feature of the lopsided fray being Co-Capt. Bob Shannon's three touchdown spree. For the Wealthy Towners it was the worst trimming of the year, they having gone winless all season while tying one game.

The last game victory gives the Orange a final record of five wins as against four defeats, while individual honors were reaped by Shannon, the fleet 154-pound halfback, who ended his football days at Newton High with a seasonal record of 72 points (12 TD's), to become the school's highest scorer since 1920. Shannon rated third highest in scoring for Class A honors.

Coach Warren Huston almost cleared the bench in the closing minutes of the route, sending in most of his Jayvee outfit, but before top men as Dan Coffey, Dan Thompson, Fred Dauten, and John Luciano gave their best performances of the year for Newton's overwhelming victory.

The locals lost no time pushing their advantage, both in the line and in the backfield, scoring in the first five minutes of play. Brookline could offer hardly any resistance to the Orange onslaughts, which resulted in three touchdowns in each half, while the visitors never penetrated within the local's 40 yard line.

Shannon tallied the first TD, taking a John Higgins' pass in the end zone after Newton recovered a Brookline fumble on the 10-yard line. The Hustonmen tried three ground plays which netted them nothing, and then quarterback Higgins flipped to

But the Garden Citians proved they could run off some smooth football without fumbling by Brookline. Taking possession on its own 34, the Orange and Black pushed over for their second touchdown in just two plays. Following Shannon's three yard plunge through the middle, track star John Tripp reeled off 63 yards for the TD, after cutting through right guard.

Midway in the second period Newton tallied again for a comfortable half time edge. Fred Dauten started the drive by running back a Brookline punt for 16 yards. Hitting in all directions they moved the oval from their own 43 to Brookline's 18-yard marker. Penalized five yards for an offside, putting them back to the 23, the Orange gambled on two passes which failed. Reasoning that the third time never fails, Dauten pulled the trigger on a 22-yard sky-liner to Coffey for a first down on the five. A Shannon plunge lost them two yards, but Thompson smashed over from the seven for Newton's third TD. Dauten booted the extra point to give the locals a half time margin of 20-0.

Dan Coffey came in for individual honors in Newton's fourth touchdown, when he raced all the way from the Brookline 40-yard line, after Dauten ran back a punt when Brookline kicked out of trouble on its own five.

Shannon registered his second TD of the day which climaxed a 60-yard drive. Finding themselves on the seven, Shannon rallied to the one-yard line, and registered on the next play. But an offside penalty cancelled the six-pointer. Shannon then carried again from the six and circled right end for his second touchdown and Newton's fifth.

A Brookline fumble on its own 45 was recovered by Newton and opened the way for the Orange's last touchdown. John Tripp, Coffey, and Shannon took turns in the carrying chores, and Newton realized a first on the Wealthy Towners' 15. It was all Shannon's show, and the slim halfback knifed through left tackle and broke into the end zone. Dauten put the finishing touches on the free scoring spree by kicking the point, for a final 40-0 victory.

Ban Started On All-Night Parking

The police department has begun its annual drive against all-night parking on streets of automobiles, in anticipation of the winter weather and to facilitate the removal of snow from the streets.

The police have already begun placing notices on all cars found parked in the streets during the night, warning motorists that the practice is a violation of the traffic regulations.

Police Chief Philip Purcell stated: "Vehicles found violating any of the provisions of Article V, Section 1, of the traffic regulations may be moved by or under the direction of an officer, and at the expense of the owner, to a place where parking is allowed. "Under Article V, Section 10, it shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle other than one acting in an emergency, to park in the street for a period of time longer than one hour between the hours of 2 and 6 a.m., of any day.

Bloodmobile To Be Here This Monday and Tuesday

John W. Whittemore, Chairman of the Blood Program for the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, wishes to remind Newton citizens of the coming Bloodmobile Visits to Newton, Monday, December 4, Temple Emanuel, 385 Ward street, Newton Centre, and Tuesday, December 5, Newton Centre Woman's Club, Newton Centre.

If you have not made your appointment to donate blood at that time, call the chapter, LA 7-6000 or BI 4-9590, as soon as possible.

Recent figures released by the Massachusetts Regional Blood Center, Mr. Whittemore declares reveal that from the inception of the Red Cross Blood program in March, 1948, whole blood and products which would value approximately four million dollars have been returned to the people of Massachusetts, free of charge. This total includes 94,082 pints of whole blood, 105,000 ampules of gamma globulin, 6284 ampules of serum albumen, and 12,000 units of plasma. Yet all this is not enough to meet current needs for civilians and the armed forces. Your blood is needed now!

Two Pianists In Concert Monday Nite

Monday evening at 8 o'clock the All-Newton Music School will present Miss M. Ruth Spencer and Miss Alice Martin, at the school in a program for two pianos which no one will want to miss. Among the numbers they are to play are "Silhouettes" by Arensky, and compositions by Richard Strauss, Johann Sebastian Bach, and Frederick Handel.

Both of these artists have appeared as soloists with orchestras under the direction of Augusto Vannini and Miss Spencer has appeared with the Cincinnati Conservatory Orchestra, besides their many appearances as a duo piano team. For the past six years they have given annual concerts for the Sears Gallery, Public Library series, and have also given three programs at the All-Newton Music School where Miss Spencer is a member of the faculty.

Named Head Of Davis School PTA

G. Dana Sprague was unanimously elected president of the Davis School Parent-Teachers Association at a special call meeting of the executive board.

The special meeting was made necessary by the resignation of the former president, Dr. Allen I. Sherman, who is leaving West Newton to reside in Newton Centre.

Mr. Sprague has been active in the Davis School PTA for a number of years and this year had previously been chosen first vice president.

Max R. Brauninger was elected first vice president to succeed Mr. Sprague.

The next meeting of the West Newton PTA will be held December 11 at the Davis School at 8 o'clock. This night will be Open House Night and the parents of the Davis School pupils are invited to visit the classrooms and talk with the teachers. There will be a short business meeting before the Open House program.

Posters A Reminder To Contribute

Christmas seal posters in red and green, decorated with the heads of three angel children, are appearing in Newton store windows and on public bulletin boards all over the city this week. They remind Newtonites to contribute to the campaign to make every home safe from tuberculosis.

Working on the distribution of posters are Mrs. Joseph R. Bedard, Mrs. Anthony W. Chalkowski, Mrs. Henry J. Chandonait Jr., Mrs. E. Lake Jones, Mrs. Hugo M. Marulli, Mrs. Frank L. Ogilvie, Mrs. Gordon S. Pinkham, Mrs. Raymond E. Perkins, Miss Cora W. Rogers, Mrs. Nehemiah Roulstone, Mrs. A. Thomas Sundborg and Mrs. George C. Thompson.

Time To Get Auto Plates Grows Short

The United States Post Office Department has warned the public that it is more important this year than ever before to mail early. Therefore, the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Rudolph F. King, wishes again to inform the public that it is impossible to guarantee delivery of registration plates before January first on applications received in the mail after December fourth.

The Registrar urges motorists to take full advantage of the service provided in all the branch offices of the Registry. The Registrar points out that there are 21 permanent branch offices of the Registry, which are ready to give immediate "over-the-counter" service.

Motorists are urged to take their applications to branch offices in preference to mailing them to the main office.
